

PACIFIC NOSES TRACK VICTORY

Schoolboy Spectator Runs Onto Track and Balls Up Final Score

Pacific university nosed out ahead in the field and track meet with Willamette Saturday with a total score of 76.9 points to 60.1 for W. U.

A very foolish misfortune may have changed the result from a possible 65.1 to 65.9. In the last quarter of the mile relay, Johnny Wright, last runner for Willamette, received the baton only about a yard or two behind the Pacific runner. Boney had picked up most of a previous loss and was giving Wright a good start. A little school boy, one of the swarm of pests that wouldn't keep out of the way, ran out into the track and collided with Wright, losing him many yards in his battle against White, the most formidable runner of the Pacific team. He set out to do the impossible—and he almost did it, but it was too much of a handicap, and Willamette lost the chance to win. Even a win would have left Willamette still 3 of a point behind, so the reversal wouldn't have changed the fact of victory, but it would have helped Willamette to feel better, and it wouldn't have left Pacific to feel that their own victory might have been a fluke.

Pacific was expected to win the weights, and actually did win two of the three firsts, but Stolzeise and Watts won 12 points out of the total of 27 for the three events. Stolzeise' win of the discus event was a real surprise to the visitors, though they took second and third in this event. "Bill" Vinson was high point winner for Willamette, taking first place in the pole vault, the high jump and the 220-yard low hurdles, and second for three points in the high hurdles. He and White of Pacific tied for firsts, though White scored more points, having a three-point second in the broad jump, and 1 1/4 points in the relay.

Logan of Willamette won the mile, with Black of Pacific second and Laird, Willamette, third. Black proved to be a remarkably consistent performer. He won the two-mile in a desperate last-lap sprint with Laird, with Haines a good third.

Pacific easily led in the sprints. In the 100 yards Streyer got second place, but in the 220 Bonney of Willamette was able to get no better than third, and Wright took third in the quarter. Willamette has had no real successors to Pollock and some of the fleet-footed old boys of a few years ago.

Austin of Pacific had the misfortune to twist an ankle in the early stages of the pole vault so that he was out of that and the jumps. This was the only casualty reported.

Last year Willamette won by only two points. This year the Pacific team is ahead by a more decisive margin, but it's hoss-and-hoss for the two. The Pacific boys have won pretty steadily over the Bearcats this season—football, basketball, baseball, and this victory in the track meet makes it unanimous for four kinds of contests. The tennis slaughter of Saturday morning was many times worse than anything that Pacific ever achieved. So Willamette can have at least a little crow.

May Day Exercises Not Halted Because of Rain

Rain that began early Saturday morning did very little good and perhaps not much harm—to the Willamette university May day exercises. It didn't really rain much; just enough to be wet and cold. The sun shone in spots all day, but so did the rain.

The May day breakfast served on the campus by the YWCA of the university attracted many. This has come to be an annual event, and some townspeople never miss it. The tennis games on the Twelfth street courts, followed rather closely after the close of the long-drawn out breakfast serving.

An excellent musical program was presented at Waller hall, beginning at 9:30, with the women's glee club, the men's glee club, and the music department of the university as the performers.

The burning of the freshmen caps, and the acceptance of the frosh as honest-to-goodness college students instead of educational and social worms, was done at 1:30, in the presence of a great crowd. The Willamette-Pacific field and track meet occupied the whole afternoon, and the junior fete in Willson park, attracted a host of spectators for the evening.

Glenn Adelhart Nabbed As Soon As He Returns

Glenn Adelhart of 555 North Nineteenth street was arrested by Chief Walter Birtchett yesterday noon on a charge of passing worthless checks about the city. He was bound over to the justice court, elected to make his plea Monday and was placed under $100 bail, which he failed to furnish. He will remain in the county jail until his case comes up for hearing Monday.

According to local authorities Adelhart had been operating in a small way about the city for the last seven or eight months. His last check was passed April 30, at which time he left the city, returning yesterday with the evident impression that the matter had quieted down. He was arrested by Chief Birtchett about one hour after he had come into town.

According to Adelhart the aggregate of checks passed by him amounts to about $25. However, local authorities are of the opinion that when they have been gathered together they will represent about $100.

Ask Use of Vacant Schools To Promote Summer Course

NEW YORK, May 12.—Community art centers in country school houses, deserted during the summer vacation period, are advocated by David Mannes, a musician of this city, who urges the organization of art clubs with headquarters in the empty schoolhouses for more widespread knowledge and enjoyment of art. Such centers, he says, would provide not only for the study of music, sculpture, painting, etc., but also give opportunities for wider companionship.

