Miss Jeffrey Petri will present Miss Dorothy Pearce in recital Thursday evening, November 22, at the First Presbyterian church at 8:30 o'clock. Invitations have been issued to over 400 guests.

Prof. F. B. Launer has gone to Portland to spend the week-end. Monday night he will attend the Winifred Myrd concert at the Oregon auditorium and Tuesday night he will be a special guest at the regular monthly meeting of the McDowell club at the Malinmah hotel. Mr. Launer has been asked to play during the musical program, which is always a part of the meeting, to which invitation he will respond with a group of the Chopin preludes.

The friends of Mrs. F. W. Launer will be glad to know of her return to Salem Friday evening. Her health is so much improved that she is now able to be about and greet her friends. Mrs. Launer has been in Albany for the past eight months, where she has been taking treatments while convalescing from a long and serious illness.

One of the largest affairs of the Willamette university calendar of the year was the tea of yesterday afternoon when Miss Frances M. Richards, dean of women of Willamette university, received at tea over 260 women of the university, including students, faculty members of both Willamette and the Kimball school, and the wives of the trustees, in the drawing rooms of Lausanne hall.

Bronze and yellow chrysanthemums mingled with the reds and rust colors of the autumn leaves were effectively used for decorating the parlors, while the dining room offered a delightful contrast in the dainty colors of yellow and blue. Yellow chrysanthemums and blue candles centered the tea tables over which Mrs. E. C. Richards and Mrs. W. E. Kirk presided during the first hour, and Mrs. George H. Alden and Mrs. Alice H. Dodd poured during the second hour. The two predominant colors were carried out in the ice and mints.

The junior girls living in the dormitory assisted in the dining room and the senior girls assisted in the drawing room. Miss Richards with Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney greeted the guests. During the calling hours Miss Iva Claire played a group of violin solos, including "Melodie" (Gluck-Kreisler) and Gavotte by Gossec. Miss Valena Jenks entertained with a number of piano solos, "Lento" by Cyril Scott, "Juba Dance" by Dett, and Scherzo by Mendelssohn. "An Irish Love Song" by Margaret Lang and "I Wonder If Ever the Rose" by Dick Slater were sung by Miss Kathleen La Raue and Miss Mildred Maple sang "Under My Heart I Carried You" by William Stickles and "The Star" by Rogers.

Mrs. W. Robert McMurray and her small son, who have been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins for the past week left for their home in Portland Friday morning.

Mrs. Keith Powell and Mrs. Harry Hawkins were hostesses Thursday afternoon for seven tables of bridge at the home of Mrs. Hawkins on West Lincoln street. Huge pink and lavender chrysanthemums in baskets were arranged about the rooms adding a bit of color and autumn fragrance for the pleasure of the occasion. The high score for the games was won by Mrs. William Walton, the second high score was given to Mrs. Clifton Irwin, and Mrs. Curtis Cross took the consolation. The afternoon was terminated with a few minutes of chatting over the tea cups.

To welcome the sophomores as full-fledged members of the associated student body of the Salem high school, the officers and members of that organization were hosts for the annual sophomore reception Friday evening at the high school. This is the first social event of the year to be given by the student body and will be perhaps the largest event of the year. It is estimated that over 700 guests were present during the evening.

From 7 to 8 o'clock the guests were greeted in the upstairs hall of the high school building by the officers of the student body and the officers of the junior and senior classes and their advisors. In one line stood Benoit McCroskey, president of the associated students; Prof. R. U. Moore, Miss Grace Snook, junior class advisor; Gerald Mero, president of the sophomore class; Pauline Nolan, Bernice Mulvey, Robert Ashby and Frances Tucker. In the second receiving line stood Louise Nunn, vice president of the student body; Miss Mabel Robertson, senior advisor; Miss Frances Rhubetz, Arthur Hamilton, Charlotte Zeiber, Mildred Gilbert, and Avery Thompson.

