Cantaloupes are Ripe Along Columbia River

THE DALLES, Aug. 13.—First large shipments of cantaloupes from The Dalles were reported in Portland yesterday. The report said that there had been but a few small direct shipments of cantaloupes from The Dalles previous to yesterday. Sales were said to be at $3.75. California stock is being held steady at unchanged prices. Tomatoes are retailing at $1 and $1.50 per box. Apples continue to drag at various low prices. There is a slight ported moving better with most increase in offerings of Crawford peaches with sales around $1.10 and $1.25 a box. California Elbertas were not plentiful and the price was inclined to stiffen.

Southern Oregon to Have Great Picnic

MEDFORD, Aug. 13.—People from every section of southern Oregon will gather at Crater Lake Sunday, August 19, to participate in the first big annual southern Oregon picnic. This picnic will be the first of a series of similar events each year and is being sponsored this season by the Klamath Falls Chamber of Commerce. Medford's chamber has entered the movement with characteristic enthusiasm and a committee is already at work, extending every effort to make Medford's showing the very best possible. Many prominent Medford people are interested in the plan and will back the committee in making the event a success.

Off for India

CORVALLIS, Aug. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. William C. Whittaker and two children left Corvallis today for San Francisco and sail from California on August 22 for Burma, India, where they are to be stationed at a Baptist mission school. Mr. Whittaker is to be in charge of agriculture. The Whittakers, who had resided in Roseville, California, the past year or so, had spent several weeks at the country home of Mrs. Whittaker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Payne and with Corvallis friends, before departing for foreign field.

High School Auditorium

EUGENE, Aug. 13.—A saving of several hundred dollars yearly to city schools and patrons is believed possible by the board, which Friday night authorized preparation of specifications and estimates on additional equipment for the Eugene high school stage and for slight alterations with restoration of the partition and the front addition made last year. By having more adequate facilities for school entertainments, which have heretofore been staged in theaters at considerable cost, the saving in a year should be considerable, the board believes.

Over-Crowded House Greeted Offering at Grand Theatre

It was an hilarious and at times tumultuous audience that saw and heard the presentation of the "Spice of 1922." Last night the Grand theatre was crowded and there was not a dull minute, not a minute without its laughter. Of course there was no sustained plot but there was just one rip-roaring scene after another, one laugh-provoking joke followed another in rapid succession. The play pleased and it was a fine innovation on the usual times of the last two weeks. The world needed to laugh and this plotless play is presented to fill this need. There was an over-crowded house at the Grand and no better pleased an audience ever assembled in Salem.

SUDDEN STRENGTH HITS WHEAT MARKET

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Highest prices the wheat market has touched since the middle of July were brought about today, chiefly through active buying ascribed to a big eastern trader. The close was unsettled at 1 to 1-2 net advance with September 1.01 @ 1.01 1-8 and December 1.04 3-8 @ 1-4 to 1 cent, oats finished at a shade off to 1-4 up and provisions at a rise of 15 to 35 cents. Sudden strength in the wheat market developed after prices had drifted downward for almost an hour. The temporary decline was ascribed nearly altogether to current news about strained relations between Great Britain and France and about disturbed conditions in Germany. With francs back at a new low level and with wheat prices at Liverpool showing a setback, bears appeared at first to have an advantage although selling was checked by talk of a probable shortage of bread wheat this season east of the Rockies.

Prices Highest Since Middle of July; First Tendency Downward

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Highest prices the wheat market has touched since the middle of July were brought about today, chiefly through active buying ascribed to a big eastern trader. STOCK PRICES IN IRREGULAR RANGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Prices moved within a narrow and irregular range in today's stock market, one of the duller full day sessions this year. Trading was almost entirely a professional affair with little disposition to extend commitments being shown by either the bear or bull speculators. The week-end political development record for all time and brought about some sharp recessions in the French and Belgian bonds. French francs were quoted as low as 5.53 1-4. Demand sterling held steady around 4.56 3-4 and Belgian francs advanced stock prices but resulted in French francs dropping to a new nearly 10 points on reports of a 500,000,000 franc loan from France to Belgium. German marks dropped from 35 to 27 cents a millon and then recovered to 32 cents. Widespread agitation for lower gasoline prices which has resulted in state intervention in South Dakota, was held responsible for the liquidation of oil shares by frightened investors but the recessions in active issues were held to a point or less. The unfavorable trade developments in the oil industry arising from the heavy over-production of crude oil in the California fields have been well discounted by the oil shares, some of which are reported to be in an oversold condition. This probably accounts for the caution exercised by professional bear traders in extending their operations in this group.

