

Social Activities

By MARGUERITE GLEESON

SPRING TIME has entered the social world and entertaining has reflected the happy season of sunshine and blossoms. Easter music is taking the time of a considerable number of the society maids and matrons, and the coming week will be dull socially.

The wedding of Miss Ina Proctor was of interest to many in Salem. The Woman's Club chorus will sing Monday night with Miss Florence Macbeth at the Grand theater.

The May Festival chorus practice is progressing and the date has been set for May 26. The exact time has been uncertain for some time and has been finally settled, according to Mrs. A. N. Bush, chairman of the general committee.

Honoring Miss Flora Newman, whose marriage to Henry Becker of Portland will be an event of the near future, Miss Mary Foster entertained at a miscellaneous shower last Friday evening. A delightful evening was spent with games and watching the bride-elect unwrap the gifts, which ranged from a silver buffet set to a little Maltese kitten. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those present were Flora Newman, Elva Platt, Esther Bell, Clara Miller, Myrtle Reeves, Maude Stenstrom, Anna Arms, Anna Aline, Lavinia Perry, Viola Nash, Gertrude Hartman, Amanda Aline, Detonia Byrn, Goldie Witzel, Rose Aline, Mary Foster, Mrs. Will Gobert, Mrs. Roy Shields, Mrs. Wyatt, Mrs. Ruth Roberts, Mrs. Marion Putnam and Helen Putnam.

Miss Ina Proctor became the bride of Marc Latham of Silverton yesterday at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was held in the First Methodist church and came as a surprise to their many friends in Salem. Mr. Latham was leaving soon for Santa Barbara, Cal., and the wedding which was to have been an event of the coming summer, was hastened.

Miss Mary Bayne and Hugh Latham were the attendants at the pretty wedding service. Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick officiated. Miss Gretchen Brown played the wedding march and Mrs. Donald Young sang "At Dawning." The bride wore a frock of Brown canton crepe and a corsage of pastel shaded blossoms. Her hat was brown to match the frock. Miss Bayne wore ten canton crepe.

Among those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Latham of Silverton, Mr. Latham's parents, Mrs. E. D. Proctor. The bride's mother is visiting in the east.

Miss Margaret Gobdin, a sorority sister from the University of Oregon came home for the wedding.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Latham attended the University of Oregon last year and Mr. Latham was a member of the graduating class of 1922. Mrs. Latham attended the Oregon Agricultural for two years before going to the university. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta and Mr. Latham is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

They left last night for California where they will be at home in Santa Barbara.

Three local girls appeared as soloists for the Symphony orchestra Friday evening. Miss Iva Claire Love, violinist, charmed and delighted her hearers and graciously responded with special numbers.

Miss Ruth Bedford, pianist, whose ability as an accompanist is well known in Salem, demonstrated her talent as a piano soloist, at the concert.

Miss Sadie Pratt, who is a student at Willamette university, sang with her usual charm and accuracy.

The orchestra is itself an organization of Salem's younger musicians and one which those who are backing it consider has not received the material endorsement which it might from Salem people.

A spring time tea was given Wednesday by Mrs. William H. Burghardt. Blossoms in a colorful array were used about the pretty living rooms of the Burghardt home. Peach blossoms, crapeuses, daffodils, and violets created a charming atmosphere of the early springtime.

Mrs. Frederick Thielson and Miss Nancy Thielson assisted Mrs. Burghardt and Miss Mabel Robinson poured during the tea hour. The hours were from four to six o'clock.

The guests bidden for the afternoon were Miss Mabel Robertson, Miss Marie Churchill, Miss Louise Corbin, Miss Frances Schrode, Miss Helen Pollock, Miss Melba Davenport, Miss Alice McKinnon, Miss Mary McKinnon, Miss Charlotte Zieher, Mrs. Margaret Stoltz, Miss Ruth Griffith, Miss Florence Jones and Miss Lenta Baumgartner.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Irons are entertaining Mr. Irons' cousin, Mrs. Walter Sharp of Fruitvale, B. C., who has been spending the last three months visiting relatives in Minnesota. She is now en route to her home.

Miss Clara Folbrecht of Coorastown, N. D., recently arrived to visit at the home of Mrs. J. D. Foley for the summer. Miss Folbrecht may decide to locate permanently in Salem.

The state convention of the Woman's Benefit association for Oregon will hold its sessions here in the house of representatives beginning tomorrow. Delegates will be in attendance from every local organization in the state.

The convention, in addition to its regular duties, will elect delegates to represent Oregon at the international convention to be held at Los Angeles and San Francisco in May and June when the association's 20th anniversary will be celebrated. During this time the Woman's Benefit association has attained a membership of 300,000 extending into every state of the Union and the provinces of Canada and including 20,000 junior members.

Mrs. Minnie Aydelotte, great commander for California will be the guest of honor and a reception and banquet will be held at the Marion hotel in her honor.

The general committee in charge is composed of Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. H. A. Smart, Mrs. H. D. Chambers, and Mrs. Joe Bernard. Those in charge of the Marion reception are Mrs. Bernard, Mrs. F. E. Schaffer, Mrs. H. D. Chambers and Mrs. George Miller.