Ushers dressed in clown suits of red and black, the school colors, conducted the guests into the assembly room, where at the hour of 8 a program was arranged for their pleasure. The sophomores were presented with small red books, in which was written the "Ode to the Sophomores" composed by Lorraine Fletcher. During the intermission between the reception and program the high school orchestra played and a trio consisting of Edward Barsone, Manning Brass and William Wright entertained with a negro minstrel skit.

Louise Nunn, as vice president of the associated students, gave the address of welcome, which was followed by an address of welcome to the sophomores from the faculty. Benoit McCroskey interjected just what it means to be a member of the associated student body of the Salem high school and extended an invitation of membership to the sophomore class and welcomed them on the equality of the upper class members. Gerald Mero, president of the sophomore class, responded to the invitation. Jean Hobson entertained with a piano solo, "The Hungarian," by McDowell, and Jean Shipp and Faye Wassen dressed in eighteenth century costumes in green and lavender with powdered hair gave a charming colonial dance. "Sunshine and Rain" (F. Wyville Home) was beautifully sung by Mary McCrone and Mark Kightlinger gave a humorous reading entitled, "A Maid, a Man and a Dress Suit Case." A short play, "The Medicine Man," was presented by the Sniktaw Dramatic club, under the direction of Miss Ethel McGilchrist. The minstrel trio sang in humorous vein, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and Flora Fletcher concluded the program with the solo, "The Meadow Lark," by Abbie Gerrish-Jones.

Scotch broom foliage and rose haws were effectively used to decorate the gymnasium where refreshments of punch, waters and ice cream were served following the program. Presiding at the two punch tables were Bertha Gillis, assisted by Ella Hop Lee, Helen Arpke and Rovena Eyre, and Virginia Dorcus, assisted by Helen Marcus, Lorraine Pierce and Dorothy Hoson. Melvin Long, Paul Devers, Mark Waldespeil and Alvin Lennon served the ices.

Mrs. Harry Neet of Cottage Grove and her sister, Miss Marie

Jones, of Eugene are week-end guests at the home of their aunt, Mrs. W. C. Conner, of South Salem.

Mrs. Ben Vick and Mrs. Loveland entertained the ladies of the Jason Lee Aid society at the home of Mrs. Vick Friday afternoon. Needlework for the bazaar occupied the first part of the afternoon and later on a floral contest was played. Mrs. Richard Erickson winning first prize and the consolation going to Mrs. Charles Vick.

Three girls from Willamette university entertained with a short program in which Miss Fanning sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Hollingsworth, and a reading was given by Miss Neva Walker.

During the tea hours Mrs. C. G. Given and Mrs. Nellie Knox poured.

Complimenting Mrs. W. P. Lord and Miss Elizabeth Lord, who will leave soon for California, Mrs. W. E. Anderson was hostess at a charming luncheon in the Peacock room at the Gray Belle Monday. The lights from yellow and blue candles diffused a soft glow over the table, which was centered by a lovely floral bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, French marigolds, ageratum and delphiniums. Covers were placed for twelve.

Miss Nell Thielsen and Miss Beatrice Walton expect to leave by motor during the middle of the week for an extended trip through California. No definite plans are made for the trip, but their first decided stop will be in San Francisco, where they will visit with Miss Genevieve Halley. Trips to the towns and cities surrounding the bay city and the beaches will be enjoyed and later on, perhaps after Christmas, they will continue their journey to the southern part of the state, visiting Los Angeles and the beaches and other places of interest. Miss Thielsen and Miss Walton expect to be gone for several months.

Sewing for the annual church bazaar, an event of December 5, will keep the fingers busy at the meeting of the Junior Bazaar club of the First Congregational church tomorrow afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Fake, 830 South Twelfth street. The hostesses will be assisted during the afternoon by Mrs. W. D. Clarke and Mrs. W. B. Mott.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Walling of Auburn invited in a number of friends Wednesday evening to duly initiate a new piano which they have just recently installed in their home. The evening was pleasantly passed at chatting and music. Mrs. Charles M. Cady presided at the piano, while the group gathered about to sing the old favorite songs. A number of delightful solos were volunteered by Miss Marie Cade.