"Students and teachers in the cities would be glad to direct such clubs for a nominal sum during vacation time," Mr. Mannes declares. "Benefit would result to the children of farmers and country folk, and to the parents themselves, whose hunger for art goes unsatisfied. The development of the artistic impulse latent in everyone and stifled, too often, in those who are far away from the cities, is of great importance to America's intellectual advancement and spiritual growth."

Melodyland Saxo Four are acclaimed one of America's foremost musical attractions. With their lilting melodies, they do'fou to sit still in your seats. This is a quartette of instrumentalists which will unquestionably please. With its decided offering of exceptionally well rendered numbers, and the act can be figured on as highly entertaining. They are all good musicians and their selections on the saxophones will be hugely appreciated and enjoyed. At the Bligh theater today.

Duffy and Bert: Duffy as a rube sheriff certainly knows how to handle that character. Gymnastic man, acrobats and contortionists say this Duffy is some fun artist. As a musician, well, we will forgive Duffy for the reason that his music is real funny. At the Bligh theater today.

Eddie Dale, scribe man, black-face comedian, captivated the audience last night at the Bligh theater with his clever routine of songs, talking and nifty dancing. His black-face monologue is in a class by itself and we must certainly hand it to Eddie. Even if he has a big mouth, he doesn't have much to say. The audience will thoroughly enjoy him. To miss him would be a close catastrophe. At the Bligh theater today.

Vine and Jamieson in "Impressions" will be remembered as the hit of many bills. Miss Jamieson (late of Scandals) is a charming blonde wearing gorgeous gowns and doing clever impressions of Fanny Brice, Duncan Sisters and Marion Harris. Eddie Vine will be remembered from Gus Edwards' "School Boys." He needs no introduction and is a finished performer in his impressions of William Rock, Van and Schenck, Richard Bartholomew, Eddie Foy, etc.—and act that competes for headline honors. At the Bligh theater today.

What is probably the largest ship interior ever constructed on a movable (rocker) platform was built at the United Studios in Hollywood for "The Isle of Lost Ships," a First National attraction, produced by M. C. Levee and personally directed by Maurice Tourneur. The production which is declared to be one of the most unusual ever filmed, is coming to the Oregon theater.

It is easy to understand why "Broken Chains," the feature at the Liberty theater, which opens today for a three day engagement won the first prize of $10,000 in the scenario contest conducted by Goldwyn Pictures corporation and the Chicago Daily News. This is an all-round fine production, intensely dramatic in theme, well cast and beautifully directed.

Malcolm McGregor, who attracted considerable attention for his fine work in "The Prisoner of Zenda," has the leading male role, that of a wealthy young easterner, Peter Wyndham, who undergoes a spiritual regeneration and learns the meaning of courage through love. McGregor was a fine choice for this role, and he succeeds admirably in

WEDDING TO BE ANNULLED

Alta Gracia Nieva, twelve-year-old Los Angeles girl, eloped to Santa Anna, the Gretna Green of California, with Angelo Anselmi, 38, and there became his bride. Juvenile Court authorities interfered and the girl's guardian is about to institute proceedings for an annulment, a similar action on the part of the husband of the youthful bride having been refused by the court on the grounds that the action should come from the other side.

Colleen Moore undoubtedly reaches the high point of her career in her characterization of the part of Mercy Boone the girl wife of a brutal outlaw ranchman played by Ernest Torrence. Torrence's performance is as magnificent a piece of screen villainy as we have ever seen, almost fearsome in its realism.

The whole cast is a particularly strong one. The beautiful Claire Windsor, now under contract with Goldwyn, is a delight in the part of a New York society girl. Among the others are Beryl Mercer, who is well remembered for her performance on the New York stage in "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals"; James Marcus, Willard Leo Willis.

Allan Holubar directed this big production for Goldwyn.

"Say It With Hands." That is Pola Negri's own rule and one which the famous Polish star threatens to make the fashion in screen pantomime. For Pola believes in expressing just as many emotions as possible with the hands. It is a heritage from her stage it repeatedly in her first American-made Paramount picture, "Bella Donna," which will be the feature at the Oregon theater for three days beginning Friday night at 7:30.

Second only to the face—and sometimes not even second to that are the hands for expressing motions, according to Miss Negri. She asserts that one can say much with the hands alone in a language which everyone understands, for all have hands and all know how the hands react to emotions.
