

SOCIETY

By MARGUERITE GLEESON

POST-Easter social affairs have been numerous during the last week and the presence of many of the younger girls from the University of Oregon home for the spring vacation has added up a little to the gay affairs.

One of the pretty affairs of the week was the large bridge tea given in honor of Mrs. E. Maxwell Page, a newcomer in Salem. Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Walter Page and Mrs. Leo Page.

One of the pretty social affairs of the coming week will be the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club with Mrs. A. N. Bush. The group includes 30 of the prominent matrons of Salem and the monthly meetings are delightful social gatherings. Joint hostesses with Mrs. Bush will be Mrs. S. C. Dyer, Mrs. F. A. Elliott and Mrs. C. A. Parks.

Mrs. Russell Catlin and Mrs. Frank Spears are home following several months spent in San Diego, Cal. Mrs. Spears went down early in the winter for her health and was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Catlin. Mr. Catlin joined them for a short time later in the season. Mrs. Spears returns much improved in health.

Floral plants for bedding and for porch boxes are now ready.

Observing the opening of the music department of the Salem public library, the music committee of the library will sponsor a musicale tea in the library. The exact date of the affair has not been set, but it is hoped to have it during the coming week.

The new department, to which contributions have been made by local musicians, will contain musical scores for piano, violin and orchestra. The music committee which has had the matter in charge is composed of Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Miss Lena Belle Tartar and Dr. John R. Sites.

The three members of the committee, all talented musicians, will take part in a program of selected numbers.

Mrs. Allan Hopkins was hostess Tuesday for the members of the Junior Bazaar club of the First Congregational church. The group includes the younger matrons of the church.

Mrs. E. C. Van Slyke will be hostess for the Golden Hour club at her home the coming Thursday. The Golden Hour club is a luncheon club and has a membership of 15 members.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Findley and little daughter, Eloise, are visiting with relatives in Salem. Mrs. Findley will be remembered as Miss Martha Jarman. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Jarman and Mr. Findley is a son of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Findley.

The young couple are just moving from California to Oregon and will be established soon in Grants Pass. Mr. Findley is just recovering from an illness of six weeks and will be here for a short time.

Mrs. C. K. Spaulding visited during the week with her son, H. C. Spaulding in Newberg.

Mrs. Ralph Glover spent Thursday in Portland.

Mrs. Lewis D. Griffith and Mrs. Beulah Mills spent Thursday in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Crow and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Roberts are home following three weeks in southern California.

Dr. and Mrs. ... left during the week for an extended trip into southern California. They will stop in Medford and other southern Oregon points on their way to California.

Miss Elizabeth Levy presented a number of her violin students in a delightful program at the state blind school Friday evening. Vocal students of Miss Lena Belle Tartar assisted. They were Miss Annie and Miss Myra Gleeson whose numbers were greatly appreciated.

Each violin student played their solo in a creditable manner receiving hearty applause.

Little Lora Dolph Kerr, seven years old, is the youngest violin soloist who has appeared on a program during music week. He played Rubenstein's Melody in F, from memory. Miss Margaret Hogg accompanied the violinists.

The program was as follows: Off for the Front ... Franklin Harry Steinbock

- Serenade Drego
- Norma Greene
- Melody in F Rubenstein
- Lora Dolph Kerr
- Duet, "Italian Song" Bohm
- Louis and Kenneth Fowler
- Musical in G Beethoven

- Elaide Steingrube
- Vocal duet, Where My Cambray Has Rested Lohr
- Annie and Myra Gleeson
- Spanish Dance Moszkowski
- Howard Steingrube
- Serenade Schubert
- Daisy Cochran

Miss Mary Findley spent Friday visiting with friends in Albany.

Mrs. Harry Hawkins was hostess Tuesday for members of Kappa Alpha Theta and the younger Salem maids. The pretty tea table was charming in yellow flowers and spring blossoms were used in the other rooms.

More than 30 guests were received by Mrs. Hawkins and she was assisted by Miss Eugenie Ziebler, Mrs. E. W. Lamb, and Miss Eleanor McClain. Mrs. Swerton poured tea. Mrs. George Hugg assisted the hostess.

Miss Bruce played a number of piano numbers of her own compositions. Mrs. Allan Carson will entertain the group April 30.

The Lausanne Guild will meet Monday at the hall. All Salem women interested in the university are being invited to attend. Those in charge say that the membership is not closed in any sense and all interested in the welfare of Willamette university women are invited to attend. The guild meets at 2:30.

Mrs. Bertha Junk Darby entertained her younger pupils at her studio on Wednesday afternoon. A short program was given by the children, then a story of Handel's childhood was read and his large played. Musical games followed and light refreshments were served.

Saturday afternoon the older pupils were entertained at the studio. Schumann and Bach will be the leading topic and their compositions played to illustrate the various styles of these composers.

"The Farmhouse," Genevieve Mulvaney, "The Gigue," Kenneth McCormick, "The Gigue" in B (piano arrangement by Schumann) played by Irma Keifer.

The Bach numbers will be "The Gigue" (from the French suite, by Irma Keifer; "Air de Ballet," Ritter, and "Dream of an Hour,"

Lena Belle Tartar, One of Soloists For Cherrian Band Concert Season

MISS LENA BELLE TARTAR

Miss Lena Belle Tartar, prominent local contralto soloist and director of music in the Salem schools, has been recently chosen one of the two soloists for the Cherrian band concert season which will open in June.

