Jury Falls to Indict—
F. E. Ramsey, Pickwick stage driver, held on a charge of manslaughter following the death of three passengers near Shedd last month, was released at Albany when the grand jury returned a not true bill to Judge George G. Bingham, who is sitting in the Linn county circuit court while Judge Percy R. Kelly is absent from the state. Ramsey had been held under bonds. These have also been released.

Building Permits Many—
Building permits for August averaged a shade better than one a day, 33 having been issued by City Recorder Poulson during the month, representing a building valuation of $109,200. A few thousands of dollars of this amount is represented by repair and alteration work, though the greater portion is for new buildings. The total was swollen by the erection of the Adolph & Waters building and the addition to the Oregon Pulp & Paper company, both at expenditures of $15,000. Carl Bahrburg, Salem contractor, obtained the last permit for August for the erection of a one-story dwelling at 2095 West Nob Hill, at a cost of $2500. This was included in the figures for the month.

Owing to a Mistake—
In printing we have no ranges in our stock. Doughton & Marcus.—Adv.

Two Accidents Fatal—
Two fatal accidents out of a total of 791 industrial casualties were reported to the state industrial accident commission for the week ending August 30. The fatalities were N. F. Whitecotton, a carpenter of Hood River, and James McGee, a lineman of Cottage Grove.

Detour Eliminated—
The state highway commission announces that the detour between Eugene and Goshen on the Pacific highway has been eliminated. Paving operations are still in progress and traffic will be subject to short delays while hot stuff is being dumped and rolled.

Autos Hit on Road—
An automobile driven by George Stanley of Turner ran into another driven by F. A. Dutton of Salem Thursday, at the corner east of Salem where the paved market road turns south toward Turner. The steering mechanism of the Dutton car was broken. It is said that Stanley acknowledged responsibility for the accident and offered to pay the damages. In the mix-up the automobile of J. W. DeSouza of the state highway department was highly hit by both the other cars but was not damaged.

Black Silk Sale—

Larmer Buys Church Property—
Razing of the Unitarian church, partially destroyed by fire several months ago, will begin within the next month. D. A. Larmer having recently purchased the building. As soon as the debris is removed work on the new structure will begin, the plans having been approved by the church headquarters in the east and are now on the way to Salem. Bids will be asked for the construction of the new building, money for which has been raised and placed in the bank. During the interim services will be held in the old Evangelical church, which was recently acquired by the Woman's club. In addition to the church will be the adjoining property, a bungalow at 687 Chemeketa street, which has been purchased for a parsonage. The church now owns that portion of Chemeketa street property between Cottage street to the alleyway.

Pears Are Scarce—
Pears are scarce in the Salem district, according to the Oregon Growers, who state they will assist any grower in finding a market for his fruit, as the company has all that it can handle. Markets in general are assuming a healthier tone and fruit will be selling better in a short time, it is reported.

Fereshetan Going East—
Rev. Martin Fereshetan, minister of Unity church, will leave early next week for New Haven, Conn., to attend the 30th biennial conference of the Unitarian and other liberal Christian churches, as a guest of Yale university. He expects to be absent from the city for about three weeks, and will visit former parishes and friends in Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Chicago, Colorado Springs and Salt Lake City, having assisted at the organization of the latter's church. Among the prominent speakers at the conference will be Chief Justice Taft, Dean Brown of the Yale Divinity college; Dr. Richard Cabot; Dr. W. H. Drummond of England; Dr. S. A. Elliott, president of the American Unitarian association. The last named speaker assisted in obtaining a new dormitory for the Chemawa Indian school.

Arrested for Polluting Well—
Ralph Wells was arrested yesterday afternoon upon a complaint filed in the justice court in February, charging him with polluting the water in a well. The polluting is said to have been done September 1, 1922, when Wells dumped some refuse, said to have been manure, in the well. Wells denies this, saying the water was not fit for consumption when he rented the place. He declares that when a quantity of manure was found on the place last year and made unfit for further use, he buried this in an orchard, and that the only water near was a little wash water he had used in cleaning the corn. Wells entered a plea of not guilty and was released upon promise of his attorney to have him in the justice court at 10 o'clock September 12.
