By BETTI KESSI, Phone 106

"Small dreams make caliphs of poor beggars."

—Persian Proverb.

Miss Elaine Oberg is spending Saturday and Sunday in the interests of the annual homecoming week end which will be an important event on the social calendar of the Willamette university, Nov. 9, 10 and 11. Miss Oberg is chairman of the committee, and while in Portland will consult with the president of the Portland Willamette Alumni association, as well as with other prominent members.

Miss Lucille Moore is spending the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore. Miss Moore is attending the Oregon Agricultural college this year as a sophomore.

Miss Genevieve Ryan the State at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Endicott on North Church street. Miss Endicott is at the present time in the Good Samaritan Hospital training school in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hartman spent the week in Portland.

Miss Genevieve Ryan the State Regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, attended the regular business meeting of that organization this week and gave a very interesting account of the National convention. Miss Lillian White of Portland accompanied her. While in Salem they were guests at the Mickel home.

The ladies of St. Joseph's church have been planning a bazaar to complete the furnishing of the room at the new Salem hospital. The interest manifested at the sewing last Thursday in McCormack hall has spurred the committee on to make the bazaar a full pledged bazaar.

Mrs. T. M. Barr will be hostess for an apron shower to be given at her home 185 North 14th St., Tuesday, Oct. 30th. Later there will be a fish pond shower and also a fancy work shower. As the success of the different booths will depend upon these showers every lady in St. Joseph's parish is invited to participate.

The Catholic Daughters of America will entertain with a "500" card party and dance in McCormack hall next Thursday, October 25. The card party will begin at 8 o'clock and the dance at 9. A suggestion of Hallowe'en will be carried out in the evening's entertainment.

Miss Leah Suing, Mrs. Robert Davey, and Mrs. J. E. Heenan will compose the dance committee. For the card party Mrs. Paul Reidy, Mrs. Guy O. Smith and Mrs. A. E. Lyons will act.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Eckerlen, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Nason, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mickel and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lebold.

What lies over the skyline far,
Bent to a silver bow?
What fair castles are raised beyond?

Only the wise can know,
Sometimes I see them reflected above.

Framed in a snow-built cloud,
Sometimes I hear, dim, far away,
The echo of trumpets loud.

Sometimes beyond its jagged line,
Black on the sunset gleams,
Visions I see of its cities fair
Woven of mortals' dreams.

Sometimes above its sharp, tall pines
Slowly I see them rise,
Fountains and gardens and Shadowy dunes.

Seen through enchanted eyes.

Some day, perhaps, when the world is old,
Weary and sad and worn,
Over the wall of the skyline far
Out of the centuries born,
Forth they shall glide from their empty shells
Breathing our mortal air,
Root in our changed and untrammeled earth.

More than our fancies fair!
—Louise A. Doran, San Francisco.
(In The Lariat, November 1923.)

Miss Nellie Taylor was delightedly surprised at an impromptu party held in honor of her birthday, which came as a climax to the regular meeting of the Woman's Union of the First Congregational church Friday afternoon.

During the meeting she inadvertently mentioned the fact that it was her 79th birthday and immediately three of the matrons scurried about preparing the surprise feast of cake and ice cream. Miss Taylor has lived in Salem since childhood and has been a faithful member of the church during her life. Although she lives a distance out of Salem, she very seldom misses a service, either morning or evening. Years ago she was a teacher in the city schools of Salem, and she is beloved by the members of her own church as well as her many other friends in the city.

Mrs. A. B. Hansen, the newly elected president of the Lucy Anna Lee circle of the First Methodist church, entertained the circle at her home on Chemeketa street Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Z. E. Edwards very ably led the devotions, and Mrs. E. Merrill reported a good number of garments made by the circle, which are ready to be sent to the children's farm home at Corvallis.

After the business session Mrs. B. Blatchford gave a very interesting and impressive story of the life and work of Mrs. James Barrett, an early southern missionary. Although she is not so well known, her work among the colored people of the south ranks with that of Booker T. Washington.

After a delightful social hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Mildred Hansen. Among the members present for the afternoon were Mrs. B. Blatchford, Mrs. F. C. DeLong, Mrs. C. E. Edwards, Mrs. G. Gutekunst, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. E. Merrill, Mrs. H. L. Marsters, Mrs. McVicar, Mrs. R. W. Marsters, Mrs. J. E. Purdy, Mrs. N. Solomon and the hostess, Mrs. Hansen.

The Members of the Tano Community club were graciously entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Inman Friday evening with a 7 o'clock dinner, followed by an evening of five hundred. Special honors were accorded Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hunter, complimenting their 21st wedding anniversary, and Linn Gleason received congratulations on the occasion of his birthday.

After the dinner hour Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Fullerton joined the party as special guests at the card tables. The high score of the evening went to Mrs. Fullerton.

The next meeting place of the club has not yet been decided upon but the date has been fixed for November 2.

The serious illness of his mother, Mrs. Emma Morgan, has called Clyde from his work in Eugene to be near her. Mrs. Morgan's brother, Mr. Ira Workman of San Jose, Cal., is also at the Morgan home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. White will leave Salem today for Long Beach, Cal., where they will spend the winter. For the past four years Mr. and Mrs. White have gone to California during our winter season, returning in the early months of spring to their Salem home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Soules and two children, Edgar Earl and little Elizabeth, motored to Salem Friday evening to spend the week end as guests at the home of Mr. Soule's sister, Mrs. P. S. Anunson on North Capitol street. Mr. Soules is a prominent business man in Eugene where he is connected with the Fisher-Soules Lumber company.

