SERIES STATISTICS

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Polo grounds, home of the New York Giants, held the greatest crowd in its history today for the fourth world's series game between the Giants and the Yankees. The official paid attendance 46,302, was also the third largest world's series crowd on record. It was eclipsed only by the opening game of the series and the Columbus day game, both played in Yankee stadium.

The official figures today: Attendance 46,302. Receipts $181,622. Advisory council's share, $27,443.30. Players' pool $92,627.22. Each club's share, $30,876.74.

Total figures for the four games: Attendance 204,441. Receipts $723,104. Advisory council's share, $114,465.68.

Players' pool (complete—players sharing in first four games only) $362,783.04. Each club's share $122,927.69.

It is now certain that all records of attendance and receipts for any world's series, of whatever number of games, will be shattered.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Yankee battleship cleared its decks for action today, unloosed the devastating fire of its broadsides and sank the Giant cruiser in the harbor, the Polo grounds, in the fourth and most sanguinary engagement of the epochal 1923 world's series.

Another record gathering, a crowd of 46,000, that set a new high mark for the National league park, saw the Yankee gunners, aroused to their keenest fighting pitch, smash out an 8 to 4 victory over the world's champions and once more square the series score.

Pitchers Driven to Cover
Each club now has two victories in this record-shattering duel for the highest stakes baseball has ever known.

The heavy artillery of the Yankees—"Murderees row" in all its primitive glory—drove two of John McGraw's sharpshooters, Jack Scott and "Roxy" Ryan to cover. Two more runs were hammered in before the momentum of this attack was spent, but the Giants saved themselves from complete rout with a fast, desperate stand that resulted in four runs in the last two innings and for a time threatened to assume menacing proportions. For seven innings, Bob Shawkey, "Sailor Bob" of the red flannel shirt, held the Giants at bay, baffled at every turn with the aid of a brilliant supporting cast in which "Jumping Joe" Dugan was the star of stars.

Another World Record
Base hits of every calibre rattled to all corners of the field in this hectic battle. Each team amassed 13 safe blows but nine of the Yankee shots were bunched in three innings of springing while

HILTON PRIZE COMING WEST

Adjutant General Receives Word That Prize Won at Camp Perry is Sent

Official notification was received yesterday by George A. White, adjutant general, that the Hilton trophy has been shipped by the war department to the state of Oregon to be held by the national guard for at least one year. The trophy, a historic bronze affair, was won by the Oregon national guard rifle team in the national matches at Camp Perry recently and comes to the west for the first time.

The second national trophy won by the Oregonians in the United States infantry match in the national shoot will be sent later, the original trophy having been misplaced during the war, making it necessary to cast a new one in duplication of the old original. It will be shipped to Oregon as soon as ready. General White is told, together with the Leach cup won by Sergeant William E. Haynes, now champion long range rifle expert.

TRESTLE HERE BADLY BURNED

The underpinning on the Oregon Electric trestle along the river in the southwest part of the city was nearly destroyed by a mysterious fire early yesterday morning, and trains were much delayed during the forenoon. The train that leaves Salem for Portland at 7:15 in the morning did not get away until three hours later, and the train leaving here at 8:35 was delayed about an hour.

Railroad workmen and the Salem fire department had a hard time fighting the flames. It was necessary for the fire department to lay a line of hose from South Commercial and Bellevue streets, near the Asahel Bush residence, to the trestle, a distance of perhaps three blocks.

How the fire started has not been ascertained.

COQUILLE MAN HAD BIG PLAN TO GAIN END

INVESTIGATOR MAKES REPORT OF FINDINGS

Details of Killing Man Found—Was to Have Left Property to Arthur Covell

CRIPPLE PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER

First Degree Charge Brought Against Uncle of Boy Who Admitted Deed

SEATTLE, Oct. 13.—Methods said to have been used by Arthur Covell, aged 46, noted astrologer and a cripple who, with his nephew, Alton Covell, aged 16, were indicted yesterday in Coquille, Ore., on a charge of killing Mrs. Fred Covell, wife of a Bandon chiropractor, two months ago, were revealed for the first time today by Luke S. May of Seattle, criminologist, before leaving tonight for a brief rest in the mountains.

