September 1, 1923.

To the Editor of the Oregon Statesman:

During the western trip Mrs. Harding had intended upon the return to Washington to write a word of appreciation for President Harding and herself to all those who had extended courtesies to them. As since her great bereavement she has found it impossible to do this herself, she asks me to tell you how much President Harding and she enjoyed the attractive edition of your paper that you so kindly sent to their train in Salem.

Sincerely yours,
LAURA HARLAN,
Secretary.

The Editor,
Oregon Statesman,

ENCHANTMENT
I have known one enchanted day—
A blue gold day I threw away—
As dawn I went down to the sea,
And stretched myself out lazily
Upon the sands and watched the sky,
As silver sails go drifting by,
The whole, sea-scented, long day
through,
Not one thing useful did I do;
Not one thought I can recall—
I was just glad, and that was all,
Blue sky, blue sea, gold sands,
gold air,
Sails outboard for anywhere
Scept through me with rhythmic sweep
Of music magical as sleep.
Like a caress, sheer joy's sincer
spell
Soft on me soft as blue dusk fall—
—Ethel Arnold Tilden.

Honoring Miss Maye Bolin, Mrs. Carey Martin and Mrs. Ivan Martin entertained Friday afternoon friends of the bride-elect. The afternoon was spent in sewing and visiting, and the guests were delightfully entertained by Miss Maxine Myers and Miss Frances Martin who gave a Norwegian dance together. Later Miss Maxine danced a butterfly dance, and Miss Frances sang several songs accompanied by Miss Virginia Simpson.

colofsky, Mrs. Ray Smith, Lina Heist, Irene Curtis, Mary Findley, Edna Gilbert, Ada Ross, Lucille Ross, Mrs. Merle Rosecrans, Mrs. LaMoine Clarke, Ola Clarke, Mary Eyre, Winifred Eyre, Mrs. Paul Morse, Lella Johnson, Teresa Fowle, Mary Chadwick, Mrs. Armin Berger, Sarah Lansing, Mrs. Carl Beyrol, Mrs. Carl Henline, Mrs. Walter Kirk.

The date of the marriage of Miss Mildred Imah to Mr. Cecil Angle, was announced at a pretty luncheon given yesterday afternoon for the bride-elect at which Mrs. Walter Kirk and Miss Florence Howe were hostesses. Miss Imah will leave Salem Tuesday for Pittsburgh, where the wedding will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crim.

Miss Imah is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Imah of Polk county and was a former student at OAC where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta. Mr. Angle is an OAC graduate and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He is at the present time an engineer in a boiler and iron works in Pittsburgh.

The luncheon table was very attractive in its dainty appointments with decorations of pink and lavender asters in the mellow candle light. Covers were laid for Mrs. Orris Fry, Gladys Curry, Marion Miller, Mrs. James Imah, Mrs. W. I. Staley, Florence Howe and Mrs. Walter Kirk.

lately following the ceremony the young couple left for a short trip to the beaches, after which they will come to Salem to reside in the Keyes apartments.

Mrs. Hall is a graduate of Oregon Agricultural college and Mr. Hall was a student there for two years, taking special work in the department of commerce. Mr. Hall is now with the state engineers here. He is planning on entering the Willamette law school this fall.

Mr. L. J. Post announces the marriage of his daughter, Leona, to Mr. Raymond Oden, Saturday, September 8, at 8 o'clock p. m.

From the Stayton Mail comes the announcement of the marriage of Miss Nina Darby and Mr. Charley Peters in Albany at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, Sept. 5.

The flower contests were concluded for the summer Thursday when the Florist society awarded prizes for the best zinnias and asters grown in Salem. The first prize for asters went to Miss Elizabeth Lord, 796 South High street, and the second prize to Mrs. Alvero Hussey, 685 South Church.

The judges found it very hard to decide to whom the prize for zinnias should go, because of the large numbers of superb varieties that were entered. However, Mrs. B. B. Herrick received the first prizes and Mrs. Peter Luthy, 1497 South Thirteenth street, was awarded the second. F. G. Deckebach received first honorable mention with his display of zinnias, which are said to be the largest ever grown in Salem.

The five-dollar awards were given by the Realtors' association, the Salem Woman's club and by D. A. White. The three-dollar prizes were donated by E. T. Adams, C. F. Brethaupt and J. W. Maruny.

Judges for the contests were Mrs. W. C. Hawley of Washington, D. C., Mrs. E. T. Hopkins of Albany, and Mrs. E. C. Simmons of Portland.

Miss Marie Churchill is a weekend visitor at the J. A. Churchill home. Miss Churchill is teaching in Portland.

Mrs. George Mack of Los Angeles is visiting with her mother, Mrs. M. Chapman.

