Religious Program On Large Scale Is Asked From School Board

Only three members of the Salem school board were present at the regular school meeting, Tuesday night, and because of the lack of a full board no definite action was taken on the matter of adopting a program of religious instruction such as was carried on last spring at the Garfield school, with such apparent success and neighborhood encouragement.

The Bible school program was presented by Dr. F. E. Brown, representing the Salem Council of Religious Instruction, made up of 24 evangelist protestant churches of the city. The program as outlined, which Dr. Brown and his delegation asked to have adopted, is contained in this brief of ficial statement to the board:

We recommend that the Salem School Board approve the movement for a Week Day Religious Instruction for the boys and girls of this city, as proposed by the Salem Council of Religious Education, and that we cooperate by permitting children to attend for one period a week under the following conditions:

First: That all children must present a written request from their parents to the principal of the school.

Second: That no school property or equipment of any kind may be used and that there be no expense whatever to the school board.

Third: That only high grade instructors be employed and that they shall cooperate in every way possible with the school principal, with whom they are working, and the superintendent.

Fourth: That the text material shall be such as is generally used and accepted in the Daily Bible School work.

Fifth: That the instruction must be interdenominational in character.

We respectfully urge that this request be granted and that the superintendent be authorized to work out the details together with the officers of the Salem Council of Religious Education.

The plan as proposed will call for five school units, the instruction to be given at the nearest church to the designated school. This gives the Garfield Bible school to the Woman's Building, the old Evangelical church on North Cottage; the Highland school to the Highland Friends' church; the Englewood school to the United Brethren church; the Yew Park school to the Yew Park United Brethren church; and the Lincoln school to Leslie M. E. church. The plan is to raise money by personal subscriptions, to carry on the instruction under the most capable instruction, un-denominational and uncontroversial, without using the school funds or equipment or even buildings for the purpose. The work has proved so successful elsewhere, according to all reports, and the little experiment in Salem last spring was so well received, that the proponents hope to have the larger plan adopted this fall.

The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the board, when a full membership is expected.

The board accepted the resignation of Conifred Hurd, of the physical education department, Washington junior high school; she has received a much better position in California, and will go there now that she is released here. Three other teachers were lected to fill vacancies caused by other resignations: June Burgan to teach English in the junior high school department; Ulla Dickinson and Herma Phister to teach in the grades. The former is from the Oregon University; the latter two are graduates of the Oregon State normal.

D. W. Eyre, of the United States National bank, and W. W. Walton of Ladd & Bush, were called in to advise with the board as to the best form for the bonds to be sold to care for the new high school building. The round table talk resulted in their agreeing to take up the bond sales matter by correspondence, and report to the finance committee at an early date.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ-destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

Thrice indicted by the New York County Grand Jury on charges of stealing the New York State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League declared he would "wear as a medal of honor and a service badge" his indictment, which he charges are for "political purposes," and a "Tammany conspiracy." One of the indictments charges falsification of the Anti-Saloon League books, the others allege forgery and extortion.

YMCA CAMPERS BACK AT HOME

Twenty-Seven Mile Hike Yesterday—Salem Tent Best Mountaineers

Fifty-eight YMCA boys of Marion county and their leaders returned last night from the annual camp of 14 days on Trask river. The boys, ranging from 12 to 21 years old, enjoyed the best of health during the entire two weeks and came home in fine fettle for the activities of the fall and winter.

The boys were in charge of A. E. Yount, state boys' work secretary, assisted by E. R. Boardman, physical director of the Salem YMCA, and Ed. Socolotsky, Marion county secretary. Leaders were Cecil Nist, a graduate this year of the United States military academy at West Point; Wallace Griffith, Fred Whitehouse and Merwin Wilkinson of Willamette university, and a Mr. Casey of the University of Iowa.

The boys broke camp yesterday and hiked 27 miles from Trask river to Oceanside, and then returned to Salem by truck. The 27-mile hike was without packs and was made without difficulty.

Tent No. 6, the Salem tent, was voted the best camping bunch on the outing. Individually, Ivan White was voted the best camper, Harvey Brock a close second, and Bill Sipperel third.

Sunday night a decision meeting was held and a number of the boys made the decision for a better life.

It is believed the camp next year may be on the ocean shore instead of on Trask river.

Dokkie Drill Teams Show Tricks for Portlanders

PORTLAND, Ore. Aug. 14.—Portland's downtown district was thronged tonight when the uniformed bodies of the Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorasan, here for the session of the imperial palace, paraded through the street. Garbed in multi-hued garments, drill teams, drum corps and bands were met by continuous applause along the line of march.

In the afternoon the various teams competed in drills at the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club field before 5,000 persons. Twenty-three teams entered the competition. Prize winners will be announced tomorrow.

