

Glee Society

By BETTI KESSI, Phone 106

Herbert Jasper of Portland has been chosen manager of the freshman glee, the annual song contest which is to be held in the armory, as in former years. The exact date of the glee has not yet been fixed. The freshman glee of the Willamette university is a tradition which is known among the schools and colleges all over the country. It is reported that a number of the large eastern colleges have become interested in the event that they have written for detailed information concerning the affair. It has been the custom for many years for each class or group of students to bring to the glee an original song which the group will sing. The reward of a college pennant goes to the group who brings the best song and gives the best performance.

Already the women's literary societies of Willamette university have placed the list of preferences in the office of the dean of women, and Saturday the sealed bids will be mailed to the names approved by Dean Richards. All invitations will be answered by Monday evening and the tension of rushing will be at an end.

A basket of artistically arranged fruits centered the table over which Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner presided as hostess to the members of the Capitol Bridge Luncheon club Wednesday afternoon for a 1 o'clock luncheon and an afternoon of bridge. Yellow chrysanthemums were effectively used in the living rooms where four tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon. After the scores for the games were added, the prize went to Mrs. Ed Baker.

This is the second meeting of the club since its reorganization a short time ago at a luncheon given by Mrs. L. F. Griffith. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. R. E. Leo Steiner November 28.

The members of the Monday Bridge club and their husbands, with a number of additional guests were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson. The evening was spent at bridge, and the winners of the high score were Mrs. Arthur Moore and R. E. Anderson.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crain, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Steusloff, Mrs. D. M. Crouse, Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Neer. The club members and their husbands were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Poisal, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Anderson, Mrs. Ann Klein, Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. B. Goodin, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hald and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson.

After the Apollo club concert of Tuesday night, Dr. and Mrs. John R. Sites entertained with an informal supper party at The Spa for the pleasure of the members of the New York string quartet, who assisted the club during the evening. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Williams, Mr. J. A. Weber, Mr. C. I. Muston, Mr. Albert Gille, Mr. A. B. Hansen, and the members of the string quartet, Otakar Cadek, first violin; Jaroslav Siskovsky, second violin; Ludvik Schwab, viola, and Bedrich Vaska, cello.

During the evening it was learned that the violin used by Otakar Cadek is a rare old Stradivarius, made in the year 1718, and has been loaned to him by John W. Frithingham of New York, the wealthy collector of stringed instruments. The viola, played by Ludvik Schwab, is also an antique made by the old Venetian violin maker, Gosriller, in the year 1728. Mr. Schwab was for a number of years accompanist for Kubelik, and is a well known composer of songs. The encore of Tuesday evening, "L'Oriental," was arranged for the stringed quartet by him. Altogether he has written over 200 compositions.

The ladies of Chadwick chapter of Eastern Star met for their usual social afternoon in the Masonic hall Tuesday. The time was spent chatting and at needlework. At the close of the social hour lovely refreshments were served by Mrs. Homer Ingrey, Mrs. M. N. Chapman, Mrs. Wayne Henry, Mrs. E. A. Rhoten and Mrs. John Biewer, who were hostesses for the afternoon.

During the afternoon plans were discussed for the annual Eastern Star card party and dance to be given in the armory on the eve of Thanksgiving. Mr. Charles Pratt is general chairman of the affair and Mrs. Ira Darby with Mrs. Al Steiner, Mrs. Lou Grote and Mrs. Glen Niles will have charge of the card party. As yet no definite plans for the details of the occasion have been made.

A double wedding ceremony was performed last night by Dr. W. C. Kantner at the parsonage of the First Congregational church. The two couples were from Albany.

Miss Grace Pearl Barrett became the bride of Frank C. Barker, and Miss Viola Victorine Volle the bride of Ernest Soderstrom. The ceremony was held at nine o'clock.

Miss Mary Miller, also of Albany, and Bert Langston of Marshfield were married at the First Congregational parsonage last Saturday, Dr. Kantner officiating.

Because Mrs. W. I. Staley was injured in an automobile accident Tuesday morning and was not able to attend the YWCA board meeting which was scheduled for the afternoon, the meeting has been postponed until a later date when Mrs. Staley has recovered from her injuries sufficiently to preside.