Miss Ella Moody left this week for Cedar Rapids where she will visit for the next two months with her sister, Mrs. W. C. Hall.

Miss Mabel Creighton, Mrs. Al Jones and Creighton Jones will leave tomorrow for Joseph where they expect to remain for the next two weeks.

Miss Frances M. Richards and Miss Helen Pearce will return this week from their visit in the east, following a three month European trip.

Miss Richards and Miss Pearce left early in June, just before the close of Willamette university. They have visited since August 28 in New York and other eastern points.

Miss Richards will make plans following her arrival for the opening of Lausanne hall and for the opening of the university where she is dean of women. Mrs. Alice

H. Dodd, also of the faculty, was in charge at Lausanne following the departure of Miss Richards in June. Miss Pearce is a teacher of English at the university.

The evening services at the First Presbyterian church tonight will be preceded by 20 minutes of special music by the quartet, assisted by Miss Marion Emmons on the violin, and Miss Lucile Ross at the organ. This is to be the farewell musical service offered by Mrs. Ada Miller Harris, choir director at the church for the past five years, and Miss Lucile Ross who has been the church organist for three years. Mrs. Harris is to direct the Episcopal choir this winter, and Miss Ross is leaving soon for Chicago where she will study organ.

Singing on the quartet are contralto, Mrs. Marie Rosecrans; soprano, Mrs. Ada Miller Harris; tenor, Mr. H. B. Glaisyer; bass, Mr. Willard Bartlett.

The following program will be offered:

- Prelude (organ)

CLUB NOTES

That a general house warming in the new club room with a covered dish luncheon will take the place of the annual club luncheon, scheduled for October 6, in the new club year-book, was the issue definitely decided upon at the meeting yesterday which opened the calendar year for the Salem Woman's club.

The president of the county federation, Mrs. H. M. Simms of Silverton, will be guest of honor for the occasion, and the invited guests will include members of the Ektokta club, the Salem Business and Professional Woman's club, and the Salem Heights club. Being president's day for the club it was hoped that Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, president of the state federation, would be present, but she has sent her regrets.

During the afternoon Mrs. Phil Newmeyer sang "The Four Leaf Clover," Mrs. Harry M. Styles sang "My Task," and "America, the Beautiful" was sung enthusiastically, all as possible club songs. The decision was waived until the next business meeting.

The afternoon was largely devoted to reports of the house and building committees, and discussion of business relative to the purchasing of chairs, dishes and other equipment for the new building.

Mrs. Homer Gouley was appointed social chairman for the housewarming, and Mrs. Karl Becke chairman for the decorations.

The War Mothers continue their work for the boys who fought in the late war and the families and mothers of those who never returned. As a memorial to these boys and the all that they have given, the mothers have endowed four beds in the Salem hospital to be used by the soldiers of the late war and their families in case of sickness. In order to finance this project the War Mothers are making plans to open a rummage store. After the fall housecleaning there is always a goodly supply of old garments, rags, pieces of furniture and other used things which usually go up in smoke. It is hoped that the housewives of Salem will remember the rummage sale which will be announced later.

Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, of the Salem chapter of War Mothers, will represent the state at the national convention which meets in Kansas City September 29 to October 25. Mrs. Mark Skiff will represent the Salem chapter. Both women are expecting to leave Salem September 15.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held the first meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. T. Rigdon on North Winter street. Mrs. A. A. Underhill gave a talk on the microscope and telescope work of the WMS, and Mrs. LaMoine Clark, principal of the McKinley school, gave an interesting talk on the child at home, which was followed by a general discussion of the proper care and training of children.

The women are filling the Christmas box which is to be sent to the Jessie Lee home, the Methodist school home for Indian children at Unalaska, Alaska. The box has to be shipped on the 20th of this month in order to have it reach the home by Christmas. Anything in the line of heavier clothing, underwear, materials, thread, safety razors, toys, games, books, writing paper, tablets, pencils, and house furnishings such as towels and colored table linen, is especially desired.

At the next meeting of the society the women will begin the study of their new book, "The Child and America's Future," by James S. Stewart.

Members of the Modern Writers' club, with their husbands met Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock on Fairmount hill for a picnic and social evening. Later they adjourned to the home of Mrs. John Clifford where a most profitable and interesting two hours were spent in reading and criticism of poems written by various members.

Mrs. Ross read some of the poems from her book which is soon to be published by the McMillan company. Due to the serious automobile accident Miss Ima Harding has been unable to do much work on her opera, but she hopes to have the manuscript in the hands of the publisher in the near future.

The next meeting of the club will be September 18, at the home of Mrs. Blanche Jones, 606 South Church street.

The members of the Monday Night Dancing club will meet together for the first social dance of the season tomorrow evening and thereafter on every second Monday of the month when it is convenient. Paul B. Johnson is president of the club, Leo Page is secretary, and Linn Smith treasurer. The membership of the organization is limited to 50 couples. The dances will be given in Elite hall this year, according to custom.

