MORE AUTO RACING HERE FOR JULY 4

A contract has been made for the presentation of another auto racing program for the afternoon of July 4 at the state fairgrounds. The races will be in the hands of the West Coast Racing Association, composed of three Salem men, G. Quakenbush, L. U. Kyrly and Warren Burtis, all enthusiasts in the racing game. They start with three of the fastest cars in the valley in their own stable, and they already have more than a dozen entries assured to make it an even better series of events than the program a week ago.

There is no other celebration for the Fourth in Salem, and it is believed that the races will draw a tremendous crowd. The racers from all over the state are sending in their entries, so that there should be some really brilliant sport. Some of the entries were offered down at Medford last week for local cars only. It is expected that they will send up a number of fast cars from that part of the state for the Salem events. Some of these cars were promised for the races here 10 days ago, but the entries were cancelled because the owners didn't want to chance their gas pets to the two grueling races in the one week, and so they stayed at home for the bigger money.

PANCHO VILLA BEATS WILDE

World Flyweight Champion Knocked Out in Seventh at Polo Grounds

POLO GROUNDS, New York, June 18.—Pancho Villa, of the Philippines knocked out Jimmy Wilde of England, world's flyweight champion, in the seventh round of a 15 round match tonight with a right to the jaw.

A crowd of 40,000 saw the battle. Wilde and Villa posed for a battery of camera-men and then Frankie Genaro of New York, who won the American flyweight title from Villa several months ago, was introduced as a challenger of the winner tonight.

Dave Shade of California, recently elevated to the welterweight throne by New York authorities who took it from Mickey Walker and Johnny Dundee, who is matched to fight Eugene Cigrigi for the featherweight title on July 30, also was introduced.

Wilde weighed 109, Villa 110. Patsy Haley was the referee.

Round One.—They exchanged light swinging lefts to the face. Villa swung hard left and rights to the head. Wilde did not seem to mind the blows. Wilde poked straight lefts to the face. Villa swung two rights to the head as the round closed.

Round Two.—Villa staggered Wilde with a right to the jaw and savagely attacked the body. Villa hit Wilde at will. The little Filipino was staggering the champion about the right with blows to the head. Wilde's swings went wild. Villa knocked Wilde to the canvas with a swing to the jaw after the bell had sounded and the champion was carried to his corner in a daze.

Round Three.—Wilde blinked his eyes and came out ready for fight. The champion's punches lacked steam. He bled at the nose. Villa evaded the champion's blows cleverly. They exchanged hard punches to the body in a neutral corner.

Round Four.—Wilde began slugging with the little brown boy. Wilde took the offensive. Wilde drove Villa to the ropes in a rush. Villa fought him back with rights and lefts to the body and the champion was staggering again but he fought gamely. Wilde landed an avalanche of blows on the Filipino's head, but Villa never blinked.

Round Five.—Villa landed rights to stomach and jaw. They engaged in a heavy exchange to the head. Wilde's sluggishness was leaving him. Wilde's right eye bled. Villa swung heavy rights to stomach and chin. Wilde landed a stiffer right to the jaw and the round ended.

Round Six.—The game little Englishman took heavy punishment on the body. A left to the face sent Wilde staggering into a neutral corner. Villa rained blows to the body. Wilde protested against Villa's backhanded blows but the referee said they were fair. Wilde staggered from blows to the face. His face was covered with blood. He could hardly stand. Villa rained blows to his head. He fell into his stool when the bell sounded.

Round Seven.—Wilde staggered out. He could hardly raise his hands to stem the tide of Villa's blows. He fought back feebly. His right eye was closed. The stubbornness of the Englishman kept Wilde standing. After taking terrible punishment, Wilde, both eyes closed and swollen, dropped his guard. A straight inside right swing to his jaw and he fell flat on his face, unconscious. He was carried to his corner and brought to his senses after five minutes of hard work. He was barely able to lift his hand but he smiled when the crowd cheered the announcer's statement that Jimmy Wilde was the gamest loser in pugilism.

GIBBONS BOXES FOR 14 ROUNDS

Challenger Not Inclined to Punish Sparring Partners as Dempsey Does

SHELBY, Mont., June 18.—Decision to retain Mike Collins as matchmaker and other officials in charge of the promotion of the Jack Dempsey-Tommy Gibbons heavyweight championship fight here July 4 was reached tonight by Dan Tracy, Great Falls business man who assumed the executive of the management today. Tracey after a preliminary survey of the situation in accordance with plans arranged at Great Falls on Saturday when Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, received the second $100,000 of the champion's $300,000 guarantee, said he did not consider any changes necessary in the present force.

Tracey decided to remain here to perfect the machinery to handle the finances and the tickets. He installed Frank C. Fogarty, a financing expert of Great Falls, as assistant treasurer to Mayor Johnson, who has been treasurer for the American Legion committee promoting the fight. Tracey explained that Mayor Johnson had been so busily engaged with other details that he has been unable to devote the time necessary to the financial end of the bout.

Gibbons boxed an equivalent of 14 rounds before the critical eyes of experts who have been watching Dempsey in his workouts for the past two weeks. The St. Paul challenger made a highly favorable impression but the experts commented on his disinclination to punish his sparring partners as Dempsey does.

The challenger worked mainly for speed and accuracy, flashing a snappy left hook to the head and body and landing with remarkable accuracy with a right cross.

After whaling away at a punching bag for two rounds and soaking the leather-filled swinging dummy, Gibbons pulled at the weights for two rounds, before facing Bud Gorman, 220 pounder, the first of his four sparring mates, for the afternoon. He boxed two rounds with each. Gorman said the St. Paul challenger punched harder today than he has at any time.

Jimmy Delaney, of St. Paul, who recently lost a close decision to Gene Tunney, the American light-heavyweight champion, forced Gibbons to extend himself during the two rounds he faced the challenger. Delaney boxes much after the fashion of Dempsey, weaving and crouching to draw a lead. He made Gibbons miss frequently but the challenger nailed him a half dozen times with right crosses to the chin. Delaney used many of the same tricks taught him by Mike Gibbons, the phantom brother of Tommy, slipping his head sideways to escape punches and shooting out lefts that made Gibbons' head bob.

Tillie "Kid" Herman had so much difficulty in connecting that the crowd was in an uproar and Gibbons' face often broke into a smile. Herman, during an exchange in the middle of the ring, missed half a dozen shots when the challenger held his arms close to his body, allowing the punches to slip past his head.

Jack Kearns, manager of the heavyweight champion, declined an invitation to watch the day's workout, excusing himself by saying he had other business to claim his attention. Kearns said he did not wish to be in a position to embarrass Gibbons, who might not prefer to extend himself, knowing that his every move would be under careful scrutiny. Kid Rocco, who joined the Gibbons camp after working a few days with Dempsey, cutting the champion's eye with his head, packed his boxing equipment today and left the camp. Gibbons knocked him down in his last workout and thereafter Rocco displayed an inclination to evade the challenger's blows.
