1924 BUDGET UP FOR DISCUSSION
Definite Action to Be Taken Friday Night By Citizens and Councilmen

An informal discussion of the budget for 1924 was attended by a majority of councilmen last night. The meeting was held for the purpose of familiarizing themselves with the various items on the budget prior to definite action being taken Friday night, when the entire council and a special citizens' committee of 15 will pass upon the estimates and make appropriations for the coming year. Each alderman and the mayor named one man for this committee.

Representatives of the Kiwanis, Rotarians and Lions, as well as the YMCA which had charge, were present last night to urge the council to provide for the upkeep of the children's playground next year. It was pointed out that over 17,000 children attended during the season, at a cost of less than 3 cents per child. The cost for this year was about $600, exact figures being unavailable owing to the absence of George Arbuckle, who is on his vacation.

A total of $800 is asked for 1924, half of which will be for salaries of a man and woman playground supervisor for two months. A lifesaver for the two months will cost $100. Athletic equipment needed, supplies, repairs and new equipment is estimated at $200, while about $100 is needed to fix the dam, swimming and wading pools, cutting brush and other incidentals.

statement to the people of the United States.

"The governor's declaration is a libel against the state of Oklahoma. There has not been any riot, insurrection nor rebellion in any part of the state, nor have the civil authorities been defied or overthrown. No group of citizens nor civil officers have made a request for military intervention. The criminal records of counties and cities in Oklahoma show that there has been less crime during the last year than in any year since the war. Almost without exception the communities of the state were as peaceful and law-abiding as any normal community in America when this proclamation was issued. Since August 14, when martial law first was invoked in Tulsa county, the forces of the national guard have not been used in a single instance to quell any riot or civil commotion.

"Governor Walton by his own acts has attempted to nullify rights guaranteed under our constitution and to halt the lawful processes of Republican government."

WOOL IS MILLED ON THIS COAST

Address on Condition of Industry Given Rotarians By Mr. Bishop

Nearly one-third of the 35,000,000 pounds of wool produced upon the Pacific coast are manufactured along the coast. C. P. Bishop told members of the Rotary club at the luncheon at the Marion hotel Wednesday. Of the 13 woolen mills in this district six are in Oregon.

The big woolen mill near Long Beach, Calif., is one of the latest equipped in the country, due to its having been burned recently and rebuilt with all the latest machinery installed. The Portland mill has an annual output of nearly $1,500,000, he said. The Oregon Wooster mill, also in Portland, makes yarns that are used in manufacturing bathing suits and sweaters. Pendleton has the only mill of its nature in the country, the speaker said, and devotes its entire output to the manufacture of fancy Indian robes and blankets. Other mills along the coast are located at Eureka, Eugene, Stayton, Salem, Oregon City and Brownsville. Washington mills are at Washougal and Seattle.

Claim to the oldest mill is held by that at Oregon City, which has been in continuous operation ever since the late '60s. In speaking of the Brownsville mill, Mr. Bishop said that after a varied history it had been rejuvenated. All are in a peculiar situation he said, in that all are well-financed and well managed and were in a prosperous condition.

Prior to 1890 practically all the mills were built by promoters, Mr. Bishop said, but all have finally been put upon a solid foundation. In closing he said that the country was destined for wool manufacturing and that a ready market was assured the Pacific coast, especially in Siberia and Russia.

was characterized as the greatest enemy to the navy. That the naval department considered the Pacific coast as one of the most important locations of its bases and for protection was asserted by the speaker. He backed his contention by pointing out that a majority of the present fleet was along the west coast of the country.

SCHOOL BOUNDARY WILL BE CHANGED

Congestion in Different Districts Will Be Relieved By New Arrangements

Congestion in several of the Salem schools will be relieved to a great extent by a change in boundary lines that has been approved. Superintendent George Hug said yesterday. Pupils who have been attending the Washington portable school will attend the Garfield school. The northern boundary of the district has been extended from Belmont to Gaines relieving the crowded condition at the Highland school. The first three grades will be moved from the Garfield school to the high school building.

First grade pupils will be admitted at mid-year under a new ruling which has gone into effect. No pupils will be admitted this fall who will not have reached the age of six on November 1. Those who will be six before April 1 and after November 1 will be admitted in February. While this practise of mid-year admittance had been in effect, it has been discontinued for the past few years.
