BREAK IN PRICES CONSIDERED BAD

New Low for Year Is Established—Wall Street Is Pessimistic

NEW YORK, June 18.—Prices broke badly in today's active session of the stock market, the industrial averages and establishing a new low for the year in a net loss of 2 points on the day.

Wall street was of a decidedly pessimistic frame of mind this morning because of the large stock exchange failure on Saturday and the failure of the market last week to respond to a number of favorable dividend developments, including the raising of the New York Central rate and the resumption of payments by the American Smelting company. The street was flooded with wild rumors questioning the solvency of several large brokerage houses but the only basis for these seemed to lie in the fact that they had been engaged in promotions with the bankrupt firm.

Railroad shares which previously had offered splendid resistance to selling pressure yielded with the rest of the list today.

Call money opened at 4½ per cent, advanced to 5 and thence to 5½ where it closed. Demand for time money and commercial paper was very quiet with no change in rates.

Foreign exchanges were heavy. French francs broke 15 points to 6.15 cents and German marks established another new low record at .0006 1-4 cent. Demand sterling held fairly steady around 4.62.
