Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bonesteel returned Sunday from their wedding trip through Washington and eastern Oregon, and after spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Bonesteel's father, William H. Golding of Portland, they will come to Salem to make their home. Mrs. Bonesteel will be remembered as Gertrude Golding, and her marriage was an event of October 17.

Miss Delight L. Evans and William Blake were quietly married at the First Methodist church parsonage Saturday afternoon with only members of the two families witnessing the ceremony, which was read by the Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick. The bride wore a traveling suit of dark cloth, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. After a wedding trip spent in the Puget Sound cities, Mr. and Mrs. Blake will make their home in Portland. Mrs. Blake is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans, well known fruit grower of the Keizer bottom district. Mr. Blake is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blake of Willow Lake farm. Friday evening the bride was the inspiration for a lovely shower given at the home of Mrs. Bert Evans.

The T. S. Roberts studio will be the scene of an informal reception given by the members of the Salem Arts league in honor of the newly elected officers. All members of the league and friends are invited to call during the evening.

Mrs. Mary A. Howell is leaving this morning for Long Beach, Cal., where she expects to remain for the winter. She will be at the Panama apartments.

The Salem district of the State Music Teachers' association held the first meeting of the year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Churchill Tuesday evening. Mrs. Harry Styles was elected president for the year; Miss Elma Weller, vice president, and Mrs. Julia Weigel was given the office of secretary. Miss Allie Chandler was re-elected as treasurer. Although there will not be another meeting before the state convention in Portland, nothing definite was decided about the delegates who will be sent to represent this district. Following the business session, Mr. and Mrs. Churchill gave a complete record recital of the opera "Rigoletto," Mrs. Churchill reading the lines and Mr. Churchill playing the records. Over one hour and a half was devoted to the music.

Over 15 members of the modern writers' section of the Salem Arts league met for the regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Robison Ross. During the course of the evening Mrs. F. S. Barton read a group of short lyrics, and Mrs. Blanche Jones read a short sketch from her collection called "Janet-Out-of-Doors," the manuscript of which is ready for publication. She also read a poem she has recently completed. Miss Grace Smith read a lovely sketch of a desert scene which was written for her correspondence class in connection with the University of Oregon. Mrs. Viola Price-Franklin delighted the group with an interesting account of her visit last summer to the home of the Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley, in Indiana. She also read one of her own poems. Perry Reigleman read one of his short stories from a recent issue of the People's Popular monthly magazine.

During the business session plans were made for the reception of the league this evening, and also much discussion was aroused on the question of just what part the modern writers' section should play in the general meeting of the league which will be held in the city library Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Richard Wetjen were guests for the evening. Mr. Wetjen is one of the prominent writers for the current publications, and Mrs. Ross had a number of English magazines to which he had sold the English right to many of the same stories which have been published in America.

Ralph Bailey of Salem, a junior in the school of law at the University of Oregon, is one of the five men chosen for the varsity debate teams which will contest with OAC and Reed college on December 8. The question for the triangular debate is, "Resolved, that the United States should immediately recognize the Soviet government of Russia."

With four years of debating experience gained in the Salem high school Bailey entered the university in 1921 and made the varsity debating team in his freshman year. Last year he represented the university at the tri-state oratorical

SAN FRANCISCO FIRM BUYS OREGON COW

JANIS OF SEQUOIA

R. C. Hallberg of Salem, who is now making a start in the fancy cattle business, yesterday purchased at a sale on the grounds of the Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland four Guernsey animals for a total of $2000, paying $800 for one of them. Mr. Hallberg was also a competitive bidder for Janis of Sequoia, who was knocked down to the Sunset Feathers company of San Francisco for $1500, the top figure of the sale. She was consigned by Cottonwood farm of Tillamook.

The Women's Union of the First Congregational church will hold an all-day meeting Friday at the church, in preparation for the bazaar which will be an event of December 5. The women are expected to contribute to the pot-luck dinner at noon. It is urged that all members of the union be present at this meeting to assist in making articles for the bazaar. For those who do not bring their own pieces there will be a number of things cut out and ready for the hand work.

The ladies' aid of the WRC will hold an all-day work meeting today in the armory. The noon meal will be in the order of a pot-luck dinner, and each woman is asked to bring her own dishes and silverware. Quilting and sewing for the bazaar of November 24 will be the work of the day.

Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger will be hostess to the members of the Rappaherian club at her home this afternoon at the hour of 2:30.

The sale was put on by the Guernsey Breeders' association and was managed by E. A. Rhoten of Salem. Thirty-eight head were sold for a total of $12,365. Buyers were present from Oregon, Washington and California.

The OAC club meets this evening at the home of Mrs. J. R. Luper, 185 South Fifteenth street, for a homecoming party.

New Church in Spring. — BUGEENE, Nov. 7. — Hopes to have construction work on the proposed new Congregational church of this city under way by early spring and the building completed before the opening of another college year, were expressed by officials of the church at a meeting of the Congregational Brotherhood held last evening at the Anchorage.

The new building, which will cost approximately $50,000, is to be erected on the southwest corner of Thirteenth avenue east and Ferry street. Plans for the structure will be drafted in the near future, according to W. H. L. Marshall, pastor, as expectations are that active efforts to complete the building will soon start.

Hail! The Sensation of the Year!

Always Correct in Construction NOW, Supreme in Its Beauty

The NEW Star 1924 Car

Announced November 4th, the 1924 STAR CAR instantly proved itself the sensation of the year.

City, town and village have viewed this creation of beauty, have examined this mechanical masterpiece, fashioned by Durant, and have given their stamp of approval. With the qualities of sturdiness and correct chassis construction—qualities which sold 125,000 Star Cars within the last twelve months—is now combined new beauty of body, new refinement of line, radiator, hood, and general appointments. To you, who awaited the fulfillment of Durant's promise to build the greatest light car value ever produced, has now been presented the most beautiful car in its class—the aristocrat of light cars.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mrs. J. A. Carson and Mrs. E. E. Fisher went to Woodburn yesterday afternoon to meet with the committee from the Woodburn Woman's club to arrange for the sale of Christmas seals in that city. Mrs. D. S. Parr will be chairman of the committee in charge of the drive there.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Williams of Newberg are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a baby daughter November 3. The baby weighed only 5 1/4 pounds at birth, and Edith Isabel has been chosen as her name. Until just recently Mr. and Mrs. Williams were Salem residents.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Dillon will be sorry to learn of the death of the baby son which was born to them at the Salem hospital Saturday evening. The baby died soon after birth. The mother is progressing as well as can be expected, and will be confined to the hospital for at least the next two weeks.

Mrs. Herbert Hauser will be hostess to the members of the Kensington club tomorrow afternoon at her home on North Winter street. The hours will be pleasantly passed at chatting and needle work.

The homecoming committee of the Willamette university is looking for sufficient rooms to accommodate 150 guests for the weekend. All residents of Salem who will be able to contribute sleeping accommodations for Friday and Saturday nights free of charge are asked to call the university office.