Those who enjoyed the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Cady, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pooler, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cade and daughter, Marie; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Snead, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Armstrong, Mrs. William Hardy, and little daughter, Wilma, of Salem; Mrs. E. A. Terry and her niece, Pauline Pierce and Helen Fordson, Mrs. Deacon, Norris Merrill, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Will Walling and daughters, Neva, Velma and Gladys.

At a late hour dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters.

In keeping with the season the W. C. T. U. meeting of Tuesday afternoon in the club rooms at the corner of Commercial and Ferry streets will be one of praise and thanksgiving, with a special program arranged for the occasion. Following the program the women will meet in a social way to enjoy chatting and a cup of tea. The W.C.T.U. is making up a Christmas box to send to the children at the Farm home near Corvallis, and contributions of toys, books, or anything in the line of gifts that will help make it a real Christmas for the kiddies will be appreciated. The box will be shipped sometime during the first two weeks of December.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Sites. The club is divided into four groups, and it has been the custom for each group to entertain the members of the club and their husbands at dinner some time during the club year. This is the first of the special dinners to be enjoyed in this manner.

Mrs. Charles Gray was hostess for a one o'clock luncheon at the Marion hotel yesterday, at which covers were laid for 10. Friday at 1 o'clock in the peacock room at the Gray Belle Mrs. Gray entertained for the same number of friends at luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. King of Portland are spending the week end in Salem visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Buckley and Mr. and Mrs. Elias Kilen. Mrs. King is a niece of Mrs. Beckley and Mrs. Kilen.

For the second meeting of the year Mrs. F. Von Eschen was hostess to the members of the faculty women's club of the university. The afternoon was spent in a social way chatting and with needlework, and a group of young maids from the Adelante literary society of the university, of which the hostess is a member, entertained the guests with a group of songs. Miss Jenelle Vandevort, Miss Fay Sparks and Miss Ruth Ross, with Miss Florence Young at the piano sang "O Sole Mio," "Lindy Lou" and the traditional Willamette song, "The Old Historic Temple."

Mrs. George Alden, Mrs. E. T. Richards and Miss Frances Richards assisted the hostess during the afternoon.

Something new in the way of refreshments were served in the form of individual pumpkin pies and rocky roads; the new concoction which the college maids have introduced by way of their midnight parties.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The W.C.T.U. will meet at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the club rooms on the corner of Commercial and Ferry streets.

The Junior Bazaar club of the First Congregational church will meet with Miss Mary Fake, 830 South Twelfth street, Monday afternoon at the hour of two.

SCHOOL REPORT IS MADE PUBLIC

Statement Shows Total Enrollment in Schools of Oregon During Year

The total enrollment in the public schools of Oregon for the school year 1922-1923 was 169,376, of which 85,367 were boys and 84,009 were girls, according to a report covering total figures for all counties in the state issued Saturday by J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools. "The total enrollment in the high schools of the state is 32,603," says the report, "while 136,773 were enrolled in the elementary grades. The increase in enrollment over the year 1921-1922 was 4916, of which number 2407 represents an increase in the high school enrollment. The percentage of attendance of the entire state was 94.8. Teachers employed number 2987, of whom 1033 have been graduated from standard normal schools since 1911, and 1361 graduated from standard colleges or universities. There were 561 graduates from the teachers' training courses in the high school, while about 2000 teachers hold certificates obtained through examination in Oregon. "The average monthly salary in one-room buildings was $102.90, in buildings of more than one room $121.58, while the average monthly salary of principals was $157.65. It must be kept in mind, however, that teachers are paid for eight or nine months during the school year. The average salary of male teachers was $165.20, which was an increase of $13.75 a month over last year. The average salary paid women teachers was $122.95, an increase of $8.00 a month over the previous year."

Cantilever Shoe

Have You Shoe Trouble?