The general discussion and outlining of plans for the coming year will be the chief issue of the first meeting of the Ektokta club, which will take place Tuesday, October 9.

The alumnae association of Alpha Chi Omega met Thursday evening for a business meeting and social hour at the home of Mrs. C. T. Pope. Officers were elected to head the association for the coming year, as follows: Mrs. Lewis Griffith, president; Miss Louise Williamson, vice president; Mrs. Carl Pope, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Frank Rosebraugh, editor. Three members have affiliated with the group since last winter. Mrs. Claude Steusloff, Louise Williamson and Mrs. Frank Rosebraugh. The other members are Dorothea Steusloff, Mrs. G. F. Chambers, Mrs. Lewis Griffith, Mrs. Monroe Gilbert, Mrs. Martin Forehan, Grace Holt and Mrs. Pope.

AB chapter of PEO will resume its work for the coming year tomorrow evening at the first fall meeting at the home of Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. Sadie Orr-Dunbar has been elected president of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, succeeding Mrs. Ida B. Callahan who has completed two terms, or four years, as executive. Mrs. Dunbar was elected at Medford after a spirited campaign. Mrs. Dunbar's opponent, Mrs. Collins Elkins, immediately pledged her loyalty and support and "peace reigns in Oregon."

Both women were of excellent qualifications, club leaders report. Mrs. Dunbar is executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis society and has had a large amount of experience in federation work. She is regarded as one of the leading social workers of the western states. Other officers of the Oregon clubs recently elected are: First Vice President, Miss Grace Chamberlain; second vice president, Mrs. L. E. Bean; treasurer, Mrs. G. J. Frankel; secretary, Mrs. William Pollock; auditor, Mrs. J. M. Albert; directors, Mrs. William Bell and Mrs. George Cochran—General Federation News.

The tri-state conference of Business and Professional Women's clubs is in session in Seattle this week-end.

The Daughters of Veterans will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the armory. This is to be the first business meeting of the new club season.

Chadwick chapter of Eastern Star will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Masonic lodge. This will be the regular monthly afternoon social hour.

The committee in charge of the afternoon are Mrs. W. W. Moore, Mrs. J. E. Crawford, Mrs. F. E. Looser, Mrs. E. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Carl Pope, Mrs. I. M. Douglass and Mrs. K. S. Krapps.

According to the new calendar recently issued by Chapter AB, of PEO, the first meeting of the year will take place tomorrow. Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith will be hostess to the sisterhood and the program submitted will be "Vacation Echoes."

Mrs. J. B. Miles was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon Wednesday at which she entertained members of G chapter of PEO. Mrs. Grant Churchill, a recent bride, was guest of honor. She was presented with a beautiful silver cheese and cracker service as a token of esteem from the chapter. Mrs. Walter Smith was a special guest of the afternoon. Out of town visitors for the occasion were Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Seliger, both of chapter L in Sigourney, Iowa, both of whom are on their way to the meeting of the supreme chapter of PEO at Seattle, and Mrs. Farr of chapter AH, in Peoria, Ill.

The luncheon is an annual affair celebrating the anniversary of the founding of chapter G of PEO.

PERSONALS

Dr. U. S. Crowder will preach both morning and evening at the Methodist church in Turner today.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. McDaniel and daughter Hazel of Oakland, California, Miss Lola McDaniel of Washington, D. C., and H. M. McDaniel of Portland were guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gagnon while on their way to their home in California. The McDaniels left California April 1 for a motor trip through the eastern states, and in Washington, D. C., they visited with Mr. McDaniel's sisters, Edna and Lola McDaniels. Lola accompanied the party on their trip home. In Portland H. M. McDaniel joined the party which left the first of the week for California.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Steusloff left Wednesday for New York to be gone for about six weeks. While in the east they will visit at Mr. Steusloff's old home in Buffalo, and Mr. Steusloff will also attend the Institute of American Meat Packers, which meets in Atlantic City the latter part of this month. Mr. C. M. Lee, a foreman at the Valley Packing plant, will occupy the residence on North Commercial during the absence of the owners.

Evelina Shopping Goes

IT IS ALWAYS a matter of interest what reaction a newcomer gets from the stores and shops in Salem. The past week Evelina, being a newcomer, revelled in the large display of the Salem merchants and was so thrilled with the courtesy everywhere shown her that she has recorded her impressions for publication. She was so delighted that she has asked the privilege of visiting the stores regularly each week and publishing her impressions in the Sunday Oregon Statesman. The first installment is given today:

TO every woman September brings the knowledge that plans for the winter wardrobe must be started. For the coming season, Paris has decreed that the most extreme simplicity of cut and line is essential to success. There can be no help from trimming—no camouflage. The fabric is destined to show itself boldly, and stand or fall by its own merits. All of which means more and better gowns for the clever woman who makes her own. MILLER'S are showing a full line of newest patterns in Malleson's silks, one of which is chinchilla satin in the new mode gray. Sounds delicious, doesn't it? It is a woven silk with a pebbled satin face, of just the light weight to hang well.