Pickwick Stages Receive Hearing at State House

The Pickwick stages of San Francisco were given a hearing before the Oregon public service commission yesterday on the basis of unofficial complaints against the company, alleging negligence. The stage company introduced testimony to show that their drivers had been cautioned repeatedly to observe all state traffic laws, while the state on the other hand introduced testimony to show that two of the company's drivers had been arrested for speeding. An accident near Shedd, Or., where one stage passenger was killed when one of the stages was run down by a train was recalled. The commission took the case under advisement.

NEW CHURCH NOW ASSURED

Highly Successful Sessions Held Sunday at Court Street Church

A big home-coming service was held Sunday at the Court Street Christian church and $35,000 in pledges and cash was received on the new building proposed for construction. George Lee Snively of Lewiston, Ill., was director of the day. At 9:30 he gave an illustrated lecture entitled "The Candle Drill," using scores and scores of various sized colored candles. At the close of this was a decision service and four additions to the church were received at that time.

Overflow Necessary

At 10:30 there was an overflow meeting at the Central Congregational church for children. Miss Grace Von Behren was in charge. Their program consisted of readings and songs, illustrated talks and an address by Superintendent L. M. Gilbert of the state training school.

The meeting for adults was held at the church and for them Mr. Snively delivered his address on the relation of the church to the school, home and state. At the close of this meeting there was a campaign for raising funds, and it was completed during the rest of the services of the day. The building is estimated at $50,000.

Luncheon Is Served

At the noon hour luncheon was served for the guests. They were seated at laden tables. At 2:30 in the afternoon the memorial services and the observance of the Lord's Supper took place. Memorial addresses were made in honor of the following: Alice Baker, J. M. Flake, P. A. Shipley, Maurice Allen, Mrs. P. A. Caspell, Mrs. M. C. Park, Mr. Belton, Mrs. W. N. Ash, Mrs. C. A. Haven, Paul Bennett, Mrs. Mary Howd, Prentiss Simpson and Mark Flake, by W. A. Bullock and E. B. Flake. Special numbers were a solo by Mr. Bruner of Silverton and an address by Mayor J. B. Glesy on "The Value of the New Church to the Community." Mrs. W. P. Babcock and Mrs. Simeral sang a duet on "One Sweetly Solenn Thought."

Epley Tells History

The address of this service was given by Dr. H. C. Epley, in which he recited the beginning and history of the church. In the evening an evangelistic meeting was held by Evangelist Snively on the higher values of life.

The new church plans were on exhibit during the day. Next Sunday they will be ratified by the congregation. The plan is to go ahead with the plans for the construction of the building in the very near future.

Some of the Big Ones

Some of the largest givers were Mary-Martha Society, (wome of the church) $5,000; H. C. Von Behren, $2,500; C. C. Armstrong, $1,250; R. L. Putnam, $1,000; W. A. Chute, $1,000; W. M. Lee, $1,000; N. A. Newhill, $1,000 and E. F. Long, $1,000. There was one $750 gift, two or three $600 gifts, and all the rest were smaller ones, making the aggregate amount.

Peach Recipes Are Given

Hot Peach Pudding. Cream two tablespoonsful of butter with half a cupful of sugar, add one beaten egg and half a cupful of milk. Beat well and blend with one and a half cupful of flour sifted with two teaspoonsful of salt. Fold in the stiffly whipped egg whites and turn into a shallow greased dish. Cover with a layer of sliced peaches, sprinkle with sugar and a bit of grated nutmeg and bake half an hour in a rather hot oven. Serve hot with an ice cream sauce, flavored with lemon juice.

