Evolution

A fire mist and a planet, a crystal and a shell;
A jellyfish and a saurian, and a cave where the cavemen dwell.
Then a sense of law and beauty, and a face turned from the clod;
Some call it Evolution—others call it God.

A mist on the far horizon, the infinite tender sky;
The ripe, rich gleam of the corn fields, and the wild geese sailing high.
And all over upland and lowland, the charm of the goldenrod.
Some of us call it Autumn—others call it God.

A wave on the crescent sea beach, when the moon is pale and thin;
Into our hearts his longings come welling and surging in.
Come from the mystic ocean, whose rim no foot has trod.
Some of us call it longing—others call it God.

A picket frozen on duty; a mother starved for her brood;
Socrates drinking the hemlock, and Jesus on the road.
And thousands and thousands of nameless, who the straight hard path have trod.
Some call it Consecration—others call it God.

Miss Amelia Babcock, a popular Salem maid, announced her engagement to Oliver C. Jessup of Portland, last night during the dinner hour at the Alpha Chi Omega sorority house at Corvallis. Over 50 sisters of the sorority were seated around the table elaborately decorated for the annual homecoming dinner in red carnations and red and green streamers, the official colors of the organization. The news of the engagement was cleverly concealed in walnut favors hanging pendant from the ceiling and green streamers. Included in each gift was a medicine capsule in which was found a piece of paper bearing the names of the affianced. During the dinner hour Mr. Jessup also made known the engagement at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house.

Both Miss Babcock and Mrs. Jessup are seniors at the Oregon Agricultural college, and the recent announcement comes as the culmination of a romance begun during their freshman year. Miss Babcock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Babcock of 631

North Commercial street, and is a popular member of the younger set. During her four years at college she has made a host of warm friends. She is a student in the department of commerce, and has held a number of responsible offices in her sorority.

Mr. Jessup is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jessup of Portland. He has taken a prominent part in college athletics, and is active in the campus organizations. He was a member of the 1924 Beaver staff and is this year house manager of his fraternity. The engagement was first made known to a small number of close friends and members of the two families at a dinner at the Babcock home last month.

Transformed into a bower of autumn leaves, rose berries, Indian robes and jack-o'-lanterns, the basement of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith was the scene of a much merrier Friday evening when 16 boys were the guests of Lawrence and Robert Smith at a real boy's Halloween party. Peanut contests, relay races, apple games and numerous other lively stunts filled the evening of fun for the boys. For supper the guests took their places at a long table over which Jack-o'-lanterns cast his cheerful grin. The candles, the place cards and the candies all were in the colors of Halloween. At each place was a small novelty pastry, centered with a burning candle, against which leaned a black cat. Orange ice cream and cider completed the menu. Mrs. Smith was assisted by Mrs. W. E. Hansen during the evening.

Twenty-five friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Swart Wednesday evening at a Halloween party. During the evening little Beverly Swart delighted the guests with a clever Jack-o'-lantern dance, given in costume. The greater part of the evening was passed at games and various special stunts planned for the affair. Refreshments were served at small tables attractively decorated with favors and place cards suggesting All Saint's eve. At a late hour a quartet of university students gave the party a serenade.

The Women's Home Missionary societies of the Jason Lee, Leslie and First Methodist churches of Salem will be hostesses Wednesday at an all-day meeting of all the societies of the district. Mrs. W. O. Shepard will preside during the day. The meeting will be in the form of a rally and reports from the recent national convention held in Sioux City, Ia., will be made. Speakers of the day will be Mrs. E. J. Maple, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Davis, field worker; Miss Olla Davis, who will give a report of the Portland settlement center; Mrs. H. H. Vandevort, young people's work, and Mrs. E. C. Miller on children's work. The meeting will begin at 10:30 Wednesday morning.

Miss Winifred Byrd is expected to arrive in Portland Wednesday where she will be met by Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Byrd. Miss Byrd will visit at the home of Dr. W. H. Byrd until her concert here on November 15. Her homecoming is always the motif of a number of formal social affairs.