Entertaining the Tourists

BANDON, Aug. 14.—This town has hit upon a novel plan to make the stay here pleasant for the tourists. Only recently has a good road been opened, and up to now Bandon has been off the beaten track. A local band will play every Thursday evening. The first concert was given last week Thursday and was well received.

Heat Affects Tourist Travel

MEDFORD, Aug. 14.—The week-end tourist business in this city fell down considerably, probably due to the hot weather which made traveling undesirable. At the Merrick Motor Inn had 81 cars and 300 persons Sunday night, and 69 cars and 260 persons Saturday night; while at the city auto camp there were 51 cars Sunday night and 132 persons, and 50 cars and 154 persons Saturday night.

Redwood Stump Is House Base

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—A house with a foundation six times as old as the United States of America is one of the show pieces of the little forest town of Mill Valley, northeast of here. The foundation is the stump of an immense redwood tree and the two-room structure is built upon it, in a lighthouse fashion, a dining room on the first floor and a bedroom above.

The house was built 20 years ago for P. F. Ferguson of San Francisco, along original lines. Coming from its state of preservation the foundation at least is due to last many years more.

They See Double There

HOOD RIVER, Aug. 14.—Hood River folk the other day saw a snake which, they say, possesses two heads, one in front and one on the tail end.

George T. Prather, pioneer and discoverer of the Hood River glacier, brought the serpent to town. He ran over it near his ranch. In the early days, according to Prather, peculiar snakes ranging from nine to 12 inches long, and possessing the ability to move either forward or backward, were frequently found.

Friends Call It Persecution

MARSHFIELD, Aug. 14.—Superintendent Steiner has a record as an administrator covering a period of 18 years that has several times been assailed by hostile criticism in the legislature and now by a grand jury controlled by women voters, and in each instance he has been more than vindicated.

The last probe has been of such a character that it is considered almost in the nature of a political attack upon a professional man of the highest standing. There is some quiet talk that the reaction may land Dr. Steiner in the governor's chair.

MANY BIDS COME FOR CHERRIANS

Not Much Cash Left, But Boosters Well Paid for Trip Southward

Following their recent invasion of southern Oregon, the Salem Cherrians find on balancing their books that their principal available capital is hope and $3.86 in current coins. But they brought home practically a million dollar's worth of good will and fine fellowship, as shown by their inventory of letters and personal congratulations, so they approved of the report, at their monthly dinner and business meeting last night, and voted to go on harder and faster and louder than ever.

Three invitations came to them to send copies of their constitution or bylaws or incorporation papers, or some of their expert organizers, to help their admiring new booster clubs to get organized and into the friendship game. They made the most tremendous hit of the year. The Roseburgs wanted their whole program, and the new to-be-organized Coos Bay Pirates of Marshfield and North Bend, over the signature of their provisional Captain Kidd, want them to come over to Marshfield on September 4 and help organize the Pirates. Some of the Cherrians will go, though most of the organization will go to the Linn county fair, at Albany, September 5. They will take the Cherrian band, also. Several other invitations had to be turned down because of coming too close together. One of these was from the Mt. Angel Highway-Holstein celebration committee for September 3.

The Cherrians voted publicly to thank the Cherrian band that was such an attraction on the recent southern trip. They went up to the band concert at Willson park, immediately after their business meeting, and carried their good-fellowship plan into execution in word and in cheer.

A jitney dance is planned by the entertainment committee, for the night of September 3, Labor day, to raise funds for taking the band to Albany, and for other necessary Cherrian activities.

INCOME TAX IS PAID BY LOCALS

More Than 1300 Returns Sent in By Persons Getting Mail in Salem

More than 1300 people who get their mail in Salem, have filed federal income tax returns for the current year, according to the list made public by posting on the federal building bulletin board.

This is a larger number than filed last year, when only a few more than 1200 such returns were handed in. The law requires that every single person with an income of more than $1000, and every married man with a sole or joint income of more than $2000, shall make a return. There are many proper exemptions, so that it doesn't at all necessarily follow that the citizen is to be taxed for acknowledging this much income.

It is quite evident, from an inspection of the lists, that more and more wage-workers are getting into the income class. There are so few farmers as to be almost negligible. It seems to be the general testimony of income tax collectors everywhere, that American-born workmen are very prompt and conscientious in making their returns. They find their worst troubles with foreign-born, whether in business or working for wages. There are more ways of checking up a man's income than some eligibles know about. The returns from employers from corporations that employ men or pay dividends, are all checked up, and many a man who thought he had gotten safely by finds an inspector on his back with a demand for both the tax and the penalty. Penalties are exacted for failures, for misrepresentations of any kind. There is no time, always, for a propitiation of returns, and the federal officers are ready to help a man get it right.
