QUAKE STORY DETAILS TOLD BY REFUGEES

British Subject Tells of Death of French Consul
General—Saw Wife of George Komor Burn

BURSTING OF MAINS SAVE MANY IN PARK

Long Search for Wife Rewarded As She Comes to Rescue Ship

KOBE, Sept. 10.—(By Associated Press.)—Marshal Martin, a British refugee from Yokohama, describes as follows the death of M. De Jardin, the French consul general there:

"I was in the consulate with him together with M. Bickart, a French attorney. The first shock threw Bickart and me into the compound where the air seemed filled with yellow acid dust which made breathing difficult. "The sound of crashing buildings was like the roar of a typhoon. Again and again we were thrown to the ground. When we finally recovered ourselves we rushed back into the building to find that the consul had been crushed under the heavy timbers. Injuries Fatal.

"During our frantic efforts to rescue him other shocks flung us aside. We finally managed to extricate M. De Jardin but he was fatally injured and died while I was searching for medical help. I put the body on a stretcher and hurried to my own home. "The fire was spreading, necessitating a long detour. When I arrived it was to find the house lying on its side. As I was considering whether to attempt to save any valuables three nearby dwellings burst into flames. I ran toward the British consulate but found it encircled by flames. I then took refuge in the naval hospital compound, but this soon became untenable.

"The road from the summit of the bluff was crowded with Japanese, some of whom frantically hustled their children over the cliff, following themselves with such recklessness that they were often crushed at the bottom. "When I reached the seashore the dead and injured were all along the foot of the bluff. It was ghastly.

Swim to Launches. "Many of the Japanese swim to launches and other small water craft. I finally managed to get a small boat and went toward the beach.

George Firth of Samuel Samuel and Company, Ltd., of Yokohama, who was ill in his home beyond the bluff, said that one minute the city was intact and that the next it was dissolved before the eyes of observers. "Fissures opened in the earth," he said, "and it seemed as if the whole foreign district on the bluff above would come sliding down on us."

Scarcely Beautiful. "On Sunday morning," he continued, "there was a beautiful sunrise and the flames of the burning city seemed to be subdued, but they suddenly started afresh and within an hour the air was full of flames and smoke again."

Louis Jelderks, an agent for Swiss watch manufacturers, one of the refugees from Yokohama, gave a graphic description of his escape upon his arrival here. "As the heat from the fire mounted," he said, "great crowds rushed into the sea. Thousands were in the water, some swimming to various boats, some lying at the edge and some in up to their necks with their hands over their faces as protection from the heat of the burning city. Covering my face with my coat, I finally came out of the water and continued to search for my wife.

OCTOBER 25, DATE SET TO CELEBRATE HIGHWAY'S OPENING

Governor Pierce to Remove Barrier of British and American Flags—Caravan Leaves
Olympia Preceding Day—Portland Chamber of Commerce to Give Dinner.

On October 25 will take place in Salem Oregon's official part in the opening of the Pacific highway through to Vancouver, B. C. The British Columbia part of the highway is now completed, and with the opening of the stretch in Washington between Toledo and Kalama next month there will be a paved highway all the way from the northern California line to Vancouver, B. C., and only a short unpaved stretch in northern California will remain between Vancouver and Tia Juana.

The celebration will start at Olympia October 24, when Governor Hart will remove a barrier of American and British flags. A Caravan of automobiles will then come down the highway to Portland and the celebrants will that night be given a dinner by the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

On October 25 the caravan will come on to Salem where Governor Pierce will remove another barrier of flags. There probably will be other features arranged here for the celebration.

WATCHFUL WAITING RULES IN LEAGUE

Attitude Deduced From Telegram Sent to Ambassadors' Council

GENEVA, Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Watchful waiting, for the moment at least, was considered tonight to be the policy of the council of the league of nations regarding the Graco-Italian conflict. This was deduced from the publication of a telegram which Viscount Ishii, president of the council, sent to the council of ambassadors, saying that the council of the league shared with the ambassadors anxiety to see the dispute settled as soon as possible.

The message voiced the council's happiness that the documents forwarded by it to the Paris body were useful and asked to be kept informed on any results of the decision taken and any discussions which might still take place.

SEA LIONS FOUGHT WITH BOAT HOOKS

Survivors of Cuba Picked Up
After 20 Hours in Open Boat

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Twelve members of the crew and one passenger of the wrecked Pacific Mail liner Cuba, arrived here today on the Standard Oil Tanker W. S. Miller after having been tossed about for more than 20 hours in an open boat which was threatened a number of times by sea lions. It was necessary to fight the sea lions off with boat-hooks in order to keep them from upsetting the boat, the survivors said.

ECLIPSE FAILURE FOR SCIENTISTS

Fog Obscures View Where Phenomenon Was to Have Been Visible

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—Scientific observation of today's eclipse of the sun generally failed, according to reports received here except possibly in the case of naval aviators who flew above the clouds and fog at San Diego and took photographs of the phenomenon.

Clouds of fog obscured the view at the time of totality at all points from Santa Barbara to Escondido, Mexico, where scientists had made preparations to study eclipses. These points included Avalon, on Santa Catalina island, San Clemente island, San Diego, Mount Wilson and Point Loma. Scientists who came from all parts of the world and who had worked months on their plans, took their defeat gracefully.

