

DR. LOUGHRIDGE PASSES BEYOND

Veteran Served Long as Missionary and Educator
in Various States

The death of Rev. Albert Loughridge, L.L.D., occurred at his late home, 1433 Court street, this city at 1:30 a. m. yesterday, as a result of a stroke of paralysis, suffered one week ago.

Dr. Loughridge was the son of Poulting and Mariah Mitchell Loughridge, and was born in Nebraska county, Iowa, June 12, 1845. He would therefore have reached his 78th birthday anniversary next Tuesday, had he lived.

His early education was obtained in the county school in the vicinity of his home, and at the age of 16 years, in 1861, he enlisted in Company F Fourth Iowa Cavalry and served with honor throughout the Civil war. At the close of the war he returned to his home and prepared for college. He entered Iowa State university in 1867 and was graduated with the degree of A. B. in 1871. As a token of appreciation of his work at home and in the mission field, his alma mater conferred upon him at commencement 1899, the degree of L. L. D.

After graduation from college he taught school for a time and accepted the chair of Latin in Central College, Pella, Iowa. On August 20, 1874, he was married to Elizabeth Griffith, who survives him. In 1875, Dr. and Mrs. Loughridge sailed for India as missionaries under the American Baptist Missionary union, and after three years spent in the study of the language and school work they pressed into the interior of the Mizam Dominion and established a new mission station at Hanamakonda where the gospel had never before been preached.

In 1881 Mrs. Loughridge's health failed and she was obliged to return to America. So great did the importance of the work in their chosen field seem to them that Dr. Loughridge came only as far as England with his wife and then turned back to find that the missionaries in charge of the neighboring station had been obliged to leave on account of poor health and that he was the only missionary among 3,000,000 people.

In 1884, after having spent nine years in India, Dr. Loughridge returned to America; and as the health of his wife gave no promise of immediate improvement, in 1887, he accepted the chair of Latin in the State normal school of Iowa, now called State Teachers' college. In 1898, he was invited to become president of Bishop college, a school for negroes under the auspices of the American Baptist Home Mission society, at Marshall, Texas.

In 1901, Mrs. Loughridge's health having improved, they again sailed for India; but on the way she suffered an attack of influenza which left her in a sick and weakened condition when they landed, and in 1904, she was compelled to return to America. He followed in 1905 to care for her and her health never justified their return to their chosen work.

Since then he has taught two years in Des Moines college and one year at Linfield college. During the past five years they have made their home in Salem where Dr. Loughridge has taken an active interest in the affairs of the city, the G. A. R. and of the First Baptist church. He has frequently been called upon to preach in the various state institutions.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Webb Funeral parlors and will be in charge of Rev. J. C. Tibbitts, Rev. Ward Willis Long and Sedgwick post, G. A. R. Interment will be in the family plot in City View cemetery.

WIFE CHARGES HUSBAND WITH TWO MURDERS

There does not seem to be any chance for a war between the Greeks and Turks. And just when it was hoped that a large sum might be secured for the motion picture rights.

A subscription has been opened in England for the preservation of the house of Charles Darwin and gardens at Down. But Col. Bryan is not expected to contribute anything.

Walker over to the woman and struck her on the side of the head with the blunt end of a hunters' axe which he had been using to cut wood. He then reached for a piece of string lying on the ground and tied it tightly around the dead woman's neck. Mrs. Danner said she saw all this but did not actually see the man strike the woman. Danner then picked up the body and tossed it into the Sprouse tent the remains falling on the bed. He then turned to his wife and told her if she ever said anything about it he would do the same to her.

Story Said Frame-Up
"The reason my wife wants to get rid of me," declared Danner, nor the man had also threatened Mrs. Sprouse.

"I think this is the same man that wanted 'my wife,'" Danner added.

We got a letter the other day from an oil promoter in Denver asking us to join him in the formation of a $1,000,000 syndicate to operate in Oklahoma. We wrote back thanking him for the compliment.—Ex.

to newspapermen "is because of another man. She framed up this story about the murders because she is tired of me," and then he produced a copy of a bill for divorce which was served upon him today.

Danner said he knew Mrs. Sprouse had been married before, "two or three times, and one of her husbands, had threatened to get Sprouse." According to Danner Reports coming from Portland are to the effect that the Oregon metropolis is a very wet city. Outside counties are mostly doing their duty in law enforcement. There must be a yanking up of the authorities down there, if these reports are true.

The opponents of the World Court are now led by the New Hampshire Moses. But he will be a discredited leader. The World Court will be put over. The idea of the defeat of the proposition is unthinkable.

The sailing of the monster American passenger vessel, the Leviathan, on July 4 recalls the words of the Psalmist found in Psalms 104:26: "There go the ships, there is that Leviathan."
