

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Restaurant Changes Hands—Paul Marnach, who has operated the Argo restaurant for the last 13 months, yesterday sold it to John Loper and John Hughes. The restaurant will be closed today for some changes and will remain closed until September 1. Mr. Loper formerly ran the restaurant, selling it to Mr. Marnach. Mr. Marnach will give all of his attention to his boy yard. Mr. Hughes, one of the new owners, has until recently been running a confectionery store on North Commercial street.

Will Visit Here—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Eaton, 869 South Twelfth street, anticipate a visit from their son, Allen Eaton, during the coming season. He formerly lived in Eugene, and was a member of the state legislature for several years. While in New York he has been active in the work of the American Federation of Arts and the Russell Sage Foundations. He served for a time as field secretary of the art association.

Argo Hotel Dining Room—Will close night of August 21 for redecorating. Will reopen noon, Sept. 1, under former management. John Loper, John Hughes.—Adv.

Scott Appointed Executor—George D. Scott has been named executor of the estate of Jacob Scott, and B. E. Bower, W. H. Rabena and George H. Bell appraisers, and the will admitted to probate upon order of Judge Bushy. The estate has a probable value of $4000 in personal property. Heirs of the estate are Katy Ann Smith and H. B. Scott of Silvanon; Elsie E. Cooley and George D. Scott of Sublimity.

City and Farm Loans—Lowest rates, J. C. Seigmund.—Adv.

Three Automobiles Stolen—Thefts of three automobiles were reported to the police over the week-end. Otis Ackerman reported his car stolen from the Dreamland rink Saturday morning. This was found Monday near the cider works on North Commercial. Machines stolen Sunday belonged to Carl Fywin, 1531 Walker street, taken from Court and High, and to Graham P. Sharkey of the Standard Oil company.

Speeder Cited to Appear—E. R. Hatchman of Mehama was speeding on North Summer street Monday when arrested by Officer Edwards. He was released under $10 bail and cited to appear in police court this afternoon.

Martin Tells These—W. A. Martin, who owns the sawmill on the Jefferson highway 10 miles south of Salem, has just returned from a two weeks' outing at Newport, in company with his son and daughter. Mr. Martin is a successful sawmill man and a highly respected citizen, but he tells some pretty big fish stories that would—well, at least make many of the younger sportsmen green with envy. He went out one afternoon and dropped his net for crabs. In a short time he had landed 40 big fat ones.

He went fishing for flounders in the bay, and on his first cast, with three hooks on the line, landed a flounder, a perch, and a shiner. His son was fishing up the Siletts river and hooked a salmon trout that—but when he tried to illustrate its length, Mr. Martin found his arms too short for the job. The pole was too light to land it, so he pulled the line in by hand until he got the fish in shallow water, then jumped in after it. Contrary to most fish stories he got the fish.

Two Licenses Issued—Marriage licenses were issued Monday to Gerald W. Warner of Oregon City and Lottie Feltelson of Salem; Lewis W. Hampton Jr., and Bessie D. Foster, both of route 8.

Girls Return—Six of the girls of the Baptist Young People's union have returned from a 10-day assembly course at Columbia City. On Tuesday evening of this week at 8 o'clock the BYPU and Bible school are giving a social and entertainment when the girls will take up part of the time in telling of their experiences and will pass on to the rest of the folks some of the instruction and inspiration they received at the assembly. The whole congregation is invited and expected to be there. Refreshments will be served by the "Count On Me" class.

Children Not Guilty—A woman tourist at the Salem auto camp lost a valuable wrist watch Sunday. It was found in the women's wash room and turned over to T. G. Albert, superintendent, late Sunday evening. The owner of the watch, missing her jewelry, accused children camped near her of having taken it. She came to complain to Mr. Albert Monday morning only to have her property returned to her with the advice to look for lost things first at the office.

Wanted Moderate Volume—Bartlett Pears, Northwest Canning company, corner Trade and Liberty.—Adv.

Boy Wants Home—Who wants a boy? A 15-year-old lad, who started from Portland, stopped last night at the YMCA looking for a home where he can work and go to school. He comes from a family of eight, where there wasn't room for the children and for food and education, so he had to leave. Any one wanting to do something practical and not merely sentimental for the benefit of those who need help, might phone or call in and find a lad who would be a jewel in any home, if he had a chance.

Hawkins & Roberts—City loans; lowest rates.—Adv.

Final Accounting Approved—Final accounting of Albin N. Becker, administrator of the estate of Michael Becker, has been approved.

Rickreall Girl Being Held—Stella Holt, 14, who ran away from her home at Rickreall, was picked up about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and is being held by Mrs. Blanche Coe, police matron.

Teachers See Pictures—F. G. Bennett of the financial department of the PRL&P company recently appeared before the teachers at the Monmouth state normal to give the company's moving picture, "The Romance of a Raindrop." The film is to be used very widely over the state, in various teachers' institutes and education meetings, to acquaint

Does This Interest You?—If you are looking for a job, or if you need to employ help, use the city free employment bureau at the YMCA.—Adv.

