AGGIES TRAINING FOR U OF W GAME

Garber's Knee Not Expected to Keep Him Out of Homecoming Game Saturday

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 29.—In preparation for the game with the University of Washington here next Saturday, Coach R. B. Rutherford of Oregon Agricultural college is drilling his men in a number of new plays.

No serious injuries resulted from the Aggies' game with California, as Dick Garber's injured knee is healing rapidly. It now seems probable that Garber will be able to take part in the next game.

"Bolly" Boykin has been taking Garber's place at half and has been playing against the freshmen team in practice.

Coach Rutherford has been working out a forward passing attack that the freshmen have been unable to solve. The Aggie linemen are getting better, at opening up holes for their backs and at keeping the opposing linemen at bay.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—Every member of the University of Washington football squad was ready for practice today when active preparation for the Oregon Agricultural game to be played in Corvallis next Saturday was started, it was announced.

Wives Are Not Utterly Forgotten By Rotarians

Entertaining pretty school teachers in the line of duty may be all right, but something else must be done to "square" things at home. Consequently the program committee of the Rotary club met last night and fixed the date of the semi-annual ladies' night, to which women whose husbands belong to the Rotary club may enjoy its hospitality.

Wednesday evening, December 12, has been set aside as the night in which the wives are entertained at a dinner at the Marlon hotel by the Rotarians. Though the date only has been set, work will begin at once upon a program. Ladies' night at the Rotary club will be arranged by a special committee consisting of W. T. Jenks, B. E. Sisson and R. R. Boardman.

