Some of these BLANKETS (Not All) Are Subject to Slight Imperfections

We have just received an immense shipment from two of our mills (Pendleton and Washougal) embracing the most colorful, assortments of quality blankets ever shown in Salem. Some of these blankets are subject to slight imperfections, others are discontinued numbers, odd lots and re-marked; making them no less desirable or serviceable. But due to the perfection of these high class products they cannot be accepted as perfect specimens and were rejected by the inspectors. We bought the entire lot and offer them now at astounding prices for the quality of blankets involved.

GREAT MUSICAL COMEDY TONIGHT

Play That Has Set Pace For Popularity Will Be At Grand

All the magic of youth and the joy of life are found in "Irene" New York's greatest musical comedy success which will be at the Grand theater tomorrow night. The Vanderbilt Producing company headed by James Montgomery, who wrote "Irene" has provided a full scenic equipment and wonderful costumes for the play and a special orchestra. A large cast, with Dale Winter in the role of "Irene", O'Dare the shop beauty will be seen and a captivating chorus which can also dance and sing will give to "Irene" all of the smartness which distinguished the presentation in New York for two years at the Vanderbilt theater. In fact "Irene" has everything that a musical comedy needs to be a success. Such songs as "Alice Blue Gown," "Castle of Dreams," "The Last Part of Every Party," are the choicest of melodies and have not been equalled in more recent productions. The play was the sensation of London as well as New York and the records show "Irene" has set the pace for popularity all over the world, irrespective of casts, proving its comedy and music to be the highest order and the biggest feature in this sensational success in musical history of a decade.

MRS. DOLPH LOSES BIG MONTHLY RENT

Supreme Court Holds That Lennon's, Inc., Has Right to Sub-Lease

Lennon's incorporated, of Portland, will receive $1000 a month through the sub-lease of property on Broadway, belonging to Mrs. Eliza C. Dolph, according to an opinion of the supreme court in the case of Mrs. Dolph against Lennon's, appellants, and the Sweet Sixteen company, defendant. The opinion, written by Justice Bean, reverses Judge T. E. J. Duffy, who tried the case in the lower court for Multnomah county.

Famous Court House Controversy Is Ended

The famous Klamath Falls court house controversy is at an end. The supreme court was yesterday informed by a Portland attorney that J. W. Dugan had received payment of about $25,000 on the new Main street court house in Klamath Falls, the amount claimed by him. This was by order of the county court.

ion of Chief Justice McBride. M. W. Walker vs L. L. Hewitt, appellant; appeal from Multnomah county; suit to recover on promissory note. Opinion by Chief Justice McBride. Judge George R. Opinion by Justice Rand. Judge Robert G. Morrow affirmed. Petition for rehearing denied in Robinson vs Cable. Rehearing granted in State ex rel, vs Goff.

A decidedly attractive vanity case is of soft leather, hung on a strap and ornamented with an enameled design in several colors. The design in turn, is framed by a rim of openwork silver.

Of course the male sex is superior. Not nearly so many girls finish their education in the 8th grade.

CONDEMNED MAN HAS SOME HOPE

George Parker, Slayer of Sheriff Dunlap, Has Visit From Attorney

A gleam of hope filtered through the bars at the state prison yesterday and lightened the countenance of George Parker, condemned to die on December 7 unless his appeal to the supreme court is perfected. His attorney W. G. Smith, of the law firm of Winters & McGuire, Portland, brought news that some interesting and surprising developments may be forthcoming in the near future. Parker was convicted of the murder of Sheriff Dunlap in Albany.

Before coming to Salem Mr. Smith spent some time in Albany in an effort to obtain several affidavits from Albany people who attended the trial stating that Parker was not given a fair trial following his crime.

Parker, acting upon the advice of his attorney, would not say what the nature of the affidavits were, though he admitted that his attorney brought with him considerable hope. In Albany, Parker said, Mr. Smith talked with a number of people, several of whom are respected citizens whose words bear weight. Some of these admitted to the attorney that some of his contentions were correct, but also refused to sign an affidavit to that effect. "I was elected to die and not convicted," Parker said yesterday. "Though I killed Sheriff Dunlap in a moment of fear after he had shot at me, it was not premeditated. I am not well versed in legal affairs, but the man who defended me at the time of my trial was not versed in Oregon court procedure and even I was aware of many points that should have been recorded in my favor and which would have served as a basis for an appeal. So glaring were some of the points that there was talk that he was trying to throw me down on my defense. This is not so. He did the best he could. Mr. Smith will visit me again in a few days and then perhaps I will have something to say." That one important affidavit bearing upon the question was obtained in Albany was said by Parker.

Preparations Are Made For Big Industrial Show

With a crew of six carpenters at the armory this morning, plans for the Marion-Polk County Corn Show and Industrial Exhibition are beginning to take actual shape and everything will be in readiness for the opening of the best show in the history of the two counties Thursday.

A. N. Fulkerson will have charge of the receiving of the various displays and will be at the armory for this purpose. Letters are still being received from a few late entrants, and these are cautioned that their displays must be at the armory before 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Community interest in the coming show is great and five of these will have entries. This is the largest number to enter an event of this nature in the county. The communities are North Howell, Liberty, Labish Center, Brush College and Salem Heights. Miss Helen Cowgill of OAC, boys' and girls' club work leader of the state, will judge the broad entries. Read the Classified Ads
