

GO TO CHURCH. GUARD ORDER

Veteran Chaplain William S. Gilbert to Hold Services at Camp

Although they are going to camp for intensive military training, the first act of the Oregon national guardsmen on reaching camp next Sunday will be to attend church. Impressive religious exercises in the open air, with military bands furnishing the music, have been arranged for next Sunday, the opening day of camp, by Brigadier General George A. White, head of the citizen-soldiers.

All organizations will be marched to the exercises which will be conducted at Camp Lewis by Lieutenant Colonel William S. Gilbert, veteran chaplain of the Oregon national guard, who has attended every camp ever held by the federalized national guard as well as accompanying the Oregon guardsmen in the Philippines, in France and on the Mexican border.

Start South Tuesday
The intensive training program begins in earnest for Oregon troops of the 41st division next Monday, although the men reach camp late Saturday. The coast artillerymen get a somewhat earlier start at Fort Barry Cal., leaving Oregon Tuesday night of this week.

For all guardsmen the day's work in camp will commence at 5:30 o'clock a. m., according to the detailed federal training schedules sent out in advance to all commanders today by General White. Reveille will occur at that hour and 10 minutes later the men will be out for their morning appetite.

Exercise is brisk
Ten minutes of brisk setting-up exercises will follow assembly which will be at 5:45 during which the troops will be put through a course of movements which would cause envy on the part of the professional contortionist. Muscles which have been dormant for months past will be brought into play and a ravenous appetite created for the breakfast which will be served at 6:15.

As a matter of form "sick call" will sound at 7 a. m. No one was ever known to become seriously ill at camp. The necessity for "sick call" passed with the development of healthy soldiers and sanitary camps but the call is still retained. Of course the period is used in dispensing the famous army "cc" pills to overzealous youths who partook too heavily of the repast the evening before.

Real Workout 8 O'clock
The real work of the day commences with assembly for drill at 8 o'clock. From that hour until 11:30 a. m. the order of business will be intensive training for national defense. The troops will be schooled in every known method of present day warfare. At Camp Lewis the Oregon soldiers will be acquainted with every step in individual and unit training from the first steps in the "rookie squad" to the grand ensemble of the divisional maneuver in which all units of the 41st division will take part. The program includes a night maneuver in which the troops will march out several miles from camp, engage in a sham battle at night, bivouac in "pup tents" and eat from food prepared in the rolling field kitchens.

The coast artillery which will train at the coast defenses of San Francisco will have an equally strenuous program although the system of training for coast defense troops is not as diversified as is required by mobile troops.

Athletics Emphasized
Athletics, games and physical test will form a part of the training schedule for each day, the physical development of the soldier being conceded by military experts as being of paramount importance.

A part of each day will be spent in school with officers of the regular army playing the role of "school ma'am." Demonstrations of actual conflict will be given by selected units of the regular army for the purpose of giving the national guardsmen a bird's eye view of war in its reality.

Saturday June 23 has been designated as governor's day at Camp Lewis. The governors of Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho are expected to be at camp at that time for the purpose of watching the troops of their respective states in action. A review of the entire 41st division will be held on that day in honor of the visiting officials. Governor Pierce has notified General White of his intention to spend two days with the Oregon troops at camp.

Recreation Saturday
Saturday afternoons and Sundays are recreation days, the men being permitted to migrate at will to the many circles of interest surrounding each camp. A street from train will lead eral White will accompany this train as far as Ashland where a celebration in honor of the troops will be held Wednesday. All other units will leave out of Portland, Saturday morning, June 16 for Camp Lewis.

Suit Is Instituted to Collect on Two Notes

Two promissory notes due to F. O. Johnson from Frances L. Foley and Joseph Foley, her husband, were not forthcoming, according to a complaint filed in the county clerk's office yesterday.

The plaintiff alleges that one note for $700 was issued on April 1, 1922, and that another for $2000 was also executed on the same day. The first was for one year and the second for three years.

A mortgage was given bearing the same dates, to cover the notes on the property, located in Marion county. The taxes were not paid according to the original agreement, states the complaint, and no part of the interest or principal has been paid, while a lien superior to the plaintiff's claims is against the property.

Later the defendants elected to declare both principal and interest on the larger note collectable. Johnson now is seeking a decree against the defendant for the $2700 with interest, $200 in attorney's fees and the costs of the suit. In addition he asks that he may be the purchaser of the property at a sheriff's sale, and that the proceeds be applied to the amount due him.

CHERRIANS MAKE GREAT SHOWING

Salem Junior Organization Appears to Help Out Older Contingent

If the Salem Junior Cherrians escape being kissed when they go to Portland, it will be because they are roped off and superhumanly guarded against impressionable ladies.

