THE OREGON STATESMAN, SALEM, OREGON

ribute to Salem

ords concerning our city. I must confess that whenever an opportunity setcise no small amount of restraint in order not to appear boastful. To me preface my remarks by saying that I have spent the greater part of my as come to mean much more to me than a geographical term; it has come or our beautiful city did so with a wise regard for its future development. In the very heart of the city, command the admiration of all who have and horticultural district and having within its corporate limits many perses a rare combination of economic and industrial factors which insure mools and churches the highest type of educational and Christian ideals uphout the life of the entire city.

leed not to be confronted with the problems which are vexing many of en overwhelmingly cosmopolitan citizenship. Ours is more like a large promoting the happiness of all. How true is the familiar saying, "No newoven, and success for our city means success for us. The destiny of the credited with her success. Are we all contributing our share toward render that service which every citizen owes to his city? We point with h have as their mutual aim the promotion of their city's welfare. I wish organizations and the enumeration of the wholesome and beneficial ineach and all feel a sense of individual responsibility in the upbuilding of the and important industry, the support of our churches, schools or pubg and habits of cleanliness, I hold that no man has done his share of the the promotion of these important aims.

m has ever been regarded as essentially a home city, and it is a fact that of this we are proud. We must, however, have productive industries if the have beautiful homes and productive industries, for these alone fall rial progress there should be blended educational, moral and religious by just as they are in the development of our individual lives.