Of interest to a number of Salem friends is the announcement of the marriage of Carl V. Booth of Salem and Miss Agnes Wadsworth of Portland, which was an event of the past week at the home of the bride's parents in Portland. Mrs. Booth is a teacher in the school at Aurora and will continue her work there for the remainder of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Weller entertained at an informal dinner last evening Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Moores of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crockett and son, Oliver of Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Moores have been guests during the week at the Weller home. The Crocketts motored from the north yesterday to attend the game at Corvallis and will continue their homeward journey today.

The parish house was the scene of a jolly Halloween party Wednesday afternoon when the children of the St. Paul's church school came in mask to celebrate the event of All Saint's day. The hours were merrily spent at games, and later in the afternoon refreshments in the form of pumpkin pie and cider were served.

Miss Virginia Byrd, who for the past year has been employed in the government land office at Halley, Idaho, has been transferred permanently to the land office in Portland. The change was made during the past week, when Miss Byrd arrived in Portland Wednesday evening to take up her new work Thursday morning. It has been over a year since she has visited at her home in Salem, and already she is planning on making a week-end visit, although the time has not been definitely set.

The newly elected officers of the Salem Arts league will be guests of honor at an informal reception given by the members of the league Thursday evening in the T. S. Roberts' studio, at the hour of 8:30. The reception, which is the first social function sponsored by the club since the beginning of the fall activities, will be informal, and all members, friends and those interested in any section of the league are extended a cordial invitation to be present.

Mr. Robert C. Paul is the newly elected president; Mrs. Gertrude Robison Ross and Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, vice presidents; Mrs. Monroe Gilbert, art director; Miss Ola Clark, secretary; Mr. W. C. Dibble, treasurer, and Mrs. Merrill Ohling, publicity editor. Arrangements for the reception are in charge of Mrs. F. S. Barton and Mrs. J. M. Clifford. The following Arts League members comprise the reception committee:

Mrs. J. W. Harrison, chairman; Mrs. George M. Brown, Mrs. B. F. Brunk, Mr. F. S. Barton, Mr. J. M. Clifford, Mrs. F. N. Derby, Mrs. W. F. Fargo, Miss Kathryn Gunnell, Mrs. J. W. Harrison, Mrs. Blanche Jones, Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Miss Helen Pearce, Mr. Otto Paulus, Miss Frances Richards and Mrs. S. H. Van Trump.

Installation of the new officers of the year played a prominent part in the program of the meeting of the Highland Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon at the Highland school. With a few words of appreciation for the cooperation and support of the association of the past year, Mrs. N. E. Abbott, retiring president, gave the chair to Mrs. G. M. Stoner.

"The Flower Market in Holland," a hand tinted picture by Harriman, has been purchased for the annual picture contest. For the second month grade six will keep the picture in their room. During the past year the Highland association has operated and financed a soup kitchen, maintained a branch library, and has purchased the school picture, dishes for the children's lunches, books for community singing, and the flag for the school. At the opening of the present school year the treasurer reported $85 in the general treasury and $50 in the fund set aside for the maintenance of the soup kitchen for the children of the school during the winter.

For the pleasure of their young music students, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Churchill entertained at their home Wednesday evening with a Halloween party. As a background for the music and games at which the evening was merrily passed, the rooms were seasonably decorated in Halloween effect. Among those who enjoyed the evening were Mildred Drager, Mildred Shields, Doris Anrub, Isabel Morehouse, Evelyn Cummings, Adaline Seymour, Kathryn Ellis, Velma Luthy, Theresa Ulrich, Marian Shaw, Kenneth Klein, Luch Klein, Marjorie Wellington, Roberta Varley, Richard Zooley, Le Velle Keene, Velma Leuke and Zeltha White.

Another attractive affair of the last week was the bridge luncheon of Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Hoitis Huntington and Mrs. Fred Kay were hostesses to a large number of society matrons. Autumn leaves and large chrysanthemums were effectively used in the decoration of the rooms. Seven tables were in play during the afternoon and an additional number of guests called during the ten hour, four-thirty o'clock. The first prize for the card score went to Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., the second to Mrs. Clifford Farmer, and Mrs. William Bell made low score.

