

SPORTS---Here, There and Everywhere

THE OLD ORIOLES PASS HALF CENTURY MARK.

JOHN MCGRAW

HUGHIE JENNINGS

McGraw celebrated his fiftieth birthday in Memphis. The manager of the Giants was born in Truxton, N. Y., on April 7, 1873, and it is not far from there, at Olean, that he broke into professional baseball in 1890. A lot of water has flowed under the baseball bridges since then. Jennings celebrated with Mac, for the one time school mate of McGraw was 51. He was born on April 8, 1872, at Scranton, Pa. It was at St. Bonaventure's College, near Olean, that McGraw and Jennings first met. They were destined to be together for many a year, first on the famous Orioles and now with the Giants. A great pair, McGraw and Jennings—past the half century mark.

BEAVERS HUMBLER BY SALT LAKERS

Score is 10 to 2—Portland Unable to Hit Raw Recruitment Offerings

SALT LAKE, April 12.—Salt Lake made it three straight over Portland today winning by a score of 10 to 2. Lloyd Keller, a Utah recruit pitching his first professional baseball, held the Beavers to two runs. Remarkable support in the field and at the bat put Keller over with ease. Strand hit safely five times.

OAKLAND, April 12.—San Francisco defeated the Oakland team here today by taking the third game of the series 5 to 3. The Seals took the lead in the first inning, but the Bees came back in the fourth and held the lead until the seventh. In the seventh, the Seals rallied and forged ahead by a lead of one run. Again they scored another run in the eighth.

At Oakland—R. H. E. San Francisco.....5 13 3 Oakland.....3 7 1 Courtney and Yelle; Colwell, Marchio and Baker.

Seattle 23, Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, April 12.—Seattle took the third game of the series from Sacramento today by the lopsided score of 23 to 3. Yellowhorse started for the locals. Five hits followed by five runs in the third gave the place to Elmer Shea, who was nipped for nine hits and four runs. Carol Canfield went in the sixth, and allowed nine hits and 13 runs.

DR. O. A. OLSON IS GRAND MASTER

Salem Man Given Distinguished Honor at State Masonic Meeting

Salem was given a distinguished honor Wednesday at Portland when the annual assembly of the Masonic Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters chose Dr. O. A. Olson of Salem as Grand Master for the ensuing year. He was installed and is now the acting head of the Cryptic Rite Masonry of the state of Oregon. Dr. Olson is the 39th Mason to hold this signal honor in Oregon. He started in seven years ago, and has followed the chairs through by successive stages to the last and highest honor. He has held all the high Masonic honors in the Salem lodges, having been worshipful master of Pacific lodge No. 50, AF AM, high priest of the Royal Arch Masons, past eminent commander of the Knights Templar and past president of the Salem Shrine club. The state assembly held at Portland was attended by 207 representatives of the Masonic order from all over Oregon.

PREFERRED STOCK WILL BE RETIRED

Second Series in Oregon Growers Provided for by 3 Percent Deduction

The retirement of the second series of preferred stock in the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association is being provided for by a 3 per cent deduction from the fruit settlements being made for fruit sold through the growers' organization this year. This series of $30,000, is already retired. The total issue of preferred stock was for about $260,000. It will all be retired in due time.

This preferred stock draws 7 per cent, and the association pays a bonus of 2 per cent on its surplus for cancellation. The plan had been to retire the stock, beginning two years ago, but the shortage of crops made this seem inadvisable. Now, it can be retired, and the fund is being created for this purpose. Most of the stock is held by the growers themselves, so they pay out the money as commissions to get it back as an investment. The stock has been a good deal more profitable, at 7 per cent regular and a 2 or 3 per cent bonus, than most farms.

It is the belief of the chief officers of the Oregon Growers that they will not carry over a pound of fruit into next season. They have a little canned stuff left that is moving more or less steadily, so that it should all be cleaned up before new canning begins. The dried fruit, too, is selling, especially in the territory where they have been carrying on advertising campaigns, and they expect to sell out the last package before the new crop comes.

ROWING CREWS ARRIVE SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—The varsity and freshmen rowing crews of the University of Washington arrived here from Seattle today to meet the University of California oarsmen on the Oakland Estuary Saturday, April 21. Coach Russell Callow came with the outfit.

MORE HELPERS FOR CHERRINGO

Hold Your Horses, the Elephants are Coming—Thursday Noon

With banners flying and bands playing, and real animals on parade, the great sensational Cherringo of the Cherrians will announce itself to the admiring public at prompt noon of Thursday, April 19. This was decided at a meeting last night of the chairman of the various committees in session at the Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the circus folks from a distance, every one of the 85 Cherrians of Salem will take part in the parade, according to duties assigned them. This is the command of King Bing Hamilton.

