Dr. Walter Berry Here Boosting Coast Highway

Dr. Walter M. Berry, a prominent resident of Newport, is a Salem visitor this week, partly on business but mostly on a pleasure trip to talk about the great Roosevelt highway that is going to make the coast drive one of the scenic wonders of the traveling world.

One contract, from Agate Beach up to Otter Rock, is now in process of being executed. It is a heroic job. It costs $200,000 for two and one-half miles, but it opens a rugged, beautiful country, that considering the rocks and the forests and the broad Pacific and the climate, has the edge over all the driveways that man has built anywhere between the tallest Alps and the bottom of the Dead Sea plain.

Sulphur dioxide gas, which is the gas given off in the manufacture of sulphite under the process employed here, is injurious to health, the speaker said. It has been employed for many years in medicine as a cleansing agent. There is a sulphate process of cooking the pulp that requires the factories to be driven far out of town, because of the noxious fumes. The present sulphurous acid fumes, it was said, are steadily reduced by science, though never eliminated.

Mr. Beyerl stated that the company had spent $20,000 during the past year, in trying to eliminate the cinder evil, which is as destructive to the paper business as it is to anyone else. Science has not yet found a way entirely

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rosebraugh will go to Eugene today and will be guests of their son, Arthur Rosebraugh, for the Mothers' day program Sunday. They will visit with friends also in Eugene.

Miss Lita Waters, primary teacher at the state school for feeble minded, will attend the Junior week-end festivities today and Sunday at Corvallis.

Frank W. Rosebraugh will go to Portland for the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Max O. Buren returned last night from Eugene where they attended the junior vaudeville at the university. Their daughter, Maxine Buren, took part in one of the skits.

to eliminate the flying cinders where fuel is burned. He is looking for the scientist who will find a solution of the age-old problem. The entire Realtors' association plans to go next Thursday, immediately following the weekly luncheon, for a tour of the paper mill, starting from the logs in the river and following the paper through the sales room. Mr. Beyerl is to be their host for this industrial excursion. The paper mill is now employing more than 300 people, has a monthly payroll and local expense bill of $70,000 a month and the Realtors want to have the whole story to spread before their land-buying world as one great business reason for investing in Salem.

MAIL AFFECTED BY TIME CARD

Changes Are Noted in Hour of Outgoing Matter Both North and South

Some changes in the mail schedules for the Salem postoffice will be necessitated by the new time card on the Southern Pacific which became effective yesterday.

One change that travelers and letter-writers will need to observe, is that of the train that went south at 11:00 a. m. It now leaves at 10:16. The train north at 6:36 p. m., will now go just two hours later, at 8:36. The northbound train that formerly left at 1:32 p. m., now goes at 1:11.

The southbound mail is to be carried on the Shasta Limited, hereafter, and this will cut the delivery time one and one-half hours. This will be not unimportant news to those who have extensive business correspondence with the southern state.

The Salem office has a clerk on duty all night, except for the two hours from 10 until 12 o'clock, when there are no trains to serve. At midnight, a clerk goes on, and he gathers up all the mail for the early morning trains. Mail put into the postoffice at any hour of the night will be worked in time for the first trains, both north and south. Some have wondered about mailing their letters at the office late at night. This is the answer as to their disposition.

Mail is gathered at the office before every train. It is brought in by the auto collector from the downtown district for practical, every train. A new time schedule for this collection is to be arranged within a day or two, to fit the new train schedule, as soon as they are able to determine just how late they can be with their collections before they must close the mail bags. The collectors usually work on a schedule half an hour ahead of the actual last-minute closing of the mail bags. Any one who has urgent mail, can take it to the postoffice a good half-hour later than the downtown collection hours. The mail is taken to the train half an hour ahead of train time, so as to allow for every kind of ordinary accidental delay.
