AGGIES TO BATTLE U OF W AT CORVALLIS

Dick Garber Not to Be in Line Up Because of Knee Twisted at Berkeley

CORVALLIS, Or., Nov. 2.—Determined, but not confident, the Oregon Aggies are looking for a hard battle tomorrow with the University of Washington football team. Every possible preparation has been made by the local team for the fight. Special attention has been given by Coach Rutherford in drilling his men to check aerial attacks. Believing that Wayne Hall, Washington captain and end, is their most formidable foe, the squad has been given instructions on how to keep him covered.

All of the regular Aggie players are back in line except Dick Garber at half, whose twisted knee is expected to keep him out of the game Saturday. Either Doyley or McCurt will take his place at half. Crowds were arriving in Corvallis tonight for the game and for the Oregon Aggie home-coming festivities.

FULLMAN, Wash., Nov. 2.—With incoming trains and automobiles pouring visitors into the city, indications point to a crowd of possibly 8,000 in attendance tomorrow, when the University of Oregon and Washington State college football squads face each other on Rogers field. The Oregon aggregation was sent through a light workout Friday afternoon to allow the men to become accustomed to the field.

The Cougar eleven has rounded into good shape, according to the coaches and will present the best line that has been sent onto the field this year. Switching Captain Verne Hickey from half to left end has bolstered up the front rank materially, it was said.

The game is expected to be close and hard fought.

BIG RACE CLASSIC TO BE RUN TODAY

Zev Will Go to Post Favorite But Kentucky Horsemen Predict an Upset

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—Racing interest of the nation began centering on Kentucky tonight for the running tomorrow of the Latonia championship stakes which will bring the long awaited clash between Zev, conqueror of Papyrus in the international and Admiral Cary T. Grayson's sensational three-year-old, My Own regarded as the greatest rival of Harry Sinclair's Kentucky Derby winner.

The race, worth $50,000 to the winner will offer opportunity for a settlement of the argument that has been raging for weeks concerning the relative merits of Zev and My Own, but whether the argument will be definitely settled was a question tonight. There will be three other starters to be considered. In Memoriam, Rialto and Taylor Hay.

Kentucky which knows thoroughbreds, figures on an upset in tomorrow's race with In Memoriam, handsome bay son of McGee and Enchantress, picked to do the upsetting. This colt, owned by Carl Weidemann of Newport, Ky., with speed and staying qualities, was well liked in the Kentucky Derby, but his performance did not come up to expectations.

Since the Derby, however, In Memoriam has been in the hands of R. J. Gilmore, rated as an expert among trainers and has won several good races with impressive form. Two weeks ago he finished second to the imported five year old Chacolet in the $50,000 Kentucky special and has been worked since with the object of getting him on edge for tomorrow's race.

That Zev will go to the post a favorite around a price of 3 to 5 with odds of 8 to 5 against My Own was the guess of turf experts tonight. The price on In Memoriam, it was figured, probably will be 6 to 1 with 10 to 1 on Rialto and 20 to 1 on Taylor Hay. The last named was entered at the last minute presumably to insure a field of four starters in the event of an eleventh hour withdrawal.

Zev, the aristocrat of the turf, arrived at Latonia course today, making the trip from the east in a private car especially fitted for his transportation.

COTTAGE GROVE IS HERE TODAY

Football Team to Clash With Salem High Eleven on Sweetland Field

If the football warriors who will represent the red and black in the clash with Cottage Grove display the proportionate amount of enthusiasm on Sweetland field this afternoon as the remainder of the Salem high school student body did in the rally last night, it will be a hard day for the visitors from the upper end of the Willamette valley.

Salem high school has been resting for the last two weeks and is in fine fettle for the contest today. Scrimmage has been dished out judiciously since the football men took Forest Grove into camp to the score of 12 to 0. While this two weeks' vacation from a hard game may be of advantage, this may be offset somewhat by the fact that Salem has had only the one game this season.

The Forest Grove game brought to light some defects that Coach Huntington has been seeking to eliminate during the fortnight, namely a weakness in breaking up end runs. The coaching since the last game has been along this line chiefly.

Cottage Grove is coming here with a fair reputation and the visitors are heralded as being good timber. A victory this afternoon by Salem would boost the local team's prestige in interscholastic circles throughout the state.

The game this afternoon is scheduled to begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

More than 300 Salem high rooters serpented through the downtown streets last night in their pep rally for the grid battle with Cottage Grove today. The red and black yell artists wound back and forth across the street and gathered at the street intersections to do their stuff in victory yells.

At State and Liberty streets the rooters encountered police interference, two officers claiming that they were blocking traffic and endangering pedestrians and automobile traffic. At the entrance to the Liberty theater they were marshaled off by an officer who refused permission for them to carry out their usual custom of serpentine through the theaters.

Word was passed around that the police were attempting to halt the rally, under instructions.

"The police were given no orders to halt the rally," Chief Birtchet declared, when informed later of the incident. "Rallies are a good thing, and I would rather see them out there yelling than sneaking in some pool hall. All that the police ask is that they do not block traffic for an unreasonable length of time. They were not allowed to enter the theater because of the complaint of the theater manager. There is a danger to traffic in a large number of cars following the serpentine and then stopping at the intersections, but there has never been any great amount of trouble in the past."

VANDALS DEFEAT GONZAGA 13-0

Idaho's Fast Football Machine Breaks Up Aerial Attack Easily

MOSCOW, Idaho, Nov. 2.—Idaho's football machine scored a 13 to 0 victory over the Gonzaga Bulldogs here this afternoon in a game featured mostly by straight playing. The Vandals broke up Gonzaga's aerial attack without much difficulty during the game.

Idaho scored in the second period when Davis crossed the Gonzaga line, and again in the third with Kieffner carrying the ball. Stockton for Gonzaga showed up well, with Fitzke, Kieffner and Stivers playing well for Idaho.

BOXING

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Jack Renault, rugged Canadian heavyweight battered Floyd Johnson, Iowa battler, into defeat tonight in the fifteenth and last round of a furious spectacular fight in Madison Square Garden.

Renault scored a technical knockout when Johnson's seconds tossed a towel into the ring after the Iowa had gone down twice in the final round under the Canadian's battering attack. But Johnson, though, helpless and bleeding from cuts about the head was on his feet when the end came staggering back by instinct to the fray he had lost only after one of the most courageous ring exhibitions ever witnessed in the historic Garden arena.
