By MARGUERITE GLEESON

THE Early springtime social activity is felt on all sides. Social affairs are dividing honors just now with music week affairs and programs.

A number of social affairs are scheduled for the coming days and informal entertaining shares time with the more formal afternoons.

Mrs. Nicholas Drew, who with Mr. Drew, leave Thursday to make her home in southern California, has been the inspiration for a number of affairs during the last few days.

Mrs. Charles H. Whitmore and Mrs. W. D. Clark were charming hostesses yesterday for more than 20 guests at a pretty tea party in honor of Mrs. Drew. Mrs. Herbert Nunn poured during the tea hour. The hours were between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Spring blossoms and Oregon grape were effectively used about the rooms of the Clark home, where the guests were received.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McLeod and Mrs. E. A. Skelley were hosts Saturday evening for a bridge party, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Drew at the Mc-

Betty Compson in the Paramount Picture "Kick In" A George Fitzmaurice Production.

What It Will Do for You

The Cantilever Shoe will give you more comfort, more strength, more pleasure in walking, more happiness during the day, than shoes of the ordinary type. Moreover, there is a style about the Cantilever which will look well on your foot.

The arch of the Cantilever Shoe is flexible. This enables your foot muscles to maintain strength through exercise and free circulation.

The Cantilever Shoe will give your toes a chance to wiggle a little.

It will give your body an opportunity to recover its natural balance, if you have been wearing high heels too often. It will give your foot real comfort and it will let you enjoy a good walk. All without sacrifice of good looks.

A number of the younger pupils of Mrs. W. A. Denton will take part in a musicale Friday evening. Miss Eugenia Savage, will give several interpretive numbers and Mrs. Martin Fere-shetian will sing a number of special children's songs.

Those taking part in the recital will be Frances Martin, Arthur Fisher, Helen Ashleman, Julia Creech, Eloise White, Elizabeth Lewis, Virginia Sisson, Virginia Holt, Florence Power, Dorothy Marsters, Helen Darby, David Eyre, William Gahlerdorf, Phyllis Day, Marjorie Taylor, Roberta Mills, Kathryn Cory, Venetta Edwards, Gretchen Thielsen, Helen Williamson, Dorothy Stafford, Virginia Berger, Mary Ferguson, Cynthia Delano, Margaret Steiner, Harold Olinger.

More than 100 invitations have been issued and friends and relatives will attend the younger musicians musicale which will be given in Mrs. Denton's studio.

A recital for the advanced pupils was planned for Saturday evening by Mrs. Denton but has been postponed until next Tuesday because of the Shrine vaudeville at the armory Saturday night.

Miss Nellie Schwab sang two solos, "Thy Name" and "Wake Up" at the Kiwanis club luncheon yesterday. Miss Mildred Roberts, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, played two violin numbers, "La Serenade" and "La Cinquantaine." Miss Mildred Yeager accompanied Miss Schwab at the piano. The DeMolay quartet also sang and Mrs. W. E. Anderson gave a talk on music week.

Mrs. Frederick G. Brock entertained with a one o'clock luncheon Monday for the Monday Afternoon Bridge club. Mrs. George Hubbs of Silverton was a special guest for the luncheon.

Easter lilies centered the pretty luncheon table and the place cards and favors were combined with daffodils in a pretty way carrying out the early spring time theme in yellow and white. The other rooms of the Brock home were gay with jaunty blossoms in varied colors.

Members of the club bidden for the luncheon in addition to Mrs. Hubbs were Mrs. R. E. Anderson, Mrs. R. B. Goodin, Mrs. J. W. Lewis, Mrs. H. S. Poisal, Mrs. S. Herbert Haid, Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mrs. Will Wilson and Mrs. Anne Klein.

Absolute sincerity is likely to be expensive. There are writers who are no longer read because they were indiscreet enough to tell truths the populace did not want to hear.

BLIGH
Macy Baird's Comedians present "The Law of the North." Alice Calhoun in "The Angel of Crooked Street."

Quite a lot of noise was made concerning "One Week of Love" before it reached the Liberty theater, where it played for the first time yesterday. The noise, however, is but a tempest in the proverbial teapot to do the devastating explosions that will now greet the film. The devastation explosions will all be enthusiastic, we hasten to add. For "One Week of Love" is the cream-de-cream of them all. It has, like Barnum & Bailey's circus, everything; in fact, it has a great deal more than the particular circus mentioned. Certainly, the tent show has no such delectable person as Elaine Hammerstein among its personnel.

Mac Murray has succumbed to the popular vogue of costume photoplays, and in her latest "Jazzmania," presented by Robert Z. Leonard, the charming Metro star adds another number of spectacular costume plays. "Jazzmania" is announced for presentation on Saturday at the Oregon theater.

The success in popular favor of the star's "Broadway Rose" is, from advance reports, totally different from anything she has hitherto attempted. As a matter of fact, it is a combination of the star's most appealing bits; for in it she dances as splendidly as ever, wears gown as brilliant and awe-inspiring as is her custom, and has lavish and luxurious settings for the background of the action.

Crook roles made 'em famous — and now they're doing them again!

Betty Compson sprang from obscurity to fame and stardom by her appearance as the little pick-pocket "Rose" in "The Miracle Man." Bert Lytell was just a successful stock leading man until he scored a big hit in a crook role in "The Lone Wolf" and followed it up with his portrayal in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," which has long been rated one of the greatest box-office attractions ever made.

Now for the first time these two great crook players are joined in a great "crook" play. They, with May McAvoy, are featured in "Kick In," a new George Fitzmaurice Paramount picture which Onida Bergere adapted from the Willard Mack stage triumph, and which comes to the Oregon theater tonight.

Glenn Hunter who plays the leading role in "The Cradle Buster," the season's best comedy picture, which comes to the Bligh theater tomorrow, is a coming star in the motion picture world. He is known for his accurate portrayal of the adolescent youth, the small-town type, sincere and honest, but ignorant of the worldly ways.

Hunter played the leading part that of the youth, in the stage play "Clarence," by Booth Tarkington, and established his reputation in this piece. This season he plays a similar part in support of Billie Burke in "The Intimate Strangers." He is but Tonight will be the last night for "The Law of the North," presented by Macy Baird's Comedians at the Bligh theater. Starting tomorrow night they will present an entire new show with new specialities between acts at the Bligh theater.

W. F. Crane Competes In Capistrano Event

W. F. Crane of Salem will compete in the national hill-climbing event for motorcycles to take place Sunday, April 8, at Capistrano, Calif., south of Los Angeles. He left Salem last night with his Harley-Davidson cycle. The hill-climb at Capistrano is said to be the biggest event of its kind in the United States. Crane was accompanied by Benjamin Rider.
