 Tenements districts in New York and Philadelphia were discussed by Miss Mary Findley at the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society Wednesday. Miss Findley contrasted the work in the two cities and showed how the work in the two places differed because of the different character of the peoples.

 The people in the tenement districts of New York are nearly all foreign and are most grateful for help, according to Miss Findley. Those of Philadelphia are on the other hand nearly all Americans who have lost out and with whom it is harder to get work since they are easily discouraged and have not the keen appreciation of help which is found among the foreigners of New York.
 Miss Jennelle Vandervort sang a group of spring songs and she was accompanied at the piano by Miss Florence Young.

LUTHERANS END ANNUAL MEETING
 Large Number of Pastors Participate in Convention at Silverton

Hjermetad delivered the sermon. Rev. O. Skilbred gave the confessional services and Rev. George Henriksen presided at the altar.

Wednesday afternoon devotional discussion was opened by Rev. H. Rogn of Monitor. These discussions were continued throughout the remainder of the circuit meeting, which ended Thursday afternoon.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST
 As to loganberries—
 Here is something startling—
 And you will find it is the situation:
 There is only about a half a crop of loganberries. Some of the early sellers, to the cut-throat small canneries, will be tearing their hair. They sold as low as 4 cents a pound and lower, and these cut-throat canners sold the canned loganberries in advance on that low basis.
 The later sales of loganberries will be at 5 and 6 cents a pound, and perhaps higher. There have been some sales at 5 cents. So the situation will largely take care of itself, and there will be a breathing spell.
 But in that breathing spell, if the loganberry industry is to be stabilized and put on its feet permanently, so that it may prosper and grow, there must be advertising—and, above even that, and along with that, there must be organization—air tight organization; 100 per cent organization, or near it. Not a scrap of paper. But organization that will hold water; organization with a fence around it hog tight and bull strong and goat high. Then the growers, having provided for advertising, to create consumer demand, can say to the canners and other dealers that they want a minimum of 6 cents a pound. And they will get it. They will get it, just as long as they continue to advertise and remain organized. Sure as you are a foot high. The short crop and consequent better prices than were expected will lull a lot of growers into temporary contentment. But that will be suicide for the industry, if it is allowed to rest at that.

Labor Officials Asked To Assemble in Oregon
 Governor Pierce yesterday sent a telegram inviting the delegates to the next annual convention of government and state labor officials to meet in Oregon. The 11th annual convention is now in session in Richmond, Va., and the governor's telegram was sent to C. H. Gram, Oregon state labor commissioner, who is attending the convention.

Fire Department Busy At Silverton Thursday

SILVERTON, Ore., May 3.—(Special to The Statesman.)—The Silverton fire department had a busy time Thursday morning. Shortly before 10 o'clock Dr. O. Helsing sent in a call for assistance. The fire proved to be but a chimney fire. Before the department had entirely pulled out from there Dr. Anna Finseth sent in a fire call from the East Hill. The fire was in the E. A. Many of our customers are now supplying their needs the first part of the week and we take this means of thanking you. While we do our utmost to give the highest quality of service we would be somewhat handicapped if a larger portion were to wait until Saturdays to do their buying.
