When a picture holds your interest from the first fade-in to the last fade-out, not once boring you, it's a good picture. That is why "Nine Points of the Law," featuring Helen Gibson and Edward Coxon, will prove real entertainment at the Liberty theater Wednesday and Thursday.

The plot is an interesting and novel one from start to finish, telling of the manifold problems of a young girl, Cherie Dubois, alone in a mining town in the early days of the west.

Miss Gibson, as Cherie, is easy to look upon, and a finished actress. Edward Coxon gives some of the finest acting in his long screen career.

A motion picture actress must often reverse. In practice, the theory of reincarnation, says Gloria Swanson, famous Paramount star.

And to prove that it can be done she dons a bejeweled costume and headdress, steps into a setting representative of the architecture of the ancient race of the Incas in South America and becomes to all appearances an Inca princess of appearances. The sequence is a cut-back vision in her latest Paramount picture, "My American Wife," which will be shown at the Oregon theater three days, starting today.

The cast for Corinne Griffith's production, "Divorce Coupons," which will be shown at the Bligh theater today, might be labeled an all-star.

Grace Sturtevant, who was seen a few years ago as the star of "Maytime," has an important role. Holmes E. Herbert and Vincent Coleman, both leading men and stars in their own right, and Diana Allen, a screen favorite, are seen in important roles, as well as Mona Lisa, who is also a star in her own right.

was submitted by the government. Mr. Babst said that his company produced 25 per cent of the refined sugar used in the United States.

Futures Held Benefit
He said that in his opinion the prices of refined sugar to the consumers was largely affected by the transactions of the exchange. There was an ample supply of refined sugar in the country he stated, and increases in price based on an assumed shortage were unwarranted.

May day comes within a lull in social activity and bids fair to be a full and happy month before its close. The May day activities at Willamette university next week will bring with them a number of guests to Salem and many alumni will be present.

The Rapharatorian club, composed of graduates or former students of Willamette university has postponed its meeting until next week when they may entertain for university guests who may be guests of the members. Mrs. James West assisted by Mrs. Guy O. Smith will be hostess for the group.

The May day festivities begin May 13 and Miss Esther Parnogoun is to be May Queen. The May Festival will be held May 26 in the armory and will be one of the big musical events of the season.

Bertha Babcock was hostess Saturday for a group of friends in honor of her birthday. The guests were bidden to a line party at the Oregon and later met for tea at the Spa. Lovely May baskets with springs of lilac formed a pretty May time feature. Great quantities of the lilac blooms were used to decorate the tables.

The guests were Dorothy Livesly, Nancy Thielson, Margaret Poorman, Mildred Gilbert, Lucille Sykes, Moreen Styles, Maxine Glover, Dorothy Bell, Carolyn Lambrith, Leona Geer, Maxine Myers, Mildred Roberts, Frances Martin, Gretchen Thielson, Margaret Morehouse, Dorothy White, Marjorie Webb, Dorothy Boss. by President James H. Post of the National Sugar Refining company; E. Atkins and company, sugar dealers; William J. Jamieson, of Arbuckle Brothers; Vice President Pierce J. Smith, of the Federal Sugar Refining company and a number of the large chain stores and wholesale grocers.

The defendants in their answer filed today asserted that the purchase and sale of sugar for future delivery upon the exchange is a distinct benefit to producers and consumers and to persons engaged in commerce in sugar and to the public in general, in that it enables carriers of sugar to protect themselves against price fluctuations by the making of hedging contracts on the exchange.

Bobbed Hair Taboo in Follies

Flo Ziegfeld, who has started another beauty discussion by declaring his Follies girls more beautiful than Venus, has ordered that none of the Follies girls shall cut their hair. Those who have bobbed it must let it grow. Miss Nellie Savage, above, has longest hair of any of them—36 1/2 inches.

hardt, Henrietta Bishop, Catherine Elgin, Catherine Cook, Loreta Mathis, Maxine Ulrich, Paloma Proby, Mrs. Ralph White, Bertha Babcock and Aemilia Babcock.

The Junior Bazaar club of the First Congregational church will meet with Mrs. W. T. Grier, in West Salem for luncheon Friday, at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. W. H. Byars, who is spending a short time with her daughter, Mrs. Effie Wright Dunlap, 1311 North Fourth street, was pleasantly surprised yesterday by a group of friends.

Orchid colored tulips centered the tea table. A pleasant social afternoon was passed by the group. Mrs. Byars makes her home with another daughter, Mrs. Ronald C. Glover and is just now visiting with Mrs. Dunlap.

Many Salem members will attend the meeting of the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star which will meet in Portland during June. Mrs. Paul Hauser of Salem is Grand Esther for the Oregon chapter and George H. Burnett is Grand Patron.

Miss Letha Wilson and Miss Alice McClelland are leaving Wednesday for an extended visit in California. They expect to spend six months in Long Beach. Both are former students of the Oregon Agricultural college.

The regular weekly practice of the May Festival chorus will be held tonight in the First Congregational church. The oratorio, "Four Seasons" will be presented May 26. The Salem symphony

LADIES OF GAR HEAR ADDRESSES

Interesting Speakers From Portland Heard at Army Session Saturday

An interesting session, attended by several notable guests was held Saturday afternoon by the Ladies of the GAR, at the armory. State Commander L. McKay of the Grand Army and Mrs. McKay were two of the visitors, from Portland, and both made interesting addresses.

J. O. Stevens of Portland gave an especially interesting talk on the Army of the Potomac and its generals. He is a capable speaker and a real historian. Dr. James Lisle of Salem was called upon to talk on Lee, the general of the Confederacy. Judge Earl Rice of Salem urged on all patriotic societies the importance of dealing at once with all kinds of slackers, with lax citizenship, with disloyalty, with IWW, with the schools of every grade including colleges, that may have failed in their duty to inculcate love of country and good citizenship in their daily lessons.

Mrs. Nora E. Lindsey of Portland, department press correspondent, was one of the guests of the day. Marguerite Blumberg of Salem gave a piano solo, and Charles and Lloyd Claggett played a piano duet.

We have often thought that the high price of smoked meat was due for the most part to the scarcity of smoke.—Exchange.