"Arthur Covell would first create a cipher code with astrological signs corresponding with the letters of the alphabet," May declared. "He then would rearrange them into what was known as the 'sphinx code.' This second code would then be arranged for a third time into another code. Before any of his message could be decoded it was necessary to find the three 'keys' to the codes. "After the 'master code' was prepared he then designed various sheets with signs of the Zodiac which acted as reference marks to other sheets containing details of planned crimes."

When Investigator May, who was called into the Covell case by E. S. Fisher, district attorney for Coos county, Oregon, on September 8, returned to the city last night he brought a suit case filled with weird looking documents. May declared that he intended soon to make even more sensational disclosures regarding Covell than he had made public thus far.

Plot Revealed

"One of the papers I have revealed a carefully-worked plot to kidnap a young Bandon woman," May stated. "The woman was referred to in the paper as the 'Doan girl,' who is presumed to be the daughter of a prominent Bandon family of that name. After a new home was built the younger Covell was to have kidnaped the girl.

A note was to have been previously prepared and left where the girl's parents would discover it. "Another paper disclosed detailed plans for the 'accidental death' of J. Ira Sidwell, a Bandon businessman. He was to have been found with his neck broken, apparently having fallen downstairs in his place of business. In an inside pocket of his coat was to be found his will, leaving all or a portion of his property to Covell. This will, in the process of being written and nearly complete, I have in my possession. It bears the date March 3, 1922, and reads:

Dreams Told
"I, J. Ira Sidwell, being of sound mind, lately dreamed a dream and heard a voice very distinctly say to be: 'In three weeks! In three weeks!' Then I saw a finger pointing to a grave. I somehow feel depressed over this dream, and knowing that life is always uncertain, and we are often struck down without warning, I am minded to put my affairs in order, prepared for whatever is near.

"I wish to make these provisions with regard to the settlement of my estate:
"First, this present will, duly executed, according to law, revokes any and all other wills heretofore made by me.
"Second, I desire to ease somewhat the burden of a young man whom I highly admire, and who is now handicapped for life by a serious misfortune. I refer to— (the name is omitted, but I think that the person referred to is obviously Covell himself) of Bandon, Oregon, and my sympathy for him is so great I am cutting off all rights of my heirs, as they can take care of themselves, but Mr. cannot.
"Third, I hereby give and bequeath unto the said— absolutely everything I own.

CRIPPLE PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER

First Degree Charge Brought Against Uncle of Boy Who Admitted Deed

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Oct. 13.—Arthur Covell, crippled astrologer charged with complicity in the slaying of Mrs. Fred Covell, his sister-in-law, at her home in Bandon, today pleaded guilty at Coquille to a charge of murder in the first degree.

The admission of guilt was made by the astrologer as he lay on a cot in the court room of Judge Kendall, propped to a half sitting position.

Alton Covell, the cripple's nephew, already had confessed to the actual killing of his step-mother, declaring that he was incited to the deed by his uncle.

Arthur Covell answered Judge Kendall when asked if he was prepared to make his plea, nodding "Yes."

Judge Kendall then asked him if he would be represented by counsel, or wanted an attorney. The reply was "no." He was then informed that he was entitled to an attorney appointed by the court if he wished one.

Covell then said he was ready to plead.

"What is your plea?" questioned the judge.

"Guilty," replied Covell.

There was silence in the courtroom and then Judge Kendall said that the plea would be considered until Monday as he was not permitted to take a first degree murder plea without hearing evidence of some nature.

Alton Covell, the confessed actual slayer of his step-mother, had an attorney, and appeared in court in the clothes he has worn since being arrested. His attorney, Grant Colby of Coquille, had been his adviser since his incarceration. Alton Covell and his attorney were given until Monday to enter a plea.

RELIEF CORPS LEAVE JAPAN; THANKS GIVEN

American Mission Departs for Manila Leaving Supplies in Hands of United States Embassy

LEGATION WORKERS PRAISED BY WOODS

Emperor and Empress Express Appreciation of Relief Work to Minister

OREGON TO HAVE CHILD HOSPITAL

Doernbecher Gift to State University Will Be Built in Portland

TOKIO, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American relief mission from the Philippines which has been operating under the supervision of Ambassador Cyrus E. Woods, has departed for Manila on the transport Somme after completing its work in behalf of the earthquake sufferers. The mission turned over all its medical supplies, equipment and food to the Japanese relief organization.