Jenny sponsors Autumn frocks ornamented with groups of ribbon in Italian stripes used for borders, edges, girdles and skirt adornment.

The woody shades of brown have been translated into stylish footwear for fall. After and bungee for carry fall, and fawns to champagne for later in the season.

IN AUTUMN days the summer drapes are put to rest, for a freshened house gives a righteous start to the winter season. Once more that question, "What shall it be?" The drapery department, Mr. Brock, at the H. L. STIFF Furniture store will help you plan your windows for every room in your home. They are now offering daintily ruffled grenadines, with valences trimmed in colored organizes and pongees for the bedroom. The hand-blocked linens, applied on homespun are stunning for the living rooms, and friar's cloth is just the thing for the sun room or the bungalow. They are also showing a large variety of damasks and velours. Custom made draperies are a specialty of this department.

The so-called three-piece suit holds a firm place in the front line of fashion. Red, green, blue, gray, brown and black are the popular colors for street wear.

THE chic new apron collar, the diagonal flounce, and panels, the modish two and three-piece dress skirts, and the sheer silks, all explain why pleating is indispensable this season. You will be glad to know the SALEM WHITE HEMSTITCHING SHOP is doing a wide variety of pleatings on their recently installed presses.

Silk frantically pushes ahead for Autumn, and women will continue to wear it during the weather for which fur was invented.

A large ribbon bow just at the knee is rather extreme, but it gives a decided French air.

WHAT can more subtly influence a woman's personality and appearance than her hat? This is to be a season for hats. The right hat for the right type for the right gown for the right occasion. And Paris has presented us with many temptations to abandon the cloche. High crowned hats are to be worn. THE FRENCH SHOP is showing the newest models in leather trimmed felt, duvetyns, with burnt-goose or softer ostrich feathers as well as the new draped turbans in velvets. Here, too, will be found the smartest afternoon and evening hats in the favored fabrics of charmeuse, crepes, charmees, satins, crepe moire, and the jacquard fire crepes, as well as the new wool fabrics in the clever wrap-around and three-piece models.

The marked feature on all coats is the double effect.

SEE those dust particles floating in that ray of sunlight! If you clean the BeeVac way the dust will all be drawn into the cleaner, and not be thrown back into the room to lodge upon the furniture to add to your work. The BeeVac is a new priced electric cleaner that does all a vacuum cleaner can do. It cleans everything from draperies to heavy clothing and auto upholstery. Among its merits are the "Ball and socket handle," direct-to-fan hose connection, and the ideal double brush arrangement. It is exceptionally light and easily manipulated. THE RAY L. FARMER CO. will be glad to demonstrate this cleaner in your home.

Slavic designs steeped in color are printed on wool silk crepe.

East Indian patterns flicker through the thin silks.

WHERE is the home that offers no space for music? From the simplest to the most formal home—the Duo-Art reproducing piano takes a place no other musical instrument can fill. Such artists as Paderewski, Hoffman and Winifred Byrd, the girl who put Salem on the musical map, are playing for the Duo-Art. This is Winifred Byrd week at the MOORE'S MUSIC HOUSE. Don't forget to stop and hear Miss Byrd's new rolls reproduced on the Duo-Art. (Representing Sherman Clay & Co.)

INTERESTED in vanities? F. E. SHAFER, for 35 years in the leather goods business, will show you his line of vanity cases and bags. There's a genuine leather vanity in a grained patent finish, and inside—surprise! Below the plate mirror, a tiny flash light which throws the light on the question of how and where to apply what's in the powder, rouge and lipstick cases. There's a comb for the bob, and a coin purse. 170 S. Com! St.

It is a wise housekeeper who uses forethought by anticipating those essentials necessary to the comfort of the household during the approaching season. The twangs of the first chill wind will set us all to thinking of those blankets—wooly blankets soft as down, and oh, so warm! You will find just what you want among BISHOP'S complete stock of pure virgin wool double blankets, any size and quality, made in their own mills at Pendleton. Aside from their paramount virtue of superior quality plus economy, there is that strong appeal, "made in Oregon."

Do you eat to live, or live to eat? What ever your answer, you will admit that dainty table service adds to the attractiveness of the meal. The bride of the past season will be especially interested in Hamilton's display of dishes. They are offering designs in American ware and imported china. One, a 15-piece set of imported china, is especially good looking with its neat border of plain gold. It is reasonably priced.