Peach Souffle

Pare and press through a ricer, three peaches from which the pits have been removed. Add two and a half tablespoonsful of powdered sugar and the lightly beaten yolks of three eggs. Then fold in the stiffly whipped egg whites, to which a pinch of salt has been added, and turn into a buttered souffle dish. Bake in a quick oven about 15 minutes. Serve with thick cream.

Peach Marshmallow Ice Cream

Scald three cupfuls of rich milk and add three egg yolks beaten with one and a half cupfuls of sugar and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly. Cool, chill and add one cupful of double cream, whipped solid and a teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Turn into a chilled freezer and when the mixture begins to congeal, add half a pound of fresh marshmallows, cut in shreds, and a large cupful of sweetened peach pulp. Continue to freeze until firm and smooth.

Peach Conserve

Slice the fruit after peeling and remove the stones. Add an equal amount of sugar, as you have of the prepared fruit. Mix well and let stand covered for one hour. Then add for three quarts of the combined ingredients the grated rind and juice of two lemons and a dozen kernels taken from the stones. Cook very slowly for half an hour over a moderate heat, stirring frequently, and store when cold like jelly.

Peach Surprise

Peel one quart of peaches, cut in bits, add two cupfuls of sugar, a few drops of sweet almond extract and chill on the ice for several hours. Then add the whites of five eggs unbeaten and a quarter pint of thick double cream. Turn into a freezer and freeze slowly, using three parts ice to one of rock salt.

Spiced Peaches

Make a syrup, cooking for 10 minutes, with two pounds of brown sugar, one quart of milk vinegar and one ounce of broken stick cinnamon. Blanch one peck of freestone peaches, remove the skins and stick each fruit with four whole cloves. Cook, a few at a time, in the syrup until soft, but not broken, and transfer to hot, sterilized jars. Cook down the syrup until quite thick and fill the jars to overflow. Adjust the rubbers and hot covers and seal as for canned fruit. Divide the cinnamon equally among the jars.

Peach Marmalade

Cut the fruit in halves, remove the stones and cut in small pieces after peeling. Allow an equal amount of sugar, measuring after cutting up, mix well and let stand covered for one hour. Then add for three quarts of the combined ingredients the grated rind and juice of one lemon and a dozen kernels taken from the pits. Cook very slowly for half an hour over a moderate heat and stir frequently. Store when cold as for jelly.

So Near, and Yet So Far!

This is the feeling of disappointment that comes over the home-owner who learns after he has completed a new house of less permanent materials, that he could have built or bought his home of durable fire safe, comfortable and with enduring beauty, MILESTONE TILE and stucco, for such a moderate first cost.

But next time he builds or buys, watch him! He has yearned for the advantage, and envied other people enjoying the charm and economy of true permanence that comes from the union of MILESTONE tile and stucco.

Can you afford to make this mistake? We suggest that you change your wishing and desires into full realization of permanent satisfaction by building of MILESTONE concrete hollow tile.

As a preliminary step, let us help you with your plans and details.

What Was "Robin Hood's Barn"? NIGH on to a thousand years ago, wealthy wayfarers learned to choose some roundabout route into Nottingham, rather than the short cut that led straight through Sherwood Forest. For the forest was "Robin Hood's Barn"—and doughty Robin and his merry men were eager coin collectors. People who buy without regard to advertising nowadays journey at high cost in roundabout ways, to make their purchases where values are dubious. For the shrewd buyer of anything, in our times, sends his money to maket the straight, sure way, guided by advertising. What is not advertised may, perhaps, be worth buying. But what is advertised simply must be beyond question. He would be a foolhardy merchant, or a reckless manufacturer, who dared publicity for anything questionable. All the risk these days is in going 'round Robin Hood's barn. Buying on the strength of the advertised promise is the way to buy with least risk of disappointment and greatest certainty of satisfaction. Make use of the advertisements