It was announced that hereafter all the American refugees will be succored as long as necessary by the American embassy relief corps. This organization began functioning the day after the earthquake and has not relaxed its efforts since.

Staff Praised
Ambassador Woods praised the work of the United States army and navy and especially the efforts of the embassy personnel during the early days of the disaster. He said: "I have never seen such devotion to duty as was displayed by members of the embassy staff. Early Sunday morning after the earthquake all the embassy personnel in Tokio reported for duty, although some had gone without food and sleep since the day previous. Those who were spending the week-end in nearby towns returned as soon as possible, enduring great hardships to reach the capital.

"The American relief organization aided nationals of all countries without question. The Japanese from the emperor down are profuse in their expressions of appreciation of the work of the American embassy and the generosity of the American people.

Empress Moved
"The emperor and empress summoned Foreign Minister Ijuin and directed him to express the appreciation of Japanese for the rapidly with which Americans started relief work. The foreign minister told me that the tears streamed down the empress' face when she gave him the message of appreciation for delivery to the American people through the embassy.

"I also wish to say that the cooperation of the Japanese in all of our efforts at relief have been more than wonderful."

MOONSHINE RING TAKEN IN EUGENE

Four Men and a Woman Arrested By Deputies Following Faked Party

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 13.—Four men and one woman, all alleged to be members of a local moonshine ring, were arrested early today by deputy sheriffs when a special agent of the district attorney posing as a director of a motion picture company lured them to a fake studio near Eugene where he had announced that a company of film actors from Hollywood, Cal., soon would stage a picture of historical interest.

The special agent had arranged for the purchase of $1,000 worth of moonshine for his "film actors," and the delivery was made on schedule, according to the officers. S. G. Barker of Portland, and Tom Keenan, Eugene, pleaded guilty to the charge of unlawful possession and each was given the maximum penalty of a fine of $500 and six months in jail. Arthur Kalanquin of Eugene was fined $300 for transporting liquor. Bob Bobo of Eugene and Minnie Cadden of Portland who, the officers say, claimed to be a special agent of the state prohibition forces, pleaded not guilty to the charge of unlawful possession. They are in the county jail.

SET OF FALSE TEETH FOUND AT THEATRE

Someone in Salem Doubtless Has Been Eating Soup All Week, Peetz Thinks

Someone in Salem some one has been eating soup all week as a result of losing a set of false teeth for the lower section of the jaw. They were found at the Liberty theater. The teeth were picked up by Ed Peetz, and turned into the office where they are being held for a claimant.

"In all my years of work around a theater, this is the first time I have ever found a pair of false teeth," remarked Mr. Peetz. "I have found nearly everything else, but never the masticators."

Local theater men express the belief that the teeth were probably lost during a hearty laugh by the owner, or else he went to sleep and they dropped out. While the teeth are not believed to be dangerous, the Liberty office is anxious to restore them to their owner before some one is bitten.

OREGON TO HAVE CHILD HOSPITAL

Doernbecher Gift to State University Will Be Built in Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 13.—Oregon will have the first general children's hospital in the Pacific northwest as a result of a gift of $200,000 to the University of Oregon for the establishment of the Doernbecher Memorial hospital for children on the campus of the medical school in Portland.

The gift is made by Ada Doernbecher of Portland and Edward Doernbecher of Seattle in memory of their father, the late Frank S. Doernbecher, pioneer furniture manufacturer. This gift brings the total of the gifts in money and valuable collections made to the University of Oregon gift campaign to three quarters of a million dollars.

The memorial will be a teaching hospital with provision for research into the diseases of children. It will provide excellent clinical facilities for University of Oregon medical school students. This is of special importance to the northwest since Oregon has the only class A medical school west of Denver and north of San Francisco.

