COLLAPSE OF EAST PARLEY THREATENED

Rupture is Feared as Consequence of Radical Differences Between Turks, Allies and U. S.

PASHA SAYS ALLIES ACTED IN BAD FAITH

Muslims Refuse to Make Further Concessions, May Return to Angora

LAUSANNE, May 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The United States has been dragged into a controversy that threatens to cause the collapse of the second Near East peace conference. The delegates are desperately seeking a solution of the situation to prevent the rupture feared in consequence of radical differences between the Turks and the allies and the Americans over the special legal guarantees to be accorded to foreigners, instead of the former consular courts abolished by Turkey as part of the negotiations.

The controversy hinges on the authority to be granted the foreign legal advisers Turkey agreed to employ, and also upon the possible obligations incurred by the allies in their feverish activities at the last conference, when the French and Italians, aided by the American representative, intervened at the last minute in an unsuccessful attempt to prevent the collapse of the conference.

Offers to Sign
Ismet Pasha again today offered to sign the Italian formula which was accepted then but which the allies now have withdrawn. The British never having ratified it, Ismet declared today during the proceedings that the Americans had distinctly approved the Italian draft.

Radio Received at Honolulu Unable to Lead Observers to Position

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—A wireless message saying that the Swedish steamer Anna sent out a radio message from an undetermined location that she was sinking, was received from Honolulu today by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce. COLLECTOR JOB STILL IN AIR

President Tells McNary and Stanfield They Must Reach Agreement

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(Special to The Statesman)—No customs collectors has yet been appointed for Oregon. President Harding told Senators McNary and Stanfield Thursday that he would not make an appointment until they have agreed on the man, and they have not yet agreed.

The above information from Washington leaves the matter of a collector for Oregon much in the air, if the information is correct. It is believed, however, that the two senators have agreed, and that the president will make the appointment in a few days. T. M. Harburt of Portland appears to be leading, though there is a chance for Wheeler, present appraiser of customs.

Portland Terminal to Be Given Investigation

On grounds that conditions in the union depot yards in Portland are hazardous to a degree because of poor regulations relative to the movement of trains, the public service commission yesterday issued notice of an investigation of the service and facilities of the Northern Pacific Terminal company. The hearing will be this month, but the date has not been fixed. One complaint is that switching is often in progress in the yards while passenger trains are being sent out. The investigation will be on the commission's own motion.