The reception committee which will be at the state house includes Mrs. Will Purdy, Mrs. Bernard, Mrs. Caroline Bushnell, Mrs. F. E. Schaffer. Ushers will be Mrs. Leonhart, Mrs. F. B. Borning, Mrs. Peterson, and the girls of the color guard will be in charge of the decorations.

Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. Caroline O'Brien will be in charge of the program committee. The pages will be Mrs. Foyd Smith and Mrs. Edward Shank. The train reception committee is composed of Mrs. H. D. Chambers, Mrs. Rosella Crossan and Mrs. George Miller.

Mrs. W. H. Stensloff and Miss Dorothy Stensloff are spending a few days in Pacific City.

One of the paisley shawls used on the stage for the Siskiyoh literary society play Friday night, was loaned for the occasion by Frederick Brock. It is more than 180 years old and has always been in the family. Another shawl, more than 100 years old was the property of Monroe Gilbert who decorated the stage for the group.

Mrs. G. V. Copson of Corvallis is a guest of Miss Hazel Seeley.

Frank Rollo was host to the members of the GAR at a chicken dinner following the meeting of Sedwick post Saturday, March 17, celebrating the occasion of his eighty-third birthday. Dinner was served by the daughters of Veterans, plates being laid for 40 guests.

The tables were arranged in the form of a large "U" and were artistically decorated with daffodils. The color scheme was also carried out in the large birthday cake which adorned the head of the table. Individual cakes also marked the places of several members of Sedwick post who have had birthdays since the first of the year. During the evening the string trio, composed of Avery Hicks, Delbert Moore and Byron Arnold played, and a pleasing solo dance was also given by Miss Elizabeth Waters.

Rotarians Make Macbeth Member

To be a leading grand opera star is some distinction for an American girl, but Florence Macbeth, the famous soprano of the Chicago Opera association, takes just as much pride in her many associations with the social, business and charitable world.

Her honorary membership of the St. Paul Rotary club is partly unique, for she with Schumann-Heink are the only two women Rotarians in the world.

The past summer she was invited to the Elks convention at Atlantic City, where her home-town band was one of the finalists in the band competition, and here the supreme exalted ruler presented her with a card of honorary membership.

In October this year the Camp Fire girls, at Mankato, Minn., held a solemn convale. One of their number some months before had been ill and past hope in the hospital. She had so looked forward to going to an adjoining city to hear Miss Macbeth. The prima donna heard of this. With a day to spare she took the train to Mankato, and at the hospital, amid the tears of the relatives, sang songs of life and hope for the dying child. From that moment improvement set in and the little girl was among those who bestowed honorary membership on Miss Macbeth, and the name of Ka-Wa-Tan-Ya. (she who groltles the gift of song.)

Proud, but unspoiled, Miss Macbeth believes success is found only in service to others, and she is convinced that not all the genius in the world is of the slightest value unless with it there is a heart full of self-sacrifice.

Miss Macbeth will sing at the Grand Monday evening. The program for the concert is as follows:

(a) Viking song, Taylor; (b) Dear Lad o' Mine, Foster; (c) Louisiana Lullaby, Branscombe, woman's club chorus.

Aria, "Shadow Song," from Dinorah, Meyerberg; Miss Macbeth. "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," Cadman; The Moon Drops Low, Cadman, Woman's Club chorus.

(a) What's Sweeter Than a New Blown Rose, Handel; (b) Vesper hymn, old English choral; (c) Kalina, Russian folk song; (d) Le The, Koechlin; (e) Kum Kyra (Norwegian Echo song); Thrane, Miss Macbeth.

(a) Prelude, Schytte; (b) Oriental air, Bowen-Fulton; (c) Staccato Etude, Rubenstein, Mr. Roberts.

(a) Song of the Waiting One, Strickland; (b) Pierrot, Roberts; (c) Sakura Blossom, Ross; (d) Hayfields and Butterflies, Del Riego, Miss Macbeth.

What is your daughter's age? Four? Or ten? Or eighteen?

No matter what her age is, here's a lovely hat for her!

The prices will certainly give you a pleasant surprise—we do not remember ever being able to offer hats so smart as these, of such good materials, at prices so low.

were ready to snap so tautly were they drawn. But the striking of the clock which Katie had set going in the kitchen brought me to a realization of the social duties before us. The bride's home-coming must not be marred by a conjugal row on our part. On her account, I did what I have never done before—I played the role of a meek, coaxing wife, when I did not feel the part. Going up to Dicky, I slipped my arms around his neck.

"Don't be cross," I said. "There'll be no hammer and no 'I told you so club.' Kiss me, and then let's hurry and dress."

He held me off from him and looked steadily, quizzically at me until my eyes fell and I felt the hot color mount into my cheeks.

"You feel a lot like kissing me," he said mockingly. "You'd much rather exercise that fist of yours. But I never decline a lady's challenge."

He clasped me roughly in his arms and kissed me, smiling half-tenderly half-maliciously when he had done so.

"Now there won't be any danger of a scrap when the dear bride and groom get home," he said with a comprehending grin. (To be continued)