At the bridge tables during the games were Mrs. Prince Byrd, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. Arthur Zahn, Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. W. Connell Dyer, Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. Paul Henricks, Mrs. Clifton Irwin, Mrs. Iomer Egan, Mrs. Allan Carson, Mrs. Donald Young, Mrs. Robert McNary, Mrs. J. Shelly Spaurman, Mrs. Lewis Griffith, Mrs. Ed Law, Mrs. H. A. Cornoyer, Mrs. Paul Wallace, Mrs. George White, Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. Robert Roberts, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. William Lytle, Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. Hug McCammon, Mrs. Orris Fry, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. Freyman Boise, Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. Frederick Lampert, Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. Keith Powell of Woodburn, Mrs. Howard Peterson, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mrs. Alan Bynon of Portland.

Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. E. C. Cross, Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. Henry Meyers, Mrs. Charles Gray called during the tea hour.

Last night saw the close of the three day rummage sale conducted under the auspices of the Bridge Luncheon club in the new show room of the H. L. Stiff furniture store. The success of the enterprise is evidenced in the report of the proceeds from the sale which names $289.03 as the amount taken in during Thursday, Friday and Saturday. In addition to the rummage sale yesterday the matrons of the club held a cooked food sale, and the many savory dishes sent in by friends of the club disappeared almost before they could be arranged for display.

The furniture and drapes for the waiting room at the new Salem hospital for which the money from the sale will be used, was ordered yesterday and is expected to arrive the last of this week, so the actual work of decorating and furnishing will soon be under way.

Window hangings and cushions of black chintz in gay patterns of old rose, orchid and French gray will be effective and colorful on the orchid tinted walls with woodwork of French gray. Japanese prints of delicate shades will decorate the walls, and the polychrome lighting fixtures are tinted in the same harmonious shades of the general scheme. Linoleum for the floor covering was ordered in the large gray and black tile effect which will prove particularly effective in contrast to the lighter colors on the walls. A table, a settee, a writing desk and chair, and an arm chair in gray willow with an arm chair and fern box of black willow will complete the furnishings.

The local branch voted yesterday to be responsible for one of the booths which will sell Christmas seals during December. Mrs. Grover C. Bollinger, a member of the association and chairman of the seal sale for the city, proposed the plan which received the approval of the members. It was also voted to subscribe for the national journal for all the local and associate members from the dues which they pay into the local organization. The national members receive the magazine with their membership dues which are sent to the national headquarters.

The next meeting is to be a covered dish luncheon to be served probably at the YMCA when the members will contribute the price they would have paid for the luncheon elsewhere, to a fund to be raised for the national club house in Washington. The last convention pledged the members to completed payment on the building before next April.

Members and guests at the luncheon yesterday responded to roll call yesterday by giving their name and college.

Mrs. J. F. Braumbaugh of Corvallis and a graduate of Dakota Wesleyan university, Mitchell, S. Dakota, was an out of town guest at the luncheon.

Mrs. J. F. Braumbaugh of Corvallis was a guest yesterday of Mrs. J. M. Devers. Mrs. Braumbaugh is a prominent clubwoman of Corvallis and is a past president of the Faculty Folk club which is federated with the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. Raymond Walsh and small daughter, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh are living for a while south of Eugene where Mr. Walsh is in business.

The teachers of the primary department of the Central Congregational church were delightful entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. J. A. Brockman, and Mrs. Harry Zeldorf at a Halloween party. The rooms were attractive in appropriate figures and colors of the day.

After an afternoon of lively games the guests were led through the "ghost gate" into the dining room where refreshments were served at a daintily appointed table decorated in Halloween motif.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. G. M. Campbell was hostess at her new home on the Pacific highway for the regular meeting of the Brooks Community club. The Halloween idea was effectively used in the decorations and in the refreshments. The hostess was assisted during the afternoon by her daughter, Mrs. Lyman Sunday of Salem, and her niece, Mrs. F. E. Tate of Waterloo, Ia.

A special evening of music will be enjoyed at the First Presbyterian church this evening beginning at 7:30. The program includes a number of organ solos, violin solos, quartette numbers and other features. Following is the program:

Organ, "Communion in E" Gerson. Double Quartet, "Come Unto Him," Rogers. Scripture and Prayer. Offertory, "Verset," Gigout. Hymn, "O For a Thousand Tongues to Sing," the Congregation.

