BERLIN, Sept. 24.- (By Associated Press.)-Chancello Stresemann announced tonight that the government had de cided to abandon passive resistance immediately and uncon ditionally.

In his statement that the chancellor announced that t government had decided to abandon the policy of passiv resistance in the Ruhr and Rhineland and had ordered r sumption of activities in all lines at once. The gover decision is not made conditional on the previous return deportees or the release of imprisoned nationals, these an other disputed points being left to subsequent negot with the occupying powers.

The chancellor urged the en

Thirty uniformed Prunarians and their families from Vanvouver, Wash., will arrive in Salem Wednesday noon to attend the state fair, and soon after their arrival will sit down at their weekly Prunarian luncheon, which will be in the Bungalow Christian church cafeteria on the grounds. It sems that the Prunarians have a habit of lunching together every Wednesday noon when at and they did not want to break into that habit when they came to Salem, so Dr. J. T. Alten, Big Prune, telegraphed King Bing Hamilton that they were coming and asked him to arrange for the luncheon if possible. This was