Miss Tartar directed the high school opera presented by the high school students Friday evening. She has been for five years connected with the music department of the Salem schools and has been re-elected for the coming year.

Miss Tartar is soloist at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, and has at different times directed the choir of the First Christian church and the Baptist church. She is vice president of the Oregon Music Teachers' association, and was president for four years of the Salem district association of Music Teachers.

Franklin, played by Edna Ellis; "Dragon Fly," Becker, Frances Lemery; "Five Flies," Hyster, by Louise Nann; "Polish Dance," by Scharwenka, by Kenneth McCormick; "Arabia," Morrison; and "At Evening," Whelpley, Marie Paine.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, April 7.—Seniors and juniors in home economics will make their annual field trip April 18, 19 and 20. They will visit Portland schools, packing plants, factories and bakeries. That the trip is instructive and interesting is the statement of students who took the trip last year.

All types of tea rooms, many factories and other places of interest will be visited by the girls. They will be entertained at several of the institutions they visit.

Spring wild flowers were used with charming effect by Mrs. F. L. Utter Thursday when she entertained for the members of the Rappahannock club at her new home on Oak street.

Mrs. Ray L. Smith assisted the hostess in serving tea. Those who enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger, Mrs. Carle

Annual Music Week Successful

Salem's own musicians have had a chance to demonstrate their ability and the training which they have received within their home town during the last week on the occasion of the second annual music week.

From the littlest kiddie who could finger at the piano, the finest girl who could pick the charmed violin strings, to the older girls and boys, the young men and women pianists of more extended training, violinists with skill bordering on genius, the sweet haunting voices of Salem's own—all have added their bit to the week of music.

They have shown what they could do and what was being done for them in their home town. Not only has it been a week when Salem's talented boys and girls and men and women have shown what they could do, but it has been a week when Salem has had a chance to observe the ability and the results of the ability of the men and women who are making their life work the training of young ideas—in music—how to shoot.

Salem's second annual music week is history. The men and women of the Salem Music Teachers' association deserve credit for the work they have done to bring the work before the people of Salem. Work and play, in reasonable proportions, makes of one's life a rounded whole and without music, in the home, in the school, and the social affairs of the everyday life, then play would be dull indeed. Music week has brought before all the realization that pleasure may come from the musical talent of the men and women, boys and girls, in the home town.

If the residents of Salem have in some degree found out that Salem's own has musical talent, if they have learned to appreciate this talent to a greater extent, if they appreciate more the ability of Salem's men and women, boys and girls, then in some small degree has music week in Salem been a success.

One of the most popular of musical affairs during the week was the recital given Friday evening by Miss Bernice Shelton and Miss Minetta Magers. The recital was given in the First Presbyterian church and a good sized audience was present to enjoy the program.

A delightfully balanced program of vocal and piano numbers were most appreciatively received by the audience. Miss Ruth Bedford presided at the piano.

Those taking part in the program were Cecil Deacon, Ermine Bushnell Fawk, Flora Fletcher, James Marr, Frederick Arpke, Hilda Amsler, Della Amsler, Helton Pollock, Kenneth Allen, Bernice Vick, Leon Jennison, Marie Corner, Ruth Reed and Myrtle Knowland.

A delightful feature of the program was the women's double quartet, which sang "I know a Lovely Garden," and "Carmena."

One of the lovely affairs of the week was the large bridge tea Thursday at the Gray Belle honoring Mrs. E. Maxwell Page, a recent bride. Hostesses for the occasion were her sisters, Mrs.

Walter Page and Mrs. Leo Page. Flowering wild guinea was used in the large dining room of the Gray Belle, and seven tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon. A number of additional guests were bidden for the tea hour. Mrs. Harry J. Wendroth won high score for the afternoon and Mrs. Herbert Skiff was the consolation prize.

The invited guests included the honor guest, Mrs. E. Maxwell Page.

At Either End of the Hill

On hills that try the heart of an automobile the 1923 Gardner is at its best, for grades before which many cars will hesitate, serve only to bring out its reserve power and strength.

On an uphill run the five-bearing Gardner motor leaps easily from a start to highest speed; it develops its greatest power where the power is needed; it runs under the added load as smoothly and quietly as on a level straightaway.

Or take the downgrade. Here the rugged chassis and improved braking system spell absolute safety and control.

Such tests prove the balanced value that extends throughout the 1923 Gardner. Choose a hill for a demonstration. The story of the guarantee is best told on the road.

Nature Helps Build Up Your Earning Power

WHEN YOU PUT YOUR SAVINGS INTO the securities of a great and growing public utility like this Company, which supplies electric light and power service to nearly 40 communities, even Nature contributes toward increasing your dividend earning power.

This Company now has in operation, and devoted to the service of over 330,000 people, five large water power plants and four modern steam plants, with a capacity of 131,448 horsepower.

Yet, the demands for our light and power service are growing so rapidly that we are now engaged in the construction of one single hydro-electric power project which will have a capacity of about 105,000 horsepower—much more than all our present five water power plants, and when completed, this mighty undertaking will have cost approximately $12,000,000.

When you subscribe for a few shares of our 7% Prior Preference Stock which is now offered you at $98 a share, par value $100, you may rest assured that your money is safe and that so long as people need electric service, your investment will draw dividends regularly every three months.

You may buy these shares for cash, or on easy terms—$10 down, per share, and $10 a month, till paid for, and your payments draw interest at 7% till the shares are yours.
