

at a covered dish luncheon to honor the presidents, both past and present of the organization. It has been the custom of the club to open the season with a banquet, but this being the first social gathering in the new club rooms, invitations were issued to members of the Etokta club, the Salem Heights Woman's club, the Business and Professional Woman's club, and the Association of American University Women to join with them in the celebration of the opening of their new quarters.

After singing the old trysting song "Auld Lang Syne," the women were seated at the table over which presided Mrs. Seymour Jones, the present president, as toastmistress. Mrs. H. M. Simms of Silverton, president of the county federation, gave the opening speech of welcome to the women. Mrs. E. E. Fisher, president of the Etokta club, Mrs. B. E. Heikes, president of the Salem Heights Woman's club, Mrs. Oia F. McIntyre, president of the Business and Professional Woman's club and Miss Frances Richards, president of the AAUW, all gave short speeches touching upon the work of their respective clubs.

Most interesting and inspiring were the talks of the past presidents of the Salem Woman's club touching upon the growth and development of the group since it was organized in 1901 to the present date. The past presidents who spoke were, Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Miss Lottie Beatty, Mrs. Ricard Cartwright, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. John H. Albert, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. LaMoine R. Clark.

At the close of the luncheon Mrs. Jones gave a short talk in which she made an inspirational forecast for the future. During the luncheon a telegram from Mrs. Sadie Orr at Klamath Falls, expressing the greetings and best wishes from the president of the state federation of Women's clubs was read.

SENNING CINDERS

By E. G.
Cinders, cinders in the air!
Up and down and everywhere,
Making murky all that's fair!
From the west, east, north and south,
Filling eyes and nose and mouth;
Spotting mental plans we cherish—
Many inspirations perish—
Not a hope of thinking quickly
When they jass around so thickly;
You must dodge 'em, tho you're lame—
It's a dodge-and-miss 'em game.

Soft and mushy ones come falling,
Leaving smudge and spots appalling;
Land they on your face fresh-shaven—
Spotless linen—any place;
Hover they o'er every space.

Then the pecky, flicky ones—
Hit you like old hard-tack crumbs;
Biff; they take you in the eye—
Not a hint of feeling shy;
Or adown your throat go trailing,
As in haste a cab you're hailing;
Down your neck, or in your ear—
Not a thing have they to fear—
Not a human makes them tremble,

As they skip about so nimble;
Nought they know of ordinance,
Which would tame them some,
perchance,
And our lease on life enhance;
But we curse and take our chance.

Sin and cinders, chumming strong!
Frithee, heaven, we ask, how long
Must we sing the Cinder-song?
Lord, inflate us with Thy grace
As we run the Cinder-race!
O wilt thou sometime ring their knell,
And copsign them all to—well—
To their own first home sweet home,
So we here in peace may roam.

GERMANY NEEDS SEAMEN

BREMEN, Sept. 12.—(Associated Press)—The need for officers to man Germany's navy and merchant fleet is so great that three sailing ships soon will be in operation to train young men to follow the sea.

Germany always has insisted upon training under sail for men who officer her steamships.

TO FIGHT FOR CANCER CURE

Northwest States Will Be Battle Ground in Combatting Disease

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The first of a series of six regional cancer campaigns under the auspices of the American Society for the Control of Cancer with headquarters in New York, will be launched in the northwest, October 15 next, and end with a "cancer week" beginning November 7. Participating in the drive will be many of the foremost physicians, surgeons, and scientists in the region, state and local boards of health, health associations, clubs, labor unions, churches and scores of organizations interested in fighting this public menace which takes a toll of over 100,000 lives in America each year. While the campaign proper will occupy four weeks, the work, with the impetus thus given it, will continue for 12 months or longer—indefinitely, in fact.

The states and provinces comprising the Northwestern region are Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Each is a separate well-officered unit in the cancer society's efficient organization, but for the purposes of this campaign they will be grouped together and work as one compact body under the guidance of the society headed by Dr. George A. Soper, medical director.

The chief purpose of the campaign is to give to the public generally facts concerning cancer which will make it possible for them to detect the initial symptoms, or "danger signals" as they are called, that they may seek and receive treatment at a time when the disease is in a curable stage. There is no known specific for cancer. The best chance a person inflicted has lies in the early removal of the tumor. To wait means certain death. The symptoms are plainly described and can often be detected by persons of average intelligence. The campaign will also give the public much information concerning the malady not usually available to laymen.

The state and provincial chairmen who will direct the actual work of reaching the 12,000,000 inhabitants of the 14 states and provinces—particularly men and women over 35 years of age, who are most likely to develop the disease. Oregon will be represented by Dr. Ernest F. Tucker of Portland.

SURE-- THEY'VE GOT 'EM! I TELL Y'U I SAW 'EM

NEW MODEL FORDS

Cowl ventilator, revolving window regulators, high radiators, large cowl, four doors—well you've heard about the new Fords—only been shown in Salem for a few weeks? Well, we have them, at used car prices, not because they're used cars but because they've run a few hundred miles so we call them used just to be honest, and anyway if we did tell you they were new cars Mr. Ford wouldn't let us sell them as cheap as we do, but as long as we say they're used he hasn't anything to say about it.

They Are Used

But you can guess how much when we tell you that they're the new models.