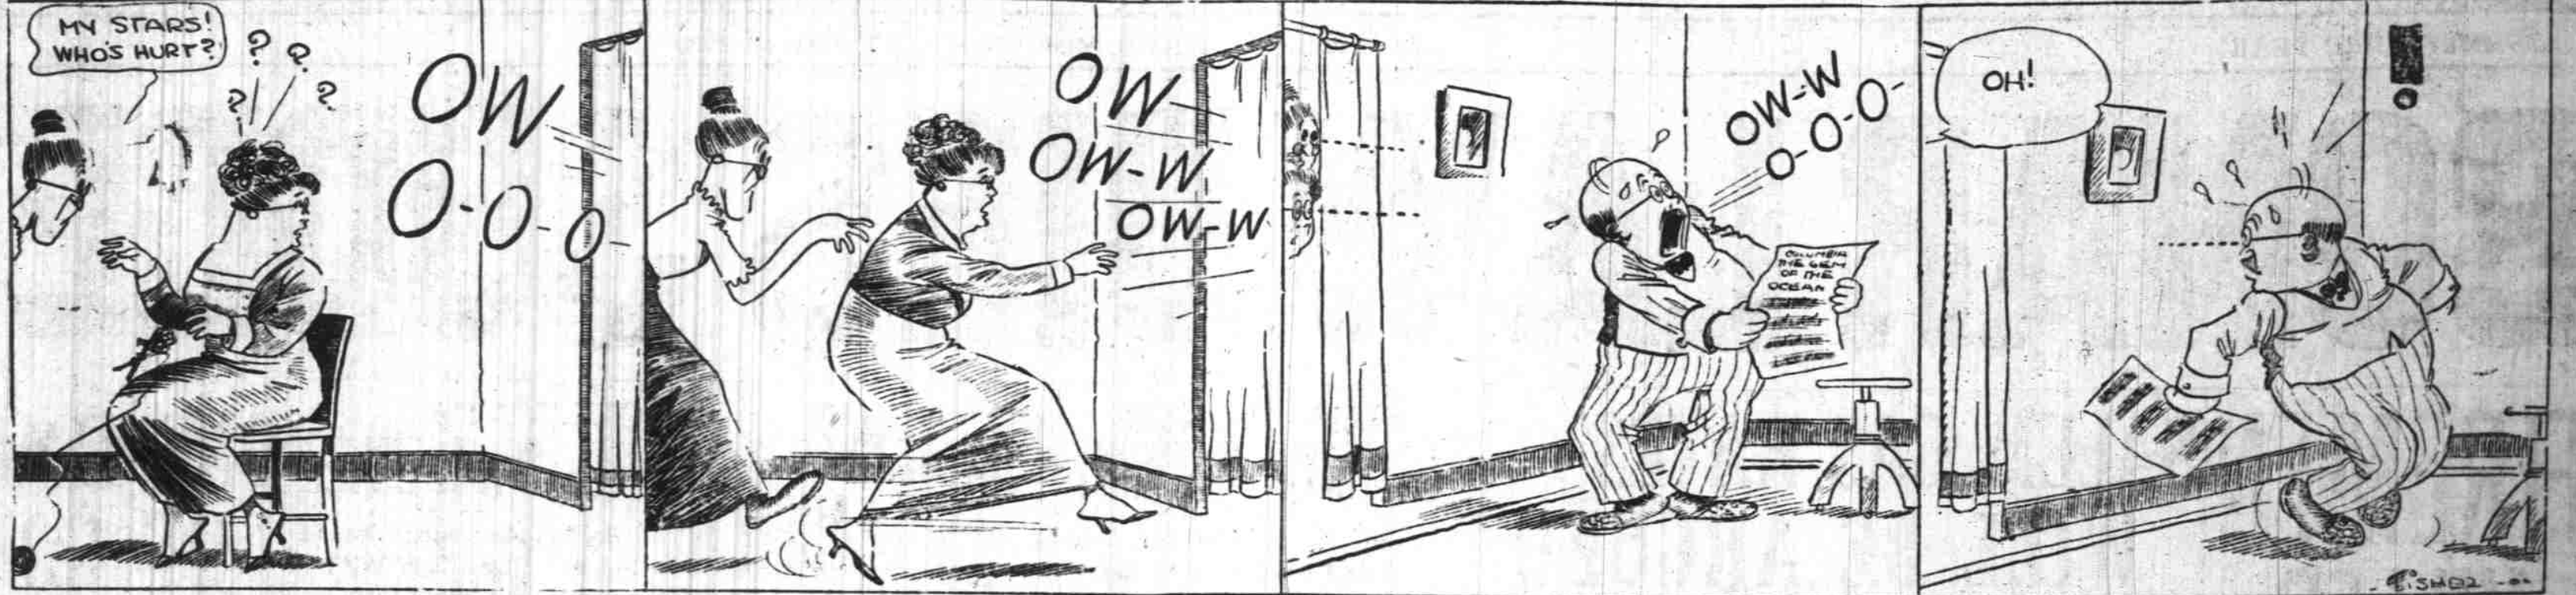

Salem and Cottage Grove Play Football Wednesday

Salem high school will meet the Cottage Grove high school eleven in the first heavy game of the interscholastic season for the local football men, on Sweetland field Saturday afternoon.

Only one game has been played by Salem high school this season, that with the Forest Grove high school, in which the visitors were defeated 12 to 0. Every effort was made to obtain a game for last Saturday.

November will be a busy month for the Salem team, with Eugene high here on November 12, the Armistice day game; at Medford, November 17; at Albany November 24 and at Corvallis November 29.

To the southeast are the great States of Bavaria and Saxony, now openly defying the Berlin Government. In the Rhineland (indicated by horizontal lines), which has been called the "industrial heart of the Reich," are located most of the nation's coal and iron resources and almost half her entire manufacturing wealth. Bavaria and Saxony also contain rich mineral deposits.

Offers have been received from Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and Spokane, but all were so indefinite the board said that none could be accepted.

BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 29.—Coach Andy Smith and his University of California football warriors are preparing for a hard battle November 10 with the University of Southern California which proved it still is a contender by defeating Stanford university Saturday. The Berkeley squad is expected to be in good shape for the fray. USC probably will be without the services of Gordon Campbell, its big ground gaining fullback who is said to have had three ribs broken in the game with Stanford.

No Shortage of Liquor in Yukon Says Collector—No Reason for Smuggling

JUNEAU, Alaska, Oct. 27.—Reports that liquor has been "poured across the Alaskan panhandle into the Yukon" are "ridiculous and without foundation," stated United States Collector of Customs M. McBride today. "There is no shortage of liquor in the Yukon at present, as the government stores have a sufficient amount to last until next June," he stated. "This situation does not offer any inducement for smuggling of liquor."

"Government customs officials at Skagway, Alaska, also stated today that a thorough checking of goods consigned to the Yukon territory prevents by liquor being shipped under the camouflage marking of 'canned goods' in any large quantities."

The Skagway officials declared there was no increase in the amount of canned goods consigned for the Yukon.

Ezra Meeker is Reported To Be Weaker Physically

SEATTLE, Oct. 27.—Ezra Meeker, 93, one of the trail blazers to the Pacific northwest from the east, was reported to be weaker physically tonight at the home of his grandson and physician, Dr. C. L. Templeton.

Dr. Templeton stated, however, that his patient was not dying, being only "slightly weaker than at any time during the last two days."

Meeker's illness began with a severe cold October 19 after attending the funeral services of his brother at Bellingham.

Eventually, perhaps, county fairs will do away with exhibits entirely in order to provide adequate parking space.
