

CHEMAWA SCHOOL HAS BIG EXHIBIT

All Departments of the Institution Have Handiwork On Display at Fair

Students of the Chemawa Indian school have contributed the best efforts in every department of the institution in making the school display one of the best and most complete in history.

The displays consist of work in the various departments, and are attractively presented. From the boys' department are shown numerous articles in carpentry, iron forging, wrought iron, printing, plumbing, machine shop, cabinet working and masonry. The exhibit was arranged under the direction of J. Hill, superintendent of industries at the school. All of the work shown is that of students.

In order to illustrate what the students are taught, a dining room and bed room set have been placed in various booths. The furniture and the fixtures were all made at the school. A special booth, equipped after a hospital ward, with a "patient" in the bed, demonstrates first aid and nursing instruction received by the students.

Vocational training is given a prominent place, with cooking, canning and preserving demonstration work by the girls. The dining room will receive a daily change in details. The home economics department is under the direction of Mrs. L. F. Brickell.

Around the wall of one booth are 45 silver cups and other trophies won by students in academic, athletic and military contests in competition with other schools. A large portion of the display is taken up in academic work, with needle work and weaving receiving emphasis. Teachers in charge of the display are Mrs. Flora Hill, Mrs. Ada B. Risser and Miss Lydia Bachard.

The display is on the second floor of the pavilion, and takes up a great portion of the western part of the building. It was arranged largely under the guidance of Mrs. George Bent, Mrs. Jessie Kokoy and Miss Antonette White.

Other instructors who have had a hand in placing the display were Mrs. E. F. Brickell, of the home economics department; Thomas Ross, gardener, who furnished the decorative material from the greenhouse, for the first time. All the work was under the supervision of Harwood Hill, superintendent of the school.

Frank Alm Accepts Place With Ladd & Bush Bank

SILVERTON, Or., Sept. 24.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Frank Alm of Julius Alm & Sons of Silverton has accepted a position at the Ladd & Bush bank of Salem. Mr. Alm formerly attended the University of Oregon. Later he held a position at the First National bank of Silverton. He gave up this work in order to become a member of the firm of which his father was manager.

SUFFERED FIVE YEARS FROM KIDNEYS

"I suffered with kidney trouble for five years or more. I could not sleep at night and I was always tired after coming home from work, and my back ached," writes John R. Gordon, Danville, Ill. "I secured some FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS and after a few treatments I felt better and could work with more ease, became stronger and could sleep better." For quick relief from Backache, Rheumatic pains, and Kidney and Bladder troubles use FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS.

SIDELIGHTS OF THE STATE FAIR

Whatever they may have lacked in numbers was made up with enthusiasm and willingness to play by the fife and drum corps of the Grand Army of the Republic. A little thing like occasional showers failed to dampen the spirits of the hardy old soldiers, and nearly every section of the fair grounds was serenaded by the little band.

A. B. Cornell and wife, Grants Pass, are camped at the state fair grounds.

Herbert B. Howell, Josephine county agent, is attending the fair.

"Scooty" Dutton, former OAC football star, is at the fair from east of the mountains.

B. O. Garrett, secretary of the Oregon City Chamber of Commerce, is here for the fair. He has charge of the Clackamas county exhibit.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Daigh of The Dalles are spending the week in Salem. Mr. Daigh is county agent for Wasco county and is in charge of the Wasco exhibit at the fair.

Miss Zenda Hendrickson of Prineville is in Salem this week. She is assisting H. C. Seymour.

state industrial club leader, at the fair grounds.

One of the strangest exhibits in the poultry display is a Rhode Island Red cock, owned by Mrs. Henry White, Detroit, Ore. Though of the masculine type, the old rooster is mothering a brood of chicks in as capable a manner as any hen. The brood is the third he has mothered this season. Another of the oddities of the poultry display is a pen of "quackless" ducks. These, it was said, are most practical for use in the city, for their annoying discordant vocal efforts have been eliminated.

Flowers in the New Pavilion are attracting a great amount of interest at the fair grounds. In addition there are many ornamentals used to decorate the northern entrance.

For the benefit of visiting PEO, a booth has been erected in the Educational building, where all are asked to register.

Interest in the livestock division of the state fair has been greatly revived this year, and the stock has increased in every department. There are 127 exhibitors of cattle, 127 of hogs, 70 of sheep and 36 of horses this year. An accurate check of the number of entries had not been made yesterday, many of these having been received all through the day.

All of the state institutions have placed large exhibits, featuring the work of inmates. The articles made by the inmates are being offered for and are receiving a ready sale. Special booths are occupied by the state feeble minded school, state school for deaf and dumb, blind, boys training, girls training, state hospital and state prison.

Homemakers to Have Demonstration Today

"Helpful Hints for the Homemaker" is the slogan of the home economics booth in the educational pavilion this year. Working demonstrations are given daily at 2:15 each afternoon by experts from the Oregon Agricultural college. "How can I clean my stained aluminum or rusty stove top?" "How can I shine up my dinky silverware or my corroded brass candlesticks?" are questions which Miss Emma S. Weld will answer by demonstration on Tuesday. She will use the different metals and various cleaning materials giving advice on how to obtain the best results with the minimum amount of work and dirt. Care in the selection and cleaning of linoleums were discussed and demonstrated yesterday. Samples of floor coverings were displayed by Miss Weld showing all grades of linoleums from floor all cloth which used to be common but is now not considered a good investment, up to the heavy plush type.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Indians and pale faces gathered at Evanston tonight for a three-day conference on Indian affairs, one of the purposes of which will be to start an educational campaign to study the Indian as he was, is now, and will be.

Miss Edith Garfield of Salem spent the week-end with Miss Amanda Mathew.