SOME women go on from one pair of wrong shoes to another and finally become convinced that they have serious foot trouble. It may be only "shoe trouble."

Foot troubles develop gradually and you cannot find a remedy in an ordinary shoe. Nor can you find anything more than temporary relief in foot appliances. The true remedy for weak feet is to allow them to exercise—this is what the Cantilever Flexible Arch Shoe does for you. Your foot has breathing space in Cantilevers and your toes can stretch and find comfort, and yet the shoe is unusually attractive in appearance, made of the fashionable leathers and in perfect harmony with winter costumes. Come and see the Cantilever.

WITH its weird characters, beautiful ivories, hand-carved and hand-painted tiles, counters, mirror boxes, dice and cabinets, made by the hands of skilled native workmen in China, is it any wonder that Mah-Jong has threatened to supersede bridge as a social pastime? What romance there is hidden away in the little hand-carved cabinet, which breathes of the mysteries of the orient. The rapid action of the game and the quaintness of the characters appeal to the player with an absorbing fascination. THE COMMERCIAL BOOK STORE has a wonderful line of imported Mah-Jong sets, among which you will find just the thing for the club or for the private game.

FOR a smart Thanksgiving, a large assortment of party frocks of rare charm in a perfect riot of colors are being proffered to you by M. Bouffe at THE FENCH SHOP. The new straight line velvets in flame, cerise and plain colors are stunning and a black velvet model with silver lace is a thing of beauty. The dainty ingenue frocks of two-tone taffetas and metal laces will appeal to the young society buds. Especially striking is an imported gown of dull green and old gold, heavily beaded in oriental design. The gold and silver metal cloth models are gorgeous and particularly smart is a little gown of ambrosia crepe studded with rhinestones. The prices range from $29.50 up. A number of these lovely gowns will be on display in the windows over the week-end. Don't pass them by without stopping to enjoy their beauty.

There is no ornament of any kind, not even stitchery patterns, on one type of new shoes now on exhibition. These shoes depend for their effect on a glove fitting effect and on three or four narrow straps.

The corsage with a bias fold of silk in a color strikingly different from the rest of the gown is an idea often used recently. A white velvet gown with a bias half surplice effect in scarlet or a jade gown with a bias fold of green proves startling and beautiful.

IS your hair like that proverbial "crown of glory," or is it more unopetically a few numbered strands of despair? Take your hair troubles to the MARINELLO BEAUTY SHOP and see what Mrs. Irene Scott has to offer in the way of switches, transformations, and other pieces. Have you ever thought of having your combings or cutting made into a switch, or perhaps, one of those new double braids?

THAT'S a stunning sweater you're wearing, Nora. Would you mind telling me just where and how much—

"Not at all, Fran. I bought the six balls of Maypole at C. P. BISHOP'S for 30c per, invested in a Maypole knitting book, 10c; a pair of knitting needles, 30c, and did the rest myself. Just $2.20! Can you believe it?"

"It doesn't seem possible!"

"Oh, but it is. You know, Fran, those yarns are an inspiration for know my clothes will come back in perfect condition when the Standard does them for me. Why? Because they're master cleaned and dyed!

AT MILADY'S SHOP in the Derby building I found something new in the line of stamped goods and needlecraft work. There were the most adorable aprons and unbleached muslin bed sets with something original in the way of applique and cross-stitch. Mrs. Lammers tells me that she gives lessons free of charge with all materials purchased in the shop.

The vogue for gems scattered all over an evening gown has contrived today to get itself translated into street wear. Some of the early winter veils have gems of different sorts sewn lavishly through the mesh.

Handbags sharing in the general trend today toward the gorgeous, have a large amount of embroidery in gold thread upon a dark moire background. The tendency is to mass the embroidery in the middle of the bag or at one side, rather than to have an all-over pattern.

Among the fascinating top coats is one model especially liked. It is rather more than ankle length and three fuzzy ruffles of soft fur between ankle and knee.