"The Music of the Bible," the Minister. Violin solo, "The Romance," Rubenstein, Iva Claire Love. Solo, "Like As the Heart," Al-Hissen, Evangeline Barlette Long. Organ and piano, Prof. Lanier and Mr. Arnold. Double Quartet, "I Waited for the Lord," Mendelssohn. Benediction. Postlude, "Prelude and Fugue in C," Bach.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cleveland and their daughter, Hazel, and little grandson, Orton Goodwin, motored from Portland Saturday to spend the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Powers on the Pacific highway north of Salem.

Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Byrd with Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Byrd motored to Corvallis yesterday to attend the football game.

Miss Bertha Chittick has returned to her home in Salem after a three months' visit to London, Ont., and Detroit, Mich.

EVALINA SHOPPING GOES

DON'T let this Christmas pass without giving the boy something with wheels that will really go. THE RAY L. FARMER HARDWARE STORE is showing a good line of sturdy vehicles for the kiddies ranging from the little red wheel barrow and scooter to the wire wheeled, fully equipped sport car. Kiddie Kars, Kiddie aKris, coaster wagons, tricycles, everything to satisfy the young Americans' desire to "make the wheels go round." Think of the pleasure one of these toys will give the children, and the ruddy cheeks and bright eyes that follow lots of out of door exercise! Shop early, this year.

THE special rug sale of last week at HAMILTON'S is being extended into this week, too. Every piece of floor covering in the store, from the imported Chinese orientals, the Wiltons and tapestries to congoletum and linoleum for the kitchen and bath-room floors is marked to a lower cost for the early Christmas shopper. Remarkable concessions are evidenced in the prices of the Gold Seal congoletum rugs. Now, before the stock is reduced, is the time to make your selection. A Chinese oriental or Wilton will make a beautiful gift for the home. If so desired, your purchase will be held in the store until Christmas.

WITH the straight silhouette of the mode it is the simplest thing in the world to have a variety of lovely gowns, for you can make your own. With a Deltor pattern, a piece of Malleson's silk, a thimble, needle and thread, plus a few hours of work, you will have a dinner gown as smart as any seen on Fifth Avenue. To encourage the thrifty one, MILLER'S are making this a "sewing week" featuring all the new fabrics for fall and winter. The notion shop will cooperate with the dress goods department to supply all the little needs of the needle woman. You who are making quilts for the Christmas bazaar will welcome the news that MILLER'S are selling the Rock River cotton bats at a special mark.

NESTLE permanent oil wave such as they are giving at the MARINELLO BEAUTY SHOP, 245 N. High street, will transform your hair into a mass of soft, glossy ringlets and curls—so natural that Nature herself would think them her own handiwork. The new oil process keeps the hair soft and lustrous without a trace of the harshness which results from the chemicals used in the other processes of permanent waving.

Paris dresses little brother and sister alike. In fact, it's becoming quite a fad in New York to dress all the children in one family alike. Black felt interwoven in basket weave with black crepe ribbon giving the effect of leather makes a stunning little black cloche.

THE fall mode is contrary in its mood. It lifts the skirt several inches from the ground during the day, then drops it completely for the evening. ANOTHER idea for Christmas! A beaded bag—why not? When you can make those lovely ones yourself at such low cost. All you need is a crochet hook, thread, beads, a metal top and chain, and gumption enough to follow the simplest kind of directions. THE SALEM ELITE HEM- STITCHING SHOP has just received a stock of over 40 varieties of beads, all colors, in cut steel and iridescent. They also have the loveliest sterling tops, some in plain carved design and others with stone sets to match the beads. Complete instructions are a part of every order, and they are so simple to make!

TUCKED away in a corner up stairs in the Derby building, found Mrs. J. H. Lammers busy at a bee in her needle craft shop. She has the daintiest of luncheon and breakfast sets, towels, bed sets and all sorts of things all embroidered and ready for gifts, as well as stamped pieces ready for your own needle. Her patterns in children's clothes and aprons are decidedly different, and her prices are unbelievable.

THE circular flare has invaded the realm of sports skirts. Brown and white checked wool is used in one model.

A party frock for a little girl is composed entirely of 2-inch tucks, the circular yoke of three tucks, giving the sleeve effect. It is trimmed in handmade roses.
