

WORK IS RESUMED ON PACKING PLANT

Carload of Steel Arrives for Northwest Canning Company's Building

A carload of steel for the Northwest Canning company plant arrived this week after a long and heart-breaking delay, and a full crew is back to work on the big job. The concrete mixer is prepared to mix 150 cubic yards a day, and it is running steadily to its fullest capacity. The steel has been rushed into position for piling and floor reinforcement so that the mixer has a straight run to its utmost mixing ability.

At Front Rank

The plant is to be one of the most modern in the northwest. It is built with a full basement, high enough to get much light from the outdoors through half-windows. The main working level is to have a reinforced concrete floor nine inches thick. There is only one floor above ground, and the roof is to be of the saw-tooth type, with floods of north light all over the plant.

There will be three receiving doors for wagon service on the east or Liberty street front, each with its own scales. It will set a new mark for efficiency in quick service to have so many receiving doors and scales.

The Canning Factory

The preparation room will be on the east side of the big main floor. On the west side provision is made for a complete five line factory of canning apparatus. It is expected that only three lines will be installed this year, but the floor openings are made for this purpose.

From the canning machines the canned fruit goes directly to the basement for handling and storage. It does not remain to clutter up the main working floor. The basement will be dry, but cool, with the heavy concrete floor above it and will be an ideal storage place for canned goods. After being labeled and boxed ready for shipment it is to be brought up to the south door.

fronting on the railroad, by a belt conveyor, ready for shipment. There are three stairways down from the main floor to the basement, and the belt conveyor and the elevator. The floor is without openings.

Quality is Aim

It is understood that the company will aim to can about 100,000 cases of fruit a year. This it can do very readily. The plant has the great advantage of a connection with the Northwest Fruit Products company that furnishes steam from its present plant and refrigeration as it may be needed. The basement will be an ideal place for the storage and ripening of fruit, such as pears. No icing will be required for pear storage.

Quality instead of an exceptional pack will be the aim of the new factory, according to the company officials. They believe the fruit is already here, or within reach, for the factory needs, and they are rushing the work along so as to be ready for the big pack when the season opens.

FOUR SCHOOLS TO BE STANDARDIZED

Supervisor Baillie to Confer Honor on More Marion County Districts

W. H. Baillie, rural school supervisor, will leave for an extended trip throughout the county this morning, during which time he expects to standardize no less than four county schools. Those who are expected to receive the standard honor are Belle Pass, Broadacres, White and Four Corners.

In order that a county school may be considered a standard school it must first fulfill a number of requirements which include the correct displaying of the flag, correct lighting facilities, equipment, heating and ventilating, sanitation, conduct of teaching, library arrangement and attendance record. When a school has given proper attention to these matters, making for increased efficiency, it is entitled to receive a tin plate, bearing the word

AUTOS WANTED TO CARE FOR WOMEN

At the present time over half of the county schools have complied with the necessary requirements and are considered standard schools. To date only four have violated the rules and have been forced to surrender their plates.

Screen your open grate fires in the winter, swat the flies in summer, stop, look and listen at grade crossings, don't start the kitchen range fire with the kerosene can, keep your nose out of other folks' business and maybe you will live to be run over by a drunken joy rider.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A number of well meaning men and women are cooperating for the elimination of the dope evil, but there are a few things to be done before anything is accomplished. One is to limit the importation of the stuff, place the sale under government auspices, have honest officers enforce the law and make it so that, while the poor addict cannot get narcotics, that the rich user will also be deprived of his "snow."

WIVES OF SHRINERS TO BE ENTERTAINED WHILE HERE CEREMONIAL DAY

Two hundred automobiles are asked for to care for the women visitors to the Shriners' ceremonial that meets in Salem May 5. The men will be cared for at the ceremonial hall, but the women who come with them are to be taken for an auto ride, out into the country around Salem, as one of the ways to while away the hours of their stay. There will be a lot of them, an estimated 1000. Some may bring their own cars; but in order to be safe, the committee wants to secure the promise of 200 Salem cars for Saturday afternoon, May 5, from 2:30 to 4:30.

W. W. Moore, William McGuiher Jr. and Albert Gilie are the committee to superintend this part of the ceremonial week work. Anyone who is like a procession of triumph.

Because satisfactory arrangements are being made out of court, the case against Edward W. Schaefer for non-support, which was to have been tried in justice court yesterday, was indefinitely continued by Judge P. J. Kuntz. Schaefer was charged with failing to contribute to the support of his minor daughter.

Two other cases were set for trial yesterday and a third is expected to be definitely set today. The case of the county against A. T. Steiner for operating a truck on the highway with no mirror has been set for next Monday at 2 p. m., while the case against M. J. Albert for parking on the highway will be tried at 10 a. m.

WEDDING OF ROYALTY INSPIRING

A wedding breakfast, presided over by the king and queen, was served in the state dining room, and shortly after 4 o'clock the happy couple left for their honeymoon in Surrey.

All of the Wheat

10 minutes and it's ready to eat

Sperry Wheat Flakes is such a through-and-through nutritious cereal—so wholesome and worthwhile—that Mother wouldn't mind cooking it even if it took more than 10 minutes. But—that's all it takes. Here's why:

During the flaking process, the wheat is partially cooked under a high pressure of superheated steam; so that very short additional cooking is needed.

Large, plump kernels of the choicest wheat, rolled to flaky thinness—piping hot and ready to eat in 10 minutes. That's Sperry Wheat Flakes—ask your grocer!
