THE OREGON STATESMAN, SALEM, OREGON

Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, tonight is ready to start the final stretch of training grind for the defense of his title against Tommy Gibbons at Shelby a week from Wednesday.

The champion enjoyed a day of implete rest today, deserting his training camp over the hills on the outskirts of this little city to spend the day in town visiting friends. greeting admirers with a friendly "hello there," and otherwise pass-ing the time in idle relaxation.

He left camp after a late breakfast, remaining in town until time for dinner. Dempsey was the ob-ject of curious eyes wherever he went, but he accepted the situation good naturedly and displayed none of the fretfulness or irritability usually characteristic of him ten days in advance of a championship contest. The champion declared that he never felt better, and he looked and acted as if what he said was the truth. He was deeply tanned as a result of his exposure to the weight.

Dempsey intended visiting the nospital to call on "Big Ben" Wray of Sayre, Okla:, who suffered a freely on the challenger and he

Conclusion Is Strong

It wasn't at all a bad idea to close with the big Thaviu's Exposition band and the grand opera singers. What they can't do with a hand can't be done anywhere. nothing, but in that inning Shackma smeared the bun for a homer, knocking the ball over the fence, and scoring three men ahead of him. Kipper made another home run in the same inning. The visitors scored a run in each of the second, third and fourth innings. Zosel pitched a good game for Salem, getting the breaks in the pinches. Jones, the Portland pitcher, did not receive the support that he deserved, and the two home runs in the sixth inning took the starch out of him. Next Sunday the Senators play the Woodstock club of Portland on the Salem field. Salem
