PEST FIGHTING IS HANDICAPPED

No Funds to List Lots Invested By Earwig, Says Attorney General

For the reason that there is no state fund from which to pay for clerical work, such as listing infested lots and names of owners, the state board of horticulture apparently is going to be much handicapped in fighting the earwig pest in Portland. An opinion written by Attorney General Van Winkle in reply to an inquiry from the board says such compensation will have to come from sources outside the statutes.

The opinion states that the legislature apparently did not contemplate such a situation as has arisen in Portland in connection with the present earwig invasion. The ways and means committee, or a big part of it, scoffed at the warning of experts about the earwig. These men appeared before the committee repeatedly and tried to hammer home the situation, but did not succeed in getting far.

Also there is no fund specifically set aside to pay inspectors and deputies to fight the earwig, though there is a general pest fund from which such money can be used.

The following other points are covered in the opinion:

That county inspectors and deputy county inspectors appointed by the county court upon petition of not less than 25 resident fruit growers of the county shall be paid by the county court for their services and actual necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties; that the duties of such county inspectors and deputies are prescribed by the law, and are confined to the actual work required in the abatement or eradication of the pest.

Belt-bottomed pants are coming back. But the trouble about that style of leg covering is that it is almost impossible to tell whether they are coming or going.

FIVE SPECIAL TRAINS GOING

from Portland will begin at 7:45 on the morning of June 16 when Battery A will leave with its horses and cannon. A special freight train with baggage and equipment will precede this train, leaving Portland June 14. The second special troop train north will leave at 9 a. m. of June 16 carrying Portland units of the 162nd infantry, the Portland and Hood River units of the 186th infantry and Company A, 116th engineers. A third train will leave 45 minutes later carrying units of the 162nd and 186th infantry regiments from Gresham, Eugene, Medford, Cottage Grove, McMinnville, Silverton, Tillamook, Dallas and Corvallis.

SCENIC ROUTES ARE SELECTED

Oregon Women's Clubs Will Make Special Effort to Entertain Visitors

The slogan, as well as command of the Business and Professional Women's club of Minneapolis, "Pack for Portland," is but a hint of the activities begun early by these various organizations throughout the country for a record attendance at the national convention to be held in Portland in July. The transportation companies are making special preparations as to routing in order that the best scenic attractions possible may be afforded those in many instances making the trip to the Pacific coast for the first time.

In order properly to put before these visitors the wonderful resources of the northwest, various civic organizations in all north-west states are planning special efforts to this end, which is also true of Canada. The local organization is cooperating with all other Oregon clubs with the view to this state doing full justice to the visitors who will tax Portland for accommodations as no other women's convention has done.

Every city in Washington through which the convention trains pass is cooperating enthusiastically with Seattle, with its five strong women's organizations to convince every attending delegate and member that Washington is strictly on the map so far as hospitalities and resources are concerned. Oregon is being urged to do likewise.

Haste Is Urged

It is especially urged on all Salem Sunday school superintendents, by Fred DeVries, president of the Marion county association, that if they have not already appointed their committees for the annual Sunday school picnic June 16, they do it at once. It is only two weeks from next Saturday until the picnic date, and the time is short enough for the large plans already being made. Governor Pierce is to be the principal speaker at the celebration, which is to be held at the state fair grounds.

Woman Fined

Heater Thorpe was fined $5 in the police court yesterday for speeding.

Chief Forester Coming

Col. W. B. Greeley, chief national forester, will be in Salem June 5 to confer with United States Senator McNary on reforestation. Senator McNary is chairman of the special reforestation committee of the United States senate, and is to participate in a number of conferences on the Pacific coast before his return to Washington next

New Warner CORSETS

WELL dressed women are more and more realizing the importance of the corset as the costume foundation. An ill-fitting corset will mar the effect of the handsomest gown, while a well-fitted corset will give even an ordinary garment lines of grace and distinction. Warner's Corsets are conceded to be among the most preferred corsets of fashionable America.
