

The Northwest Poultry Journal

SALEM, OREGON
WILL AWARD

FIVE PENS AND ELEVEN TRIOS OF FINE CHICKENS FROM THE World's Best Poultry Yards

To Ambitious Boys, Girls and Grownups. Enroll Now for the Champion Chickens

Competition Opens To-day

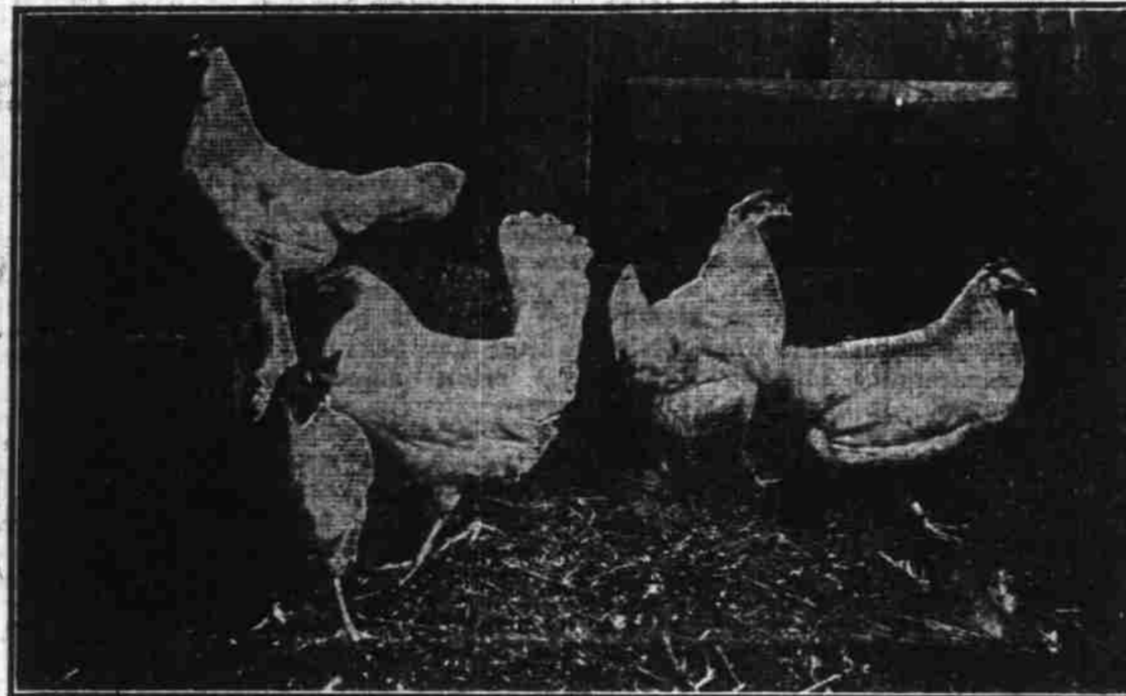

The Northwest Poultry Journal has decided to announce a great chicken competition for boys, girls and grownups interested in the world's best chickens. The average hen does not pay a profit, but purebred hens do pay a handsome profit as is evidenced by the fact that some poultrymen have a good living and accumulated a net fortune of over twenty-five thousand dollars. We believe that it is in the best interests of all parties concerned to develop the purebred chicken industry, because they are the money makers. Accordingly, we have an easy way for ambitious people to get started in the purebred chicken business, and once they have a start they have the opportunity to go ahead and achieve as great business successes as others have done right here in the Pacific Northwest. To start with a capital of one thousand dollars, and in less than ten years pile up a fortune of over twenty-five thousand dollars in addition to making a good living is what Harry Miller of Newberg, Oregon, has actually accomplished, and others have done it. Looks pretty good to me! How does it look to you? What others have done you can do. Here is your opportunity to get into the purebred chicken business. Go thou and do likewise.

Think of it! Five pens and eleven trios of chickens from the best poultry breeders in the world to be awarded to the successful competitors in this greatest of great purebred chicken competitions. Just at a time when it is the best season in the year to get started in the pure bred chicken business.

It costs nothing to be a candidate, and a little effort in your spare time for the few weeks this competition is running may win for you one of these famous pens or trios of world champion fowls.

The best opportunity of your lifetime to get one of these greatest of champion chickens prizes is at hand today—grasp it by filling out the information coupon on this page and send it to the Purebred Chicken Competition Editor, Northwest Poultry Journal, and be one of the boys, girls or grownups to have for your very own a pen or trio of purebred chickens from the world champion chicken breeders.