DESTROYERS LOST SEVERE BLOW TO NAVY

Barest Official Explanation for Loss of Seven First Class Destroyers Is Yet
Lacking

MAY HAVE MISTAKEN ORDERS SENT CUBA

Washington Issues Unofficial List of Missing Men
With Relatives

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Lacking even the barest official explanation of the loss of seven first class destroyers on the California coast, naval officials tonight continued to withhold judgment on what they termed the most severe peace-time blow the navy had ever sustained. Although regulations prescribe that every effort be made to forward immediately names of dead and injured in such cases, no such list had been received at the department up to a late hour tonight. The initial dispatch from Admiral Robinson, commanding the Pacific fleet, informed the department that specific orders had been issued for the preparation and relay of this list, the duty being assigned to Captain Edward H. Watson, commanding the wrecked squadron.

Theory advanced in press dispatches that radio operators on the destroyers were thrown off their reckoning by shore signals intended for the Reno was declared by officers in the department to be doubtful. Leaving out of all consideration, they said, the material difference in location of the stranded mail steamer and the destroyer group, "position signals" invariably are addressed specifically to the ship which had requested them. This was held to render it improbable that all of the operators on the naval vessels could have taken the signals as bearing upon their own course and to have acted in concert although one might have done so.

Names Given. The navy department tonight compiled from press dispatches a list of "probable" missing in the disaster, with their next of kin. It was made plain that the list was unofficial, only one death having been reported officially to the department, that of James Wheaton Harvey Conway, son of James J. Conway of Omaha. Twenty-two names appear in the list, which, with next of kin and their addresses, include: Buchanan, Ralph Kenneth, wife, Marie J. Buchanan, Sonoma, Cal. Harrison, Ernest Carl, wife, Elizabeth C. Harrison, Fort Neches, Tex. Morris, Wade Hampton, mother, Alice Morris, Bluffdale, Tex. Overshiner, Gordon Jerome, mother, Ross Overshiner, Route No. 1, San Jose, Cal. Reddock, Clitus Allen, wife, Emaline E. Reddock, 4723 Newport avenue, Ocean Beach, Cal. SANTA ROSA, Cal., Sept. 10.—The "Buchan" listed among the missing in the destroyers disaster, is believed to be Ralph Buchan, 28, chief pharmacist's mate on the Young and a resident of Sonoma, near here. His wife and infant child are in San Diego.

PINCHOT SEEKING LOW COAL PRICES

Calls Upon Coal Consuming
States to Cooperate
With Him

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Speaking as the chief executive of the only anthracite producing state, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania today called upon the governors of 30 other consuming states to join him in seeking methods of safeguarding coal users against higher prices during the coming winter.

In a letter to the governors, in which he told them he is directing an investigation in his own state of "means or methods of any and every kind which could be used to prevent gouging of the consumer," he suggested similar studies in each other state, looking towards personal conference concerning joint action later.

MAN AND WOMAN ARE HELD GUILTY

J. W. South and Mrs. Cooper to Appear for Sentence
This Morning

J. W. South and Mrs. Edna Cooper were found guilty of possession of liquor last night and will receive their sentence in the justice court at 10 o'clock this morning. The pair were acquitted last week of a charge of transportation of liquor.

Neither South nor Mrs. Cooper had anything to say when they heard the verdict of the jury. The case was begun at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon but was not concluded until after 9 o'clock last night. The evidence offered was the same as that of the previous trial. Officers Olson and Shelton testified to seeing them leave the garage with a bag, enter a restaurant and then return to the garage, driving a machine. The two men followed in another car, hoping to catch them in making a delivery of liquor. When they saw the two people were about to leave their jurisdiction, they attempted to place them under arrest. Under the statutes a city officer may make an arrest outside the city limits or in another county provided he has been in continuous pursuit. Members of the jury which found South and Mrs. Cooper guilty were George Arbuckle, W. F. Prime, I. R. Smith, Roy Nelson and A. T. Woolpert.

cept Stew and Chop Suey
Says Oriental Cook

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—It will be corned beef and cabbage, boarding house hash and boiled potatoes for the Prince of Wales when he places his feet under the chow table of "Edward Prince" ranch near High river, Alberta, next Saturday. At the ranch is one Japanese cook, Jimmie Shimbasu who learned the culinary art by opening cans for the Canadian army in France. "Me no cook fancy foods," Jimmie told newspapermen today, "excepting Irish beef stew and Chinese chop suey." Bobbed haired individuals who hope to be added to the list of the prince's dancing partners may as well save themselves the long hike to High river, the manager of the ranch, W. E. Carille, announced today. The prince, he explained, is coming to Canada to rest and consequently he will be thankful for all the privacy that is accorded him. The prince is scheduled to reach Quebec on the Empress of France next Wednesday.

SPIRIT OF SACRIFICE LAUDED BY YAMAMOTO

Speaks in Particular of American Ambassador
Wood's Work

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Ambassador Hanihara presented to secretary Hughes today a message from Count Yamamoto, prime minister of Japan, expressing the deep sense of gratitude of the Japanese sovereign and people declaring that "this precious gift of American sympathy" cannot but "serve the peace of the world, in drawing still closer the bond of friendship and trust between the two countries."

"In this hour of deep grief and anxiety, felt alike by the emperor and all his subjects, the president of the United States issued a proclamation urging the American people to come to the aid of the stricken people of Japan and designating the American Red Cross to administer the relief work. Then the commander of the American Asiatic fleet lost no time in despatching the ships under his command to the scene of the disaster and offered the services of the entire fleet for the immediate relief of the sufferers. At the same time the Philippine government sent transports loaded with full cargoes for the relief.

Helps Relief. "In the midst of the bewildering devastation, American Ambassador Woods with the staff of the embassy and American residents in Japan are helping the relief work with a marvelous spirit of self-sacrifice in spite of the fact that the embassy itself was destroyed by fire.
