

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it makes so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Adv.

Miss Ruth Gregg Leads In Race for Liberty Queen

SILVERTON, Or., June 27.—(Special to The Statesman.)—The interest in voting for Silvertown's Liberty Queen has become centered in two candidates—Miss Ruth Gregg and Miss Laura Osterlund. These were the only two receiving any votes since the last counting. The contest will end Saturday. Contestants now stand: Laura Osterlund, 18,850; Ruth Gregg, 11,093; Signa Larson, 783; Alma Page, 425; Josephine Sewell, 361; Leona Andrews, 356; Alma Faurer, 310; Emma Rice, 260.

Pazini Refuses to Halt, Gets Bullet Through Foot

D. Pazini, who is doing life in the state penitentiary for murder committed in Multnomah county in 1915, was shot through the foot yesterday by James Blyen, a guard at the prison, when Pazini crossed the dead line in the prison yard and paid no heed to a command to halt.

Pazini's condition is not serious. Warden Smith believes Pazini's failure to stop at the guard's command was due to his inability to understand the English language readily.

CHERRIES COME EIGHTY MILES

Royal Annes Brought to Market Here From Other Side of Vancouver

That Salem drew trade from a wide radius has never been questioned, but when it was found this week that cherries were being brought to the Salem markets from the other side of Vancouver, Wash., well then it is time to sit up and take notice.

A. Raas has been buying Royal Annes for the maraschino cherry trade for several weeks. Since he pays 2 cents a pound more than the canners he naturally gets plenty of fruit—Royal Annes anyway. Ferry street from Commercial street east is lined each evening with growers who come in trucks, touring cars, horse drawn wagons and various other kinds of conveyances.

Yesterday a man drove from the other side of Vancouver, Wash., with a load of cherries. Since the maraschino trade desires the fruit in a greener state than the canners can accept, it grows can be sure of making good on the fruit while in the Washington man said, "If I wait until my cherries are ripe I may get caught by rain."

Cherry picking is emptying the auto park rapidly, according to T. G. Albert, superintendent. On the other hand, many who left their call for logberry pickers have cancelled these, saying that they may not pick at all.

WHEAT DELIVERIES TAKE RECORD FALL

Close Unsettled Due to Weakness of New York Stock Market Report

CHICAGO, June 27.—Influenced largely by weakness of the New York stock market, all deliveries of wheat fell today to a new low price record for the season. The close was unsettled at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents net decline. September, $1.91 1/2 to 1.93, and December, $1.94 1/2.

Corn finished 1/2 to 1 1/4 cents down; oats varying from 1/2 cent off to a like advance, and provisions at a setback ranging from 5 to 20 cents.

Proceeding the breaks in wheat prices, the market had shown something of an upward tendency as a result of rains which, it was assumed, would interfere with cutting and threshing of winter wheat. The fact that the Liverpool quotations were comparatively unresponsive to yesterday's sharp decline here aided also as a check on bearish sentiment.

Persistent liquidation on the part of houses with eastern connections forced the wheat market down grade until the July delivery went under 104 1/2 for the first time since last October.

Corn and oats showed more resistance to selling than was the case with wheat. The chief sustaining factor was smallness of the stock of corn as compared with a year ago.

Provisions were depressed, mostly by a setback in the value of lower quotations on hogs.

SELLING OF RAILS FEATURE OF DAY

NEW YORK, June 27.—Quoted values continued to melt away in today's active stock market under the stimulus of heavy professional short selling and commission house liquidation of weakened marginal accounts. Both the industrial and railroad averages broke through the low levels of last November.

One hundred stocks established new low records for the year during the day's trading; the largest number for any single day in many months.

Selling of the rails, which was regarded as one of the most disturbing features of the day, apparently was based on speculative expectation of increased wage demands by the "Big Four" brotherhoods. The unusually favorable nature of the May earnings reports now being published entirely ignored.

