Mrs. Langfos Granted Decree—Nena E. Langfos was granted a divorce from Harry T. Langfos yesterday by Judge George G. Bingham. She alleged that he called her profane, vulgar and indecent names and also accused her unjustly of lewdly associating with other men. She also contended that he had not provided for her and had been content to live off her earnings. No property rights were involved, and the couple had no children. They were married in St. Paul, Minn., on May 6, 1913. The alleged

Higher Rate Asked—A higher rate of pay for the printing of legal briefs is asked of the state supreme court in a petition received from the Ben Franklin club of the Willamette valley and the Portland Typotheat. The rules of the court, which the printers say were established when printing did not cost as much as at present, allow $1.25 a page. The petitioners want the rules to allow from $1.40 to $1.65 to conform to modern charges.

Auditing School Accounts—Work of auditing the accounts of county school boards is nearly completed, only a few more days being necessary to finish the task. Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent, stated yesterday. One or two boards have not yet turned in their bank statements for the year, and it is believed the press of harvesting has somewhat delayed these. Nearly all of the county boards have been prompt this year, Mrs. Fulkerson said, as the request was made that these should be received at her office the first week in July if possible. School boards have until August 1 in which to place accounts before her for auditing.

Wisconsin Picnic Wednesday—The Wisconsin picnic will be held Wednesday, July 25 at the fair grounds. The association has a membership of more than 150 and it is expected that nearly that many will attend. A basket dinner will be served at noon with games and a program to follow.
