MOVIE GOSSIP

There are few instances of full comradeship such as exemplified by the Martin Johnsons whose thrilling South Sea motion pictures, the "Jungle Adventures," comes to the Bligh theatre on Saturday for a run of two days.

The love of Robert Louis Stevenson and his wife and of Jack London for Charmaid London were interesting examples. The remarkable companionship of Martin and Osa Johnson is another. Curiously London and Johnson were friends and companions and cruised together on the now historic voyage of London's "Snark" into the South Seas. Since the death of the distinguished novelist, Johnson has been cruising the "seas of jade and emerald" with his wife, Osa.

"I believe there is something in the lure of the South Seas that welds two people together," he says "possibly it is the fact that death lurks in every shadow on the edge of the abyss—that draws two together and holds them. Maybe it is the romance that permeates the very air. I attribute the singular comradeship of the Stevensons to this very thing.

It is interesting to note that Osa Johnson lived but a few miles from Martin Johnson's birthplace in inland America, although she did not meet him until later when he was lecturing in a nearby town.

"Speaking of hats! Allan Dwan, who directed Douglas Fairbanks in his latest screen sensation, "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," had a series of temperamental hats—one for every scene! The newest addition to the Wwan hat family is a cork helmet—the same kind as they wear in Egypt and South Africa.

"All the knights are wearing a helmet," said Wwan, "so I thought I might as well, too." He said he thought seriously during the making of this United Artists release, which is coming to the Oregon tonight, of making everybody in the organization dress in the period, meaning in armor or silken robes.

"I wanted to keep the atmosphere intact," said Allan. "And besides if anybody made a mistake and walked in front of the camera it would only improve the picture."

Wicked old New York, its unsavory dives, its white lights, its cafes and cabarets, is shown as a voracious dragon slaying all adventurers in the Warner Brothers screen version of F.

Scott Fitzgerald's novel, "The Beautiful Damned," featuring Marie Prevost now playing at the Liberty.

Especially the New York between Forty-second and Seventy-second streets on one side, and Fifth avenue and Broadway on the other, where all the theatres and cabarets are centered, had where is found the most motley collection of humanity ever thrown and huddled into one spot.

Glora Gilbert, the beautiful flapper, and Anthony Patch, the idle young man waiting for his grandfather to die and leave his millions, are shown swept into the vortex of these cruel streets thronged with sharpers, criminals, adventurers and demi-monde, where a rascal and victim's leech after, where clerk and millionaire rub elbows, where beggars gaze enviously at the gorgeous splendor of diamond overdressed ladies.

Princess Hermine writes a piece for the papers in which she says that everything is lovely at Dorn and that the goose is occupying a sufficiently altitudinous position. That's the woman of it, make as good a showing as possible.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTNER

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder Is Irritated.

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get clogged and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's ritinous waste, get four ounces of ad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with 'thia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Ad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least once a year.—Adv.