Rails were heavy from the start but some of the industrials made moderate gains in the first hour on short covering operations. The volume of liquidation on the rails and on the French buying power elsewhere induced general short selling which resulted in recessions of 1 to 4 points throughout the list.

MR. AND MRS. W. E. ANDERSON were hosts last night at a dinner party at which covers for 10 guests were placed. Special guests were Miss Marion Emmons, recently home from violin study in Chicago, and Montague Lord, who is visiting with his mother, Mrs. W. P. Lord, and his sister, Miss Elizabeth Lord.

Following the dinner the guests went to the Lord home for an informal musicale. Those taking part in the musicale were Miss Emmons, Miss Dorothy Pearce, Mrs. Ada Miller Harris and Franklin Launer.

A number of Salem matrons and maids have been invited to a tea being given Friday by Mrs. M. C. Woodward and her daughter, Miss Woodward, at their home in Silvertown.

Miss Irma Fanning and Cecil Shotwell were married at a pretty church wedding Tuesday morning. The marriage service was read in the Jason Lee church before a large group of friends and relatives. Rev. Thomas Acheson officiated and was assisted by Mr. Shotwell's grandfather, R. S. Shotwell, of Gaston, Or.

Blue and white summer blossoms formed a charming archway under which the couple stood for the service. Larkspur and syringa were used in great profusion about the church.

The bride wore a charming frock of white crepe trimmed with Spanish lace, and her long veil was held with a spray of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of Cecil Bruner roses and sweet peas.

Miss Grace Tyler, in pink crepe de chine, was bridesmaid. She carried orchid sweet peas and pink roses. Russell Beales was Mr. Shotwell's attendant.

The wedding march from Mendelssohn was played by Miss Alene Richie, and Miss Beulah Fanning sang "At Dawning" before the service, and "I Love You Truly" just following the wedding ceremony.

Following the marriage the wedding party were served a buffet luncheon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fanning. About the dining room and living rooms of the Fanning home were sweet peas in varied hues, and quantities of pink roses. Feathery white ocean spray was also a part of the decorative scheme.

Those serving were Miss Edith Hawley, Miss Alene Richie, Mrs. Althea Fanning and Miss Beulah Fanning. Mr. and Mrs. Shotwell left following the wedding for Los Angeles where they will spend the summer with Mr. Shotwell's family. They will return north in the fall when Mr. Shotwell will resume his work at the Portland Medical school. Mrs. Shotwell taught school during the last year at Edwall, Wash.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Shotwell, Gaston; Miss Minnie Davis, Portland; Russell Beales, Forest Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Perry

Mark, Miss Olive Mark, Sheridan; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Swope, Portland; Miss Edith Hawley, Woodburn; Lloyd Shotwell and Roy Holland, Los Angeles.

Miss Florence Pettit, who has been children's librarian at the city library for more than a year, has gone to her home in Seattle.

Mrs. D. M. McIntyre and daughter Anna left for Portland Tuesday night. They attended the Hoge-Lorin wedding which was an event of Wednesday morning at St. Mary's cathedral.

The Catholic Daughters of America met last night for a picnic in Bush's pasture. They will sponsor a card party and dance tonight in McCormack hall.

Mrs. Florence Anderson of Portland, Me., is a house guest of Mrs. M. P. Adams. Mrs. Anderson has been visiting for several months in Oregon. She is an old friend of Mrs. Adams.

The Past Matrons' association of the Order of the Eastern Star will picnic Friday at the home of Mrs. Al H. Steiner on the Wallace road. This is the regular meeting time of the association and will be the last of the year.

The hostess committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Steiner, Mrs. Amos Yass, Mrs. Walter Smith and Mrs. Gillette.

Margaret Steiner is home following a week's visit with Dorothy Grilley in Portland.