Rose Liphart Seeks Divorce—That he struck her prior to the birth of her child and upon other occasions is alleged in a complaint filed Monday by Rose A. Liphart against Paul Liphart. On May 1 he knocked her down with his fist, she declares, and on July 25 kicked her, telling her to get her things and leave or that he would throw them into the street. He also told her, she avers, that he never wanted to see her again. The couple separated after the last incident. They were married on June 15, 1920, in Seattle. Custody of Max Paul, born in March, 1921, and $20 a month for his support, are asked.

Guardian's Bond Approved—Bond furnished by William J. Ettner, guardian of Walter E. Arthur W. and Alpha M. Herboldt has been approved by Judge Bushep.

to an inquiry by George Neuner, district attorney for Douglas county, holding that the county high school tuition fund law of 1923 does not repeal the act which provides for a county high school tuition fund for the purpose of defraying the cost of educating high school pupils residing in any county in which there is no county high school and not in any high school district. The act of 1923 is said to provide an additional method which may or may not be adopted by action of the district board in each county which does not maintain a county high school.

Files On Water—Ed Gibson of Bend has filed in the state engineering department on 192 second feet of water from Spring river to be used for domestic and irrigation purposes at Bend.

We have all the Lots—In Oaks addition belonging to the city for sale. Sociolofsky.—Adv.

No Progress Yet—Governor Pierce says that he has not yet made any progress toward reducing the cost of gasoline in Oregon. He has an attorney in Portland looking up the legal phases of the question and expects to take it up with Attorney General Van Winkle.

Mohr Succeeds Mickel—Harry J. Mohr, until recently Southern Pacific agent at Marshfield, has been transferred to Salem to take over the local agency until recently held by A. A. Mickel, who was promoted to a general agency. Mr. Mohr started railroading 15 years ago in the Marshfield office, and was also shipping agent for the steamer line out of Marshfield, with only one year of outside service in the Portland office. Mr. Mohr will bring his wife and son to Salem some time this week, and he himself is expected to take over the local office not later than Wednesday or Thursday.

Boy Loses Fingers—Earl Gentry, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gentry of Stayton, lost two fingers and thumb of his left hand yesterday when a dynamite cap exploded in his hand. He was brought to Salem. The parents were unable to determine where he obtained the cap.

Liquor Brings Stiff Sentence—Jafes Smid, St. Paul farmer, was fined $200 and sentenced to serve 60 days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace P. J. Kuntz Monday. Smid was charged with possession of intoxicating liquor. When first arrested he maintained that the liquor was only a little fermented fruit juice and decided to fight the charge. Later he changed his mind and pleaded guilty as charged.

County Receives Books—Nearly $1500 worth of books to be used in Marion county schools were being unpacked and checked yesterday by the county school superintendent. Practically all of these were of a historical or geographical nature, though a few were of the better class of fiction. All are to be used in supplemental work in the schools.

Literature Sent Out—Portland hotels are active distributing centers for Salem literature, according to the records kept by Secretary C. E. Wilson of the Salem Chamber of Commerce. He has been supplying the big hotels there with the modest but efficient literature descriptive of the Capital City, and they have been coming back again and again for more. The aggregate placed in the Portland hotels runs well up into the thousands of copies, that go always into the hands of tourists who are interested in the state. Some of them do not even come this way, but it is believed that most of them do real missionary work, and are much worth while.

PERSONAL
I. R. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Headley returned Sunday from a motor trip through the scenic parts of southern Oregon and northern California. They went through the famous redwood belt.
W. H. Ballie and wife returned

SALEM HAS PART IN POWER SHOW

Valley Motor Company Represented in Exposition in Portland

The National Power and Tractor show, under the auspices of the Ford Motor company, including the Valley Motor company of Salem, will open today at East Sixteenth and Flanders street, Portland.

The exposition will show the largest collection of industrial and agricultural machines ever exhibited on the Pacific coast.

A feature of the show will be the Fordson tractor demonstrations, showing the many different ways which this machine can be utilized on the farm and in the industrial field. A 1903 Ford touring car will be on display.

Many Salem people are planning on attending this show during the week.

Arrangements can be made with the Valley Motor company should any desire to take in this show.

Portland Attorney Makes Plea for Doomed Convict

Milo C. King, Portland attorney, has interested himself in the case of Dan Casey, who is slated to be hanged at the state penitentiary next Friday, and conferred at length with Governor Pierce yesterday, arguing for a commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment.

Judge Kavanaugh has written the governor, urging that the sentence be commuted, and the governor said yesterday that he has been informed the members of the jury who convicted Casey will come with a plea that the sentence be changed from death to life imprisonment. Casey was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of J. H. Phillips, Southern Pacific police officer, in Portland.