"Nothing has been more needed in the northwest than a children's hospital," said President P. L. Campbell in accepting the gift. "This splendid memorial gift will not only contribute to the care of children in its care but will provide for investigation of how to prevent their diseases and will add greatly to the clinical resources of the medical school. We all owe a great debt of gratitude to the donors for their thought of making this memorial gift take the form of a children's hospital."

BROTHERS ARRESTED IN BANDON; MAY BE FROM HOLD UP GANG

Allen and Walter Hodges Taken in Custody at Marshfield on Suspicion—Both Men Ex-Convicts and Were Seen Near Tunnel 13 on Morning of Train Robbery

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—The Yreka correspondent of the Sacramento Bee telephoned late this afternoon that advice had been received in Yreka from Roseburg, Ore., quoting the sheriff at Roseburg as having stated that two ex-convicts had been arrested on the Coquille river in connection with the Southern Pacific holdup of Thursday and that one had confessed.

The sheriff's office at Roseburg was unable to confirm the report of the arrests. A deputy in the office stated that he had no information as to the capture. The sheriff, however, was said to be either at Marshfield or Coquille.

Sheriff Ellingsen at Marshfield, in a telephone conversation, declared that Allen Hodges, arrested in a Marshfield court room today had been taken into custody at the request of Sheriff Terrill of Jackson county, who declared that Hodges had been seen at Tunnel 13 three days before the holdup and on the morning of the holdup.

NEW WARDEN TELLS IDEAS

Dairymple Suggests That Governor Name Board to Study Industries

A suggestion that the governor appoint a special committee of three business men to make a full investigation of the state penitentiary and its immediate and future requirements in the line of paying industries is contained in a statement issued yesterday by A. M. Dairymple, new warden of the penitentiary, in which, in a general way, the warden outlines the policy he will pursue at the prison. Concerning treatment of prisoners Warden Dairymple says he believes there is a course that is "conservative, decent and just" between the "hard-boiled" extreme and the extreme of allowing ultra-liberal privileges to convicts.

Employment Studied
"The most serious problem confronting us today is unemployment for the men confined within these walls," the warden's statement reads. "The state has failed to provide any worthy industry to keep them busy since the stove foundry was abolished some ten years ago. Idleness among the inmates has been the rule during all of these years.

"A few months ago two industries of limited proportions were established which gave larger employment to most of the men confined here. One of these was a wood working plant for manufacture of furniture, the other was the flax mill. These two industries operated at full capacity along with the farm work and brick yard, kept all the men fairly busy during the summer months, but the fire that broke out in the flax mill a few weeks ago destroyed the buildings and machinery in the flax and furniture plants and the only source of employment since is the prison farm where only trustees may be employed. These of course must be limited to a small fraction of the total prison population, consequently the only employment in sight at this date for the inside men is tearing down the tottering wall left by the fire and clearing away the debris. This they are now doing.

All Should be Interested
"This being a public institution, every taxpayer in the state is, or ought to be, interested in it. Some plan should be adopted and carried into execution whereby one or more industries should be built up at the earliest possible date to make the institution self-supporting or as nearly so as may be. With this thought foremost in my mind I would suggest that the governor appoint a committee of three reliable business men to make a full investigation of the prison and its immediate and future requirements in the line of paying industries and report its findings without undue loss of time.

Will Avoid Extremes
"In regard to the general management I do not hesitate to say that I shall not pursue hard boiled methods of the dark ages in my conduct toward and treatment

Man Suspected of Implication in Railroad Tragedy Was Engineer
Two men who are said to be suspected of implication in the hold-up of Southern Pacific train No. 13 south of Ashland Thursday and the killing of four trainmen, are both named Hodges and have both served time in the Oregon penitentiary.

One of the men, A. A. Hodges, is said by dispatches to be under arrest in Portland. He was received at the state prison February 17, 1917, from Wasco county for obtaining money by false pretenses under a sentence of from one to five years. He was paroled February 16, 1919, and was 25 years old at the time. He is of German extraction and was a railroad engineer by profession. One dispatch says this man has a proved record in Marshfield the day of the robbery.

The other ex-convict is Walter Hodges, who was received February 7, 1917, from Lincoln county for a statutory offense and was given three to 20 years. He was paroled August 18, 1919.

Apparently there is little chance of the latter having had anything to do with the train robbery.
