Miss Austin is an accomplished pianist and has won a number of laurels in this art. She also displayed a great deal of dramatic ability when she played the leading role in the 1923 senior class play.—Anasheim Daily Herald.

Miss Austin is well known among the younger set, having spent the greater part of her life in Salem. About four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Austin went to Anaheim, Cal., to make their home.

Miss Betty Samuels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Samuels of this city, became the bride of M. F. Sol Rosenberg of Long Beach, Cal., at a very pretty and impressive ceremony performed in Me-Cornack hall at 5 o'clock Sunday, the Rabbi A. L. Rosenkrantz of Portland officiating.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Henry Hintzen, the bride party entered the hall, meeting at the altar where the marriage vows were witnessed by over 100 relatives and friends. This is reported to have been the first orthodox Jewish wedding ceremony ever performed in Salem.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white tulle and silver lace. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil was caught into a simple band of orange blossoms. In a rose chiffon and silver dress, Mrs. Florence Rosenberg appeared as maid of honor. As bridesmaids, Miss Gussy Brownstein of Portland wore a dress of gray lace over pink; Miss Molly Samuels wore yellow georgette crepe; Miss Annette Feldstein had a dress of pink georgette, and Miss Sara Solof wore orchid tulle. Mr. Louis Solof acted as best man.

Autumn blossoms, ferns and palms decorated the hall for the occasion.

Immediately following the wedding supper, which was served at 6 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberg left for a honeymoon in Seattle and British Columbia. Later they will make their home in Huntington, Cal., where Mr. Rosenberg is in business.

Mrs. Rosenberg is a Salem girl, a graduate of Salem high school and later attended college in California where she met Mr. Rosenberg.

Drug Peddlers Will Now Be Grabbed By Officers

Last Monday, due to turnovers by some of the counties, the state began to get its part of the narcotic fund provided for by the legislature of 1923, with the result that George Claver, state prohibition commissioner, is now able to enlarge his force and get on the trail of the traffickers in drugs. Although there have been no funds to use on this part of the work, there already have been six arrests and three convictions. Three cases are now pending in Multnomah county, one of them before the federal grand jury.

A gift of $100,000 has been made to the Boy Scouts, but the name of the newspaperman who gave the money has so far been concealed from the reading public.

Livesley Raises Pickers Of Hops To 70 Cents Box

Believing that their hop pickers have not been making as much money as they should, the T. A. Livesley yards have announced an advance of 10 cents a box for all hops picked. Owing to the warm weather the pickers have been unable to "glom" as many hops as in other seasons, and in order to encourage them the advance was made.

Reports have been received that several of the smaller yards have paid 70 cents the entire season to insure picking, have also been received. In one or two instances, where the hops have been extremely light owing to blight, as high as 75 cents a box has been paid by the yards.

Sum of $25,000 Subscribed and Supplies Will Be Transported Free

The Southern Pacific company has subscribed the sum of $25,000 toward the relief of the sufferers by earthquake in Japan. This was announced by William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific company, in the following statement:

supplies assigned to American Red Cross or regularly authorized representatives handling such relief for earthquake sufferers. "We join in the desire that funds be available without delay and that relief supplies be moved forward without delay or any complication as to charges. "We will cooperate with all Chambers of Commerce for the purpose of giving prompt service so desirable in such an emergency."

Father Appreciating Of Contribution Here

Representatives of the two Salem newspapers sponsoring the contribution box at the funeral of Francis McGrath, 14, who was killed during the auto race Saturday, turned over $95.35 to the Rigdon mortuary yesterday.

Mr. McGrath and another son, about 6 years old, were in the city yesterday from Williams' hopyard, where he has been working. The contribution campaign was not known by the bereaved father, and he was deeply touched when he learned of the movement, as he is just beautifully endowed with wealth.