ONE OF THE WORLD'S CHAMPION WHITE LEGHORN LAYING PENS

THE PRIZES THAT WILL BE AWARDED

- FIRST PRIZE—A pen of the famous Hollywood White Leghorns, heavy producing select trapnested stock, headed by a cockerel from hen of 275 egg record, direct from the Hollywood Poultry Farm, Hollywood, Wash.
- SECOND PRIZE—A pedigreed pen (cockerel and four hens) from J. A. Hanson's poultry farm, Corvallis, Oregon.
- THIRD PRIZE—A pedigreed pen of five birds (White Leghorns) from Harry Miller, Newberg, Oregon.
- FOURTH PRIZE—A pedigreed pen of five birds (White Leghorns) from C. E. Armstrong, Corvallis, Oregon.
- FIFTH PRIZE—A pedigreed pen of five birds, (White Leghorns) from Wire & Son, Newberg, Oregon.
- SIXTH PRIZE—A trio (cock and two hens) White Leghorns, from Hands & Son, Cottage Grove, Oregon.
- SEVENTH PRIZE—A trio of Ill-a-Hee trapnested Barred Rocks, from R. E. Butler, Jennings, Lodge, Oregon.
- EIGHTH PRIZE—A trio of Barred Rocks from Mrs. H. C. Kleinsmith, Hoff, Oregon.
- NINTH PRIZE—A trio of trapnested Rhode Island Reds from McRae Poultry Farm, Box 360, Milwaukie, Oregon.
- TENTH PRIZE—A trio of Anconas from R. T. Stingley, Route 3, Junction City, Oregon.
- ELEVENTH PRIZE—A trio of prize White Wyandottes from Jess A Griffin, Box W., Eugene, Oregon.
- TWELFTH PRIZE—A trio of prize Rhode Island Whites from Hatton & Hatton, 498 East 28th St., Portland, Oregon.
- THIRTEENTH PRIZE—A trio of Black Minorcas from Rick & Kinnear, Route 1, Box 74K, Vancouver, Wash.
- FOURTEENTH PRIZE—A trio of White Rocks from Walter Downing, 1983 State street, Salem, Oregon.
- FIFTEENTH PRIZE—A trio of Salmon Faverolles, from Eugene J. Prescott, Salem, Oregon.
- SIXTEENTH PRIZE—A trio of fine Rhode Island Whites from Kirschcroft Poultry Farm, Boring, Oregon.
- SEVENTEENTH PRIZE—Fifty baby chicks from G. N. Needham, Salem's baby chick man, Salem, Oregon: Choice of White Leghorns, Barred Rocks, R. I. Reds, White Rocks, Black Minorcas or Anconas.

COMPETITION CLOSSES MAY 31, 1923

Admirers of purebred chickens will no doubt hail with delight the announcement of such sensational prizes when it is understood that if for any reason a grand prize is not won, a cash commission will be paid on all subscriptions received from active candidates. Could anything be fairer or more reasonable? Candidates have everything to gain and absolutely nothing to lose.

Such elaborate prizes and cash commissions are most exceptional, and with such an opportunity available it behooves every lover of the beautiful purebred chicken to take advantage of a plan to win some world famous purebred chickens all for his or her very own.

A glance at the prizes and the immense value of these rewards will no doubt cause each thinking boy or girl or grownup to realize the great big returns they can make by employing their idle moments to the business of subscription getting for the Northwest Poultry Journal—idle minutes that otherwise would be wasted. In other words, make your spare moments pay big dividends.

We do not ask you to spend your time getting subscriptions, and then take a chance on a reward; candidates are not entering a game of chance, for all active candidates will be rewarded.

The vote schedule is so arranged as to put all candidates on an equal basis.

INFORMATION COUPON

Purebred Chicken Competition Editor,
Northwest Poultry Journal,
Salem, Oregon.

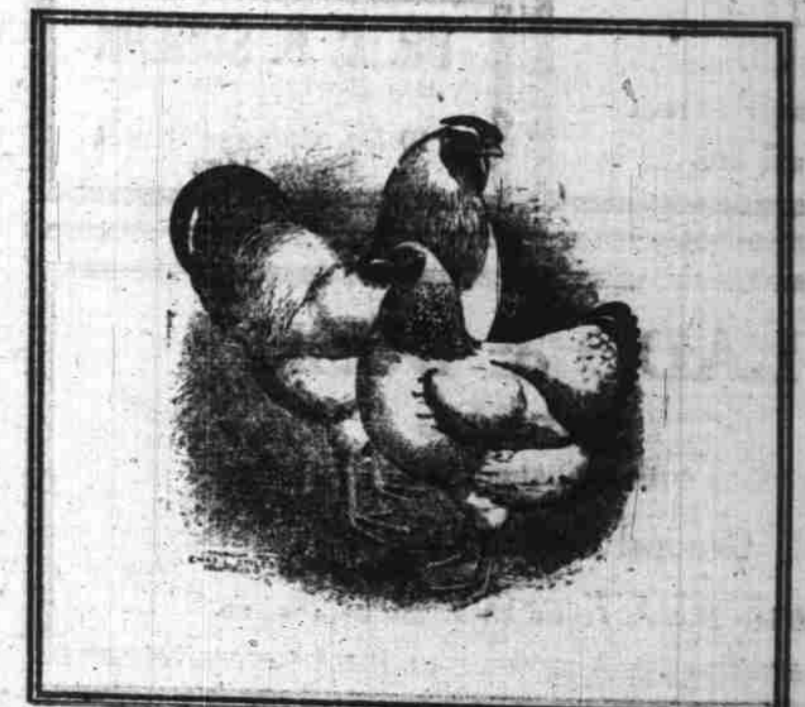

I am interested in your chicken competition. Please send me full information. It is understood that this inquiry implies no obligation whatever.

Name _____

Address _____

MODERN POULTRY PLANT, THE KIND THAT YOU WILL OWN WHEN YOU REALIZE YOUR AMBITION

The Greatest Distribution of Champion Chickens Ever Announced IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST