NEW RECORD FOR DANCING ESTABLISHED

Fifty-Two Hours and Sixteen Minutes is Latest Record Made by Woman

CLEVELAND, April 12.—Miss Helene Mayer, 21, Cleveland saleswoman is the new marathon dancing champion of the world, establishing a new record here today of 52 hours and 16 minutes. This breaks the record set in New York last Monday by Miss Alma Cummings of 50 hours and two minutes by two hours and 14 minutes. Miss Mayer started dancing at 9:35 a. m. Tuesday and finished at 1:51 p. m. today. She danced with seven partners, making ten changes.

Two other couples who started dancing several hours after Miss Mayer dropped out this morning after dancing approximately 28 hours.

During her performance Miss Mayer wore out six pairs of stockings and four pairs of shoes; took seven rest periods of three minutes each; wore out three orchestras and four piano players and danced approximately 50 miles. At the conclusion of her endurance marathon, Miss Mayer was examined by a physician who reported her limbs badly swollen but asserted "she would have been good for four or five hours more." Her weight dropped from 113 to 108 pounds.

During the 52 hour period Miss Mayer partook of malted milk, soup and sandwiches without stopping her dance.

Mary—What sort of bathing cap do you think would go well with this suit? Jane—Oh, just go bareheaded. Jimmie—Let's play railroad. You be the bridge and I'll get down and be the train and run between your legs. Dickie—I don't want to be a bridge any more; I want to be the engine this time. I'm going to ask mother if I can't. Jimmie—Aw, that won't do any good. I heard her say she was going to play bridge herself with a lot of other ladies this very afternoon.

MOVIE GOSSIP

OREGON "East is West." LIBERTY Mary Miles Minter in "Drums of Fate." GRAND Saturday—Lon Cheney in "Shadows." BLIGH Macy & Baird's Comedians present "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie." Violet Fleming in "When the Desert Calls."

Warner Oland plays Charley Young, the villainous "fifty-fifty" Chinaman. Mr. Oland is remembered not only as a bad man of the serials, but also for his appearance in many feature productions. His is a conspicuous part and he makes the most of it.

Doris May, the irrepressible madcap of the screen, comes again to the Bligh theatre Saturday and Sunday, to regale local audiences with laughs and chuckles.

Miss May shows greater comedy possibilities with each new photoplay released by R-C Pictures for which this nimble young star already has made four productions. In "The Understudy" she has the role of Mary Neil, an unsophisticated girl from the show world of the big city form the foundation of a most amusing story.

Every one a celebrity. This can truly be said of the supporting cast which was assembled to play with Mary Miles Minter in her latest Paramount vehicle, "Drums of Fate" which was adapted by Will M. Ritchey from the novel by Stephen French Whitman, and which will be the feature at the Liberty theatre today.

Haven't you often wondered how much of a chance the amateur stands to break into the movies? Tom Forman, the director of "Shadows" which is presented by B. P. Schulberg of Preferred Pictures and opens for its local run at the Grand theatre beginning tomorrow, places the chance for the inexperienced player about one in 10 provided he or she has plenty of ambition to begin with and is not easily discouraged.

Tom Forman himself came to the director's chair via an acting career and refused an offer of stardom to take up the megaphone.

It is indeed an all star cast seen this week in support of Constantine Talmadge at the Oregon theatre, where "East is West," the latest First National attraction which is to show starting tonight.

CATHOLICS TO FINISH TERMS

Substitutes to be Appointed for Nuns When Anti-Garb Law Goes in

In all probability Catholic teachers will be employed to take the place of nuns now teaching in a number of Marion county schools, according to information given out at the county school superintendent's office yesterday. Under the new law all nuns at present teaching in public schools must discard their garb by May 24.

In many instances if work cannot be completed for the year before May 24, it is thought that Catholic teachers will finish out the work. All instructors are selected by the school board in the various districts and provisions may be made by them.

Largest Catholic communities are located at St. Louis, St. Paul, Sublimity, Shay and Mount Angel. There are seven Catholic teachers employed in the public schools at Mount Angel.

Although it is possible that private schools may be started in these vicinities and that nuns will teach in them, it is thought more likely that the school boards will appoint Catholic teachers who are not nuns to take their places.
