

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Returns From Institutes—
Rev. C. A. Edwards of Salem has returned from a tour of the Epworth League Institutes of the state. There were three of these institutes, at Falls City, at Cottage Grove and at Suttle Lake. More than 550 Epworth leaguers were registered at the three sessions. The largest was the one at Falls City, where almost 500 Salem young people attended. The next largest was at Suttle Lake, 40 miles west of Bend, with over 200 attending. This place Rev. Mr. Edwards describes as one of the most beautiful bits of nature that there is anywhere in the west, with everything that can make a camping place desirable.

Cost of Flowers Immense—
In prowling around in his latest florist trade journals, C. F. Brelthaupt found the interesting information that the flowers sent for the President Harding funeral services are estimated to have cost more than $500,000. Many of these came from San Francisco where two full carloads of the most expensive floral pieces were put aboard the funeral train. This is said to be the most elaborate floral tribute ever paid any American.

Returns From England—
Arthur Plant and family have returned from their extended visit to the old Plant home in England. They tramped over the hills of Derbyshire, revelled in the wonderful green grass of Old England, and visited many of the places where Mr. Plant worked as a boy in landscape gardening, and they climbed the stone walls that he helped lay the year he finished school in "the old country." They returned by way of the Canadian Pacific, making a day's visit at Vancouver. "That's a fine place, and British Columbia is everywhere good—but I'll take Salem and Oregon every time, in mine," is the Plant verdict, after seeing them all and getting back home to Salem. Mr. Plant made this trip to England partly to see the old family home, but also to study landscape gardening, as it has been developed for 1,000 years in England, the home of landscaping.

De-funct Bank Makes Answer—
In its answer to the American Surety company of New York, the First Bank of Hay City, formerly the First Bank & Trust company, declares that it was organized on April 8, 1911, and was doing business at Tillamook. That when the state superintendent of banks took possession of its assets and affairs there was more than sufficient to pay the expenses of liquidation and to pay back a state deposit of $4000 in addition to all other preferred claims. If the plaintiff did not receive its full share it was its own fault, the answer states, for a general dividend of 10 per cent was declared upon all general claims and that this was accepted by the plaintiff. If this claim was not placed on the preferred list, it was through the negligence of the plaintiff, the defendant says. It is asked that the plaintiff take nothing and that the defendant recover the costs of the case.

October 1 will be the date for hearing of objections to the final accounting of Emma M. Welter, administratrix of the estate of Nicholas Welter, according to a decision by Judge Bushey.

Discussing Religious Day School
Whenever a man wants to do something that is doubtful he at once begins talking about "injecting the religious" idea. It has already commenced in the religious day school agitation. Of course no one thinks for a moment that there is any religious prejudice or even religious advantage in the idea. It shows how little the opposition has to stand upon. The religious day school is purely a proposition of whether or not the children shall have the Bible taught to them. There is not a church in the world that does not teach the Bible and they welcome help, and in the one proposed here there is not the slightest desire anywhere to inject any creed or any favorite interpretation. If ever there was a proposition open and above board that will appeal to all Christian people, this is one. Of course if the idea is to keep the Bible away from the children then this teaching is very

Facts About Your Eyes

IT IS A PROVEN FACT that a tremendous amount of nerve energy is lost by eyestrain which could be stopped immediately by wearing properly fitted glasses.

When eyestrain is relieved or removed entirely other organs of the body are greatly benefited.

For a pair of glasses to be satisfactory they must be ground from an accurate formula. For a formula to be correct it must be based upon a thorough scientific examination of your eyes.

Don't wait until strain compels you to look after your eyes. Give your eyes the aid and ease they demand before injury develops.

No one ever acquired a practical knowledge in a few months. I have been a busy man in my practice for over a third of a century and guarantee you satisfaction in every respect.

You do not pay one cent more than you would pay elsewhere, and I give you the best of service as well as the best of materials.