Mrs. W. Robert McMurray and her small son, Bobby, or Portland have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins since last Saturday. Mrs. McMurray was a special guest at the meeting of the bridge luncheon club Tuesday, and will be a guest this afternoon when Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. P. Powell entertain with seven tables of bridge at the home of Mrs. Hawkins. Mrs. McMurray plans on returning to her home in Portland the latter part of the week.

Rose colored chrysanthemums added a touch of cheerful color to the rooms and the daintily appointed luncheon table over which Mrs. Prince Byrd presided as hostess to the Bridge Luncheon club for a one o'clock luncheon and afternoon of bridge, Tuesday. A number of special guests for the occasion included Miss Rose Amort, Mrs. Robert McNary, Mrs. Paul Wallace, Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. D. W. Eyre, Mrs. Clifford Farmer, and Mrs. W. Robert McMurray of Portland. The guest prize for the games went to Mrs. McMurray.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tewksbury, formerly of Hood River, left for California Tuesday evening after spending the past week in Salem as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore on North Church street. Mr. and Mrs. Tewksbury are going south with the idea of finding a desirable location for a new home in the southern part of California.

Miss Lucille Moore spent the week-end visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore. She is a sophomore in the school of home economics at Oregon Agricultural college where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Thanksgiving day at high noon the wedding of Miss Helen Aspinwall and Earl Busselle will be celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ellen Aspinwall of Brooks. It will be a simple home wedding with about 50 relatives and friends present. Since the announcement of her engagement the bride-elect has been much feted with showers and informal affairs.

Something unique in the way of pre-nuptial affairs was the "recipe shower" given for Miss Helen Aspinwall at her home in Brooks Tuesday afternoon when a group of the mothers of Miss Aspinwall's friends called to give the bride-elect their favorite recipes. The afternoon was pleasantly passed chatting and exchanging recipes. All of the guests were old acquaintances. Those present were Mesdames L. W. Beck, B. W. Noot, M. Wesch, F. W. Gian, Clara Fuller, Maude Tornter, G. L. Lovell, Delia Riggs, Anna Oeath, Della Brettenstein, Esther Ormsby and Ellen Aspinwall.

Miss Gladys Harbit left Monday evening for New York city where she will visit with the family of her brother during the winter. On her way to the east she will make a brief stop at Salt Lake City and Chicago. For the past year Miss Harbit has been employed as a saleswoman in the Willis music store. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harbit, accompanied her as far as Portland.

Mrs. C. K. Logan is spending the day in Portland where she will be a guest at a large tea given by Chapter A of PEO Sisterhood at the home of Mrs. C. W. King in Portland.

Over 250 cards have been issued to the young women of the university, the women of the faculties of the university and Kimball school, and the wives of the trustees of Willamette university, for the annual reception given by Miss Frances M. Richards, dean of women at Willamette university. The reception will take place Saturday in Lausanne hall, the calling hours being from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. This is a strictly university affair and no invitations have been sent outside the university circle.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MONEY RETURNED TO PURCHASERS

Portion Not Needed in Capitol Street Improvement Is Given Back

Assessments are a common thing, but it is not often that dividends are distributed, at least in public. Last night at the Salem Chamber of Commerce meeting Fred Erickson, chairman of the Capitol street highway committee, handed out checks to lot purchasers amounting to over 11 per cent of the original price. This dividend was made possible by the careful, economical management of the committee.

The culmination of years of effort by the committee and especially by Mr. Erickson, that resulted in the opening and paving of Capitol street, was suitably recognized by a rising vote of thanks.

A report on the corn show and industrial exhibit to be held at the armory on November 22-24, was made by the agricultural director.

All of the space has been taken by the manufacturers of the city. There is a lot of interest among corn growers, and the prospects are for a big show. A fine musical and speaking program each evening, with free admission should guarantee a big attendance. It is an opportunity for Salem people to recognize both the city's big manufacturing industry and the rapidly growing corn show. A feature of the show will be exhibits by the boys' corn clubs and by the girls' canning and baking clubs.

J. E. Crothers, a loganberry grower, was present and invited to discuss the loganberry industry. He recited the difficulties that are besetting the loganberry growers, and the big loss to the community the past year by the failure to harvest the berries, and made an appeal to the business interests of Salem to help market the berries.

He was invited to make an exhibit of loganberries at the corn show, and probably will accept the invitation.

A vote of thanks was given to P. M. Gregory for his liberality in serving 100 gallons of loganberry punch at the state house during the capital-to-capital highway celebration.