They made their first full dress appearance Tuesday night when the Cherrians, Junior and Senior and the band, marched up to the State house and through the plaza streets in their dress parade before going up to the Rose Festival at Portland Thursday.

They present a real novelty. There are about 15 boys clad in vivid, red-as-blood red from cap to the heels. They march in the form of a cherry, and it is a beautiful cherry that looks good enough to eat. There are eight or 10 boys in shining green garments who march to form the stem of the cherry. Following them are the plain marching juniors, who march with a king's guard precision. They have been drilled by Big Chief Doc Epley, and R. R. Boardman.

The Cherrians themselves followed the Juniors, with more than 50 of their members in spotless new uniforms and marching like the President's own troops. The band also marched, and when the Salem Cherrian band plays, the birds and opera stars and the musical waves and the acolian harps of the woods hide out for they have no audience until the crowd gets the last note of the band's music.

The Cherrians voted in a number of new members at the dinner and business meeting Tuesday night. They expect to get into the movie business when they march in the Portland parade for the great show is photographed and shown to 200,000,000 people of America, and abroad, and the Cherrian stunt is believed to be one of the finest things ever put on in the whole history of Rose shows.

invited guests enjoyed the program. Donald Selgmund, a violin pupil of Joy Turner, played one number accompanied by his brother, Wilson at the piano. Mildred Carson pleased the audience with her vocal solo, playing her own accompaniment. The program was arranged to show the progressive steps in the study of music, and all grades were represented by the pupils. Those taking part included Suzi Fukuda, Wilson Selgmund, Claire Hartley, Jessie Fukuda, Mary Elizabeth Clement, Margaret Nunn, Genevieve Mulkey, Marie Payne, Frances Lemery, Mildred Carson, Louise Nunn, Kenneth McCormick, Edna Ellis, Iram Keifer, post graduate pupil.

PROHIBITION

"Fashions in women's dress have improved," said Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney at a tea in her New York studio, "but the fashions in bathing suits are as shocking as ever."

"At Coronado one divine winter day a beautiful young matron was heard to say to her pretty maid:

"What did you mean by wearing my bathing suit yesterday? You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

FLAG DAY WILL BE CELEBRATED

B. F. Mulkey of Portland to Deliver Address—Schools Participate

Thursday, June 14, is designated as Flag day for the Elks' lodge and Salem Elks No. 336 have prepared to celebrate the day in unusual fashion by making up a program from the Salem schools along with their own regular Elks' ceremonials.

The program is to be held at Willson park, near the bandstand, beginning promptly at 7 o'clock Thursday evening. All Elks are urged to assemble at their hall at 6:45, to march in the procession. The program itself includes:

Altar service by the officers of the lodge, at 7 o'clock.

Allegiance to the flag, by the Boy Scouts at 7:15.

Drill—Richmond school.
Wand drill—High school girls.
Solo—Oscar B. Gingrich.

Colonial minuet—McKinley Junior girls.
Flag drill—Washington Junior high.

Speaker—B. F. Mulkey.
Lowering of the flag—Boy Scouts.

B. F. Mulkey, of Portland, orator of the day, is recognized as one of the most impressive speakers of the state, and to hear him is to gain a new appreciation of what the flag stands for. The bringing together of the school children in the program is an innovation that promises to make a great hit. Fred Erixon, chairman of the program committee, has spent much time in getting this program together for the public presentation.

A young woman in Wisconsin, who has just fallen heir to a fortune of $15,000,000, says she will continue her tasks as a school teacher. Not a bad idea, as the job takes the mind off one's wealth. It has always been our idea that a woman who teaches school for a long series of years is among the salt of the earth and in the last day ought to be admitted to the congregation of the saints without any civil service examination.—Los Angeles Times.

SUIT WITHDRAWN BY FILM CONCERN

Vitagraph Co. Calls Off $6,000,000 Action Against Famous Players

NEW YORK, June 12.—With drawal of a $6,000,000 suit brought by the Vitagraph company of America, Inc., against the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation and other defendants was announced today by the latter firm. Efforts of Will H. Hays, director general of the motion picture industry, were said to have been instrumental in bringing about an agreement.

The Vitagraph company alleged in its complaint that the Famous Players had conspired to control "first run" motion picture theatres thereby suppressing competition and restraining interstate trade and commerce. Vitagraph declares it has been injured to the extent of $2,000,000 by the alleged practices and, under provisions of the Sherman law, asked federal court for thrice that amount.

NEW CORPORATIONS

Articles of incorporation were filed here yesterday by Kellar Brothers hospital, which will be located at North Bend, and have a capitalization of $100,000. The incorporators are Phil J. Kellar, Russell G. Kellar and Ira J. Kellar.

Notice of dissolution was filed by the Russell & Gilbert company of Portland.
