Sixty-Four Earthquakes Rock Tokio in Two Weeks

TOKIO, July 24.-Tokio had a surfeit of earthquakes during June. Between the second and 14th of the month 64 were recorded on the seismograph, many of them of sufficient force to weaken the hardened citizens of the capital and send them scurrying under door jambs, which are considered the safest places when mother earth decides to readjust herself. Most of these shocks originated in Kashima bay, which is in the earthquake zone, and fortunately did no damage.

Dr. Fusakichi Omori, authority on earthquakes and volcanoes, has assured the people that, despite the recent restlessness of the earth which will continue for some time. Tokio is a region comparatively free from danger. The shape and formation of Japan, according to Dr. Omori, makes it peculiarly susceptible to underground disturbances. The volcanic zone lies along the inner Japan Sea side of the arc formed by the islands, with an off shoot at right angles in the direction of Mt. Fuji. The earthquake zone lies along the outer, Pacific slope of Japan-the border of the Pacific on all sides being the scene of greatest earthquakes. The superstitious believe that Japan rests on a huge fish and earthquakes are caused by this fish becoming restless.