EVALINA SHOPPING GOES

YOU simply can't let this "coat week" at MILLER'S pass without taking advantage of the wonderful styles and values offered. Through the services of their alert New York buyer these models came to Salem just five days after their duplicates appeared on Fifth Avenue. So you see, they really are the very newest! Forty-five different styles are shown in the deep pile fabrics, fur trimmed, with the new sleeves and collars, and those smart side drapes and closings. You can't afford to miss this opportunity to have such a lovely coat at a great saving in price.

THERE is a mode for the hair, just as there is a mode for the sleeves, or the line of the housetop. The favored simple coiffures exact a marcelle that ripples in those loose wide waves from the crown of the head to the soft knot low on the neck. At the new Marinello shop, MRS. IRENE SCOTT can give you a marcelle perfect for your particular type—and one that will last!

EVERY foot in the family, from the wee tottler to father's number ten, can be correctly shod at the WALK-OVER SHOP, 167 North Commercial street. Here you will find a last for every foot, and a leather for all occasions, with hosiery in all shades to harmonize. This shop is showing stunning fancy calf oxfords in the plain browns of the prevailing mode.

ON YOUR Christmas shopping tour don't miss a visit to Mrs. C. A. Grimm's FINDING SHOP in the Derby building. You will find there the most exquisite hand made flowers in the fragile metal cloths for the evening gown, as well as those dainty little silver wreaths for the society bud.

THERE is a decided satisfaction in the assurance that your fur is correct in style and of the highest quality and unquestionable value. Such assurance which accompanies every garment bearing the WEST FUR CO. label is evidenced by the number of discriminating women of the northwest who select their garments from this dependable stock of unusual and rare imported specimens.

FOLLOW the example of America's most progressive housewives—equip your kitchen with Vollrath Ware. It is so different from "those horrid old pans and kettles," with its smooth, non-porous, snow-white surface that washes clean and white in a jiffy. There are no rivets, seams or sharp corners where dirt or disease germs can lodge. Its triple-coat makes it unusually durable as well as sanitary. If you take pride in having a spick-and-span kitchen visit the RAY L. FARMER HARDWARE STORE and see this new Vollrath ware, you'll just love it!

LET there be light," the Good Book says. "And there was light"—sunlight, torchlight, candlelight, lamplight and now the electric light. Has it ever occurred to you just what an important part lighting effects play in the mood and spirit of the home? Harsh lights result in irritability, but the soft subdued lights of the shaded lamp brings a spirit of relaxation and harmony. HAMILTON'S complete line of furnishings for the home includes everything in the line of illumination, from the artistic candle holders to the dainty boudoir lamps, or the more elaborate polychrome floor lamps.

PLANNING a party for Hallowe'en? No—Yes? Well, then you too, will welcome the clever table suggestions the GRAY BELLE has to offer. Again your bidding you will be served with special French Pastries which carry out the motif of the Hallowe'en spirit in color and fancy trimmings. The GRAY BELLE can serve you with anything for the Hallowe'en table—even to the black and orange mints!

THE Hallowe'en hostess will find the COMMERCIAL BOOK STORE just brim-full of ideas for entertaining and decorating for her party of luncheon—in the Dennison way. Clever little place cards and a variety of favors will add so much to your party! And for the masquerade you must have one of those quaint Dennison crepe paper costumes. They're so different, and surprisingly easy to make just by following the simple directions.

THIS is to be HAT WEEK at the FRENCH SHOP, and in order to accommodate the large demand which the enticing values will attract, a large shipment of the newest models will be added to the stock during the week. See the French Shop display advertisement in this edition for further suggestions.

THE GILBERT STUDIO & CRAFT SHOP invites the people of Salem to visit the exhibition of oriental rugs which opens Wednesday. By special arrangement the shop was fortunate in securing a number of rare antiques from the Atiyeh Bros. of Portland, the nationally known connoisseurs. Among this collection is a number of the finest orientals in this country. Upstairs in the Studio bldg., 147 North Commercial.

FOR your Christmas knitting wool Shetland to the heavier Spanish worsteds. The very best clips of Oregon wool are shipped directly from the producers to the Oregon Worsted Mills in Portland where the Maypole yarns are made from the longest, strongest, finest and softest fibers which are lock picked from each clip. Hence the superior softness and texture which has resulted in the increased number of women who are knitting their own with Maypole yarns.

ONLY the best is good enough. When your clothes need cleaning. Because of his dependable work in cleaning and dyeing, Mr. Franklin of the STANDARD CLEANERS has the confident patronage of the particular people of Salem. The fact that he is a Master Cleaner is an assurance of work of only the highest quality, and of a responsibility assumed for all pieces coming to the shop. "For better appearance" call phone 1482.

Court trains huns, of course, from the shoulders, are features of many bridal gowns just now. The trains are edged and inset with lace. Necks incline to be high, grazing the base of the throat. Sleeves are long and fairly snug.