More Committees Named. In order that the great three-day Cherringo circus of the Cherrians, which will be held at the armory three days and nights, beginning on Thursday, April 19, may be properly handled in every detail, additional committees were appointed by King Bing Hamilton last night as follows:

Fish pond—Ralph Cooley, chairman; Earl Anderson, B. G. Adams and C. S. Hamilton.

Concert announcer—Frank L. Wagar.

Concessions—I. E. Smith, chairman, working with the following: Peanut sellers—Harry Levy, H. D. Parker and Al Stewart.

Orange Nip sellers—Connell Dyer, L. W. Glasson and Walter Malloy.

Crackerjack salesmen—Hal D. Patton, O. L. Fisher and P. D. Quisenberry.

Floss candy sellers—George Ar buckle, Pete Graber and P. E. Fullerton.

Balloon salesmen—H. T. Love, B. G. Adams and Dick Goodin.

Working at special stand—L. S. Geer and Frank Spears.

Smith Head Usher. E. F. Smith was appointed as chairman of all ushers, and the following were appointed as assistants to handle the crowds: Z. J. Riggs, H. L. Stiff, S. A. Kagle, F. G. Delano and Otto Hartman.

Finances—A. A. Gaetfroy, chairman; D. W. Eyre, Lee Unruh, Oliver J. Myers, P. D. Glesser, Fred Mangis and Dr. Henry E. Morris.

Side show—Paul Stege, chairman; W. I. Staley, E. L. Kappahn and Romeo Goulet.

Street balloon seller—Glen C. Niles.

Wee Bit o' Scotch. And then after the main event around the sawdust ring right in the middle of the armory, there will be the usual after the show concert, with real imported talent. Jim Smart will sing his famous Scotch songs accompanied by Miss Bedford.

SQUIRE EDGE GATE

Cherrian circus will arrive next Thursday morning and the parades will begin at noon. "Hold your horses. The elephants are coming."

M'KINLEY HIGH TO HAVE SHOW

Carnival Tonight Will Raise Fund for Athletic Equipment

McKinley high school, where they have good rooms for their school studies and have to eat their lunches and take all their exercise out in the rain or whatever it is outdoors, is in want of some athletic material—balls and bats and other things.

But in order to get them they need some money. Tonight they are putting on a carnival, in which they offer an interesting series of carnival events. There is the minstrel show, with genuine black faced minstrels to sing and cut-up. There is a modern Romeo and Juliet that promises to be a scream, and there is a Chamber of Horrors that will make a man shiver all the way home and then not dare to look under the bed for fear of the spook that he saw, last on his trail at the schoolhouse. There will be booths of many kinds, offering reasonable dainties, and best of all, there's nothing more than 10 cents, and most of the attractions are a nickel apiece.

JOHNSON TALKS TO REALTORS

Multiple Listing System Adopted by Marion Polk Organization

Investigate any charges against your own craft for unethical or unlawful procedure, and report the findings to the state office, and the department will see to suspending the real estate license of the erring one," was the substance of the declaration made by C. V. Johnson, deputy state real estate commissioner, speaking Thursday noon before the Marion Polk Realtors.

The realtors cheered the statement, as one tending to help greatly in putting the real estate business on a high, ethical plane. Much of the meeting was devoted to a general talk on fraternal and community pride, with the Realtors standing as representatives of a high code of ethics that would not stand for misrepresentation. One speaker told of the gratifying change of attitude that has come with the formation of the association.

A new form of multiple listing for properties that are to be listed simultaneously by all the realtors, was adopted in place of the old system that was instituted a year and a half ago. The old one was operated for a time, and then discontinued. The new one may not be at once reestablished, but it is ready for use. The general argument was in favor of the system, as a better service to the community. It would increase the total volume of business, and should be as fair for one as for another, so that all would profit along with the property owner.

The Realtors voted to support the Home Beautiful Exposition to be staged at the armory at an early date, by William F. Hendrick and J. H. Hoppes. The movement has been favorably con-

10 CENT OFFER FOR CHERRIES

A price of 10 cents a pound is said to have been offered for some of the best cherry prospects of the valley. Some of the cherries have sold at 8 1/2 and 9 cents, but the 10 cent limit seems to have been offered for at least a few of the high class orchards.

One of the little orchards in South Salem, that was planted a dozen years ago and grafted and cared for by the owner as recreation from his store work in the city, brought him a little more than $1600 one year, from one and one-half acres of orchard, or almost $1100 an acre. His trees are looking so prosperous this year that they promise to pay as big returns for 1923. The price will doubtless be lower than during the war, when he received 13 cents for his fruit, but with the larger trees, and presumably greater yield, they ought to pay as much actual money.

It is understood that the nurserymen have practically not a cherry tree left this year, and thousands were imported from California and elsewhere, to supply the demand. The Royal Annes and the Montmorcency are understood to lead the list of sellers.