Irving Bachelier's
"The Light in the Clearing"
"Miracles of the Jungle"

Otto Bollman, president of the Dial Film company, whose production of Irving Bachelier's large selling novel "The Light in the Clearing" is being released by the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation and which comes to the Bligh today contends that the public soon tire of fads and want for its steady amusement diet not hors d'oeuvres of melodrama nor the soup of wishy washy love stories, but rather plain, substantial solids based upon good romance and sturdy drama.

"The highly flavored entrees or sex dramas, the stimulating virgins which might be likened to daring serials, all have their brief life in satisfying the public appetite, but I believe that the books and tales of a more conservative element will appeal more and more strongly to the public taste as time goes on," added the producer.

"The Light in the Clearing" is a big, whole-souled drama of American people. It carries with it a big lesson and is paying the way for more of the substantial drama as sponsored by producer Bollman.

A powerful dramatic theme forms the plot foundation of "Driven," now showing at the Oregon theater, the "tale" of the lives of her husband and three sons by a mother in order to obtain happiness for another son and the girl he loves. It is a difficult plot to handle in such a way that it really is entertaining, but so deftly and surely has Director Charles Brabin worked out the story that the outcome seems fully justified and the woman wears a halo of self-sacrifice even though her hands are red with the blood of her own sons.

When a picture can make one forget that they are in a theater, can make one feel that they are gazing at a scene from real life, it certainly is worthy of being called a masterpiece and that is exactly the way this Universal Jewel affects the audience.

Maw Toller, as played by Emily Fitzroy, is a long-to-be-remembered characterization. Repressed, dragged down by years of unrelenting and thankless toil, unlovely in dress, but with a face of rugged, spiritual beauty, Maw Toller is true to the type woman that eke out an existence in the Blue Ridge mountains. It requires great dramatic ability to play this part, and Miss Fitzroy demonstrates beyond all question that she possesses that ability.

Elfinor Fair as the homeless wife does some of the best work of her career, while Charles E. Mack as the weaking son, is convincing without overacting. Other notable characterizations are given by Burr McIntosh and George Bancroft.

It is a story of mountaineer moonshiners and "revenuers," and to make a story so true and so different from the ordinary run of this type pictures is an achievement.

Announcement is made by the management of the Liberty theater that the featured attraction opening today will be "Night Life in Hollywood," a picture which has been more discussed than any other production made in recent years.

"Night Life in Hollywood" is said to be one of the most unusual stories ever filmed. It was made because Hollywood, during the last few months, has become the most talked-of city in the world. Newspapers, magazines, and other periodicals have devoted pages and pages to accounts of Hollywood and the life of the picture players and, strange as it may seem, no two accounts have agreed.

The producers of this picture have made in "Night Life in Hollywood" a super-feature which portrays the true inside of this famous city; and it is said by those who are familiar with the picture that it is one of the most interesting features ever produced.

In addition to portraying the motion picture capital of the world, it numbers in its cast some of the most famous people in the industry. Included are such well known favorites as J. Frank Glendon, Josephine Hill and Gale Henry, while the picture introduces intimate scenes of Wallace Reid, Bryant Washburn, Bessie Love, Sessue Hayakawa, Tsuru Aoki, Theodore Roberts, J. Warren Kerrigan, Bill Desmond and others.

Heat and Cherries Make Many Campers Move Out

The sunshine, cherry picking and just natural inclination were each responsible in part for more than half the night's residents leaving the Salem auto park yesterday, according to the superintendent, T. G. Albert. Thirty-five of a total of 69 camps were broken yesterday and the owners left for other points. It was the most wholesale "breaking up" so far this year, Mr. Albert said.

Twenty-nine new camps were made last night and 34 remained for another night. Those registering last night for the first time were Mr. and Mrs. V. Goldman, German, Idaho; W. H. Marshall, Blackfoot, Idaho; George O'Brien, Forting, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Winnor, Minnesotan, N. D.; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Seymour, Seattle; Mrs. A. Zimmerman, Silverton; J. D. Stogers, F. D.
