With the hope of adding sufficiently to their memorial fund to warrant the forming of definite plans for the proposed memorial to the sons and daughters from Marion county who lost their lives while serving in the World war, the Salem chapter of War Mothers will hold a tag day sale on Saturday, November 24. The War Mothers have been devoting their energies to doing good for the returned soldiers and their families, and it is only proper that the people of the county should respond with generosity in joining to raise the funds for the memorial to those who did not return. Other counties in the state have already erected memorials, some in the form of tablets, some as monuments and some as memorial buildings, to the memory of their soldiers, and it is only fitting that Salem and Marion county should contribute to their memorial. Tags will be sold in all the towns and community centers of the county with the hope that the people will give their cooperation in the drive to increase the fund.

Following is the list of persons who will have charge of the drive throughout the county: Mrs. Alice Weaver, Hubbard; Mrs. Carrie Chappel, Chemawa; Mrs. C. M. Wray, Silverton; Mrs. E. T. Plerce, Aumsville; Mrs. J. G. Fontaine, Jefferson; Mrs. Howard Ramp, Brooks; Mrs. John Savage, Wecondra; Mrs. W. B. McCallister, Pratum; Mrs. Leone Miller, Donald; Mrs. Leo Barr, Mt. Angel; Mrs. A. E. Austin, Woodburn; Mrs. Riley Scheurer, Butteville; Mrs. Allan Bellinger, Scotts Mills; Mrs. Van Cleave, Monitor; Mrs. Anna Amort, Shaw; Mrs. John Murphy, St. Paul; Miss Emma Snyder, Aurora; Mr. A. D. Gardner, Stayton; Mr. G. A. G. Moore, Turner; Mr. Charles Kent, Molalla; Mr. William Taylor, Macleay; Hon. Sam Brown, Gervais; Postmaster, Sublimity; Postmaster, Marion.

Mr. Charles E. Henderson, a prominent attorney of Indianapolis, Ind., was a Salem visitor yesterday. Mr. Henderson, who is a member of the class of 1893 of the University of Oregon, came to the coast with the express purpose of attending the 13th anniversary reunion of the class which will be celebrated during the homecoming week-end at the university. While in Salem Judge Lawrence T. Harris, Mr. Carey Martin and Mr. Henderson, all members of the same class, had a pleasant get-together to talk over old times.

Judge and Mrs. Harris will be among the alumni going from Salem to participate in the week-end festivities at Eugene. Since her graduation with the class of 1896 Mrs. Harris has visited the campus of her alma mater every year but three. While in Eugene they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Armitage.

The Chemeketa chapter of DAR will meet Saturday at the invitation of Mrs. Russell Catlin to celebrate the seventh birthday anniversary of the chapter. During the luncheon and afternoon Mrs. Catlin will be assisted by Mrs. John Harbison, Mrs. Carey Martin, Mrs. W. C. Pillsen and Mrs. Frank Spears.

rate of almost half that of the other music publications. Through the medium of this paper the western musician is given the opportunity of a maximum amount of publicity within his own territory at a minimum cost.

The policy of the paper is decided by the members of the club, and we find that, like the chain of civic music clubs throughout the northwest, its purpose is twofold. It encourages a system of interchange of artists between the towns represented by the civic music clubs, whereby the professional musician will receive a fee whenever he appears in recital. It will encourage the annual student competitions which will afford an opportunity to discover the best talent in the northwest, and will facilitate the means of supplying the northwest's quota to the world's celebrities.

White chrysanthemums and pink cosmos made a seasonable and pretty background for the party of university maids who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Marsters Saturday evening to celebrate the birthday of Miss Beryl Marsters. The evening was happily spent at games, and music was volunteered by a number of the guests. Miss Mildred Maple added to the pleasure of the occasion with a group of vocal solos. At a late hour refreshments in the same pink and white color motif as the decorations were served to the guests. The hostess was assisted in serving by her sister, Miss Sylvia Marsters, Miss Eulalia Lindsey and Miss Erma Boughey. The daintily appointed lunch table was especially attractive in the mellow candle glow.

The guest list included Miss Lucia Gard, Miss Mildred Maple, Miss Frances Hodge, Miss Hermine Klaus, Miss Jeanie Corskie, Miss Jennelle Vandevort, Miss Helen Gatzke, Miss Jessie Pybus, Miss Hollis Beck, Miss Myrtle Jensen, Miss Marion Wyatt, Miss Ruth Ross, Miss Faye Sparks, Miss Hazel Malursten, Miss Elizabeth Vinson, Miss Thelma Vernon, Miss Margaret Johnson, Miss Laura Phillip, Miss Laura Best, Miss Venne McKittrock, Miss Lorna Lovett, Miss Mildred Herweg, Miss Lois Nye, Miss Leah Ross, Miss Mildred Hansen, Miss Erma Boughey, Miss Adelia White, Miss Marguerite Bridgeman, Miss Zolda Mulkey, Miss Verna McKeehan, Miss Eva Tacheron, Miss Edna Schriber, Miss Blanche Jones, Miss Nellie Pickens, Miss Sylvia Marsters, Miss Eulalia Lindsey and the hostess.

Miss Beryl Marsters is a graduate of the Salem high school and is now a junior student at Willamette university where she is a member of the Philodorian Literary society.

Brown Bran Betty For Tasty Dessert

JULIE A. DUCE

HERE is something new in dessert, a "Brown Bran Betty" recipe from the kitchen of Mrs. Julie A. Duce, a Boston dietitian of note.

"Brown Bran Betty" has an appetizing sound and its taste lives up to promise, as Mrs. Duce has a background of extensive dietetical knowledge to draw from.

"During my early days of domesticity," she says, "I realized the importance of a sound knowledge of foods played in the health and happiness of my family, so I read every book on dietetics that had favorable mention at the public library or in the press and practiced three times a day in my own kitchen."

Likewise Mrs. Duce studied at the Chicago School of Domestic Science and was at one time editor of a weekly newspaper in Nebraska, where she conducted a column devoted to foods and household problems. Here is her recipe, which calls for bran that is all bran.

Allocate layers of bread crumbs, butter, all bran and hard sliced apples. Sprinkle each layer with a little water, brown sugar and cinnamon, making top layer of crumbs and bran. Dot well with butter and bake in greased, covered dish. Cook until apples are soft, then remove cover and brown. Serve with egg sauce as soon as taken from oven. As this recipe will serve five people, a medium-sized baking dish should be used.

To make the egg sauce break one egg over a cup of granulated sugar and beat until mixture is foamy and entirely free from granules of sugar. Pour over this two tablespoons of boiling milk, add vanilla to taste and beat thoroughly. The sauce's success depends upon vigorous beating.

E. C. Richards, Mr. J. R. De Spain and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weijen. Active members of the section are Mrs. F. S. Barton, Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Mr. W. F. Fargo, Mrs. Blanche Jones, Mrs. Gertrude Robison Ross, Mrs. M. Ohling, Mrs. Byron Brunk, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clifford, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Franklin, Miss Mina Harding, Miss Audred Bunch, Miss Renska Swart, Miss Grace Smith and Mr. Perry Reigleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snedecor, Mr. and Mrs. Breyman Boise, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Boise, and Mrs. Charles Gray will motor to Eugene to attend the Oregon-OAC football game Saturday.

At a very simple service at St. Joseph's church yesterday morning, Dr. John Lynch and Miss Myrtle Stephens, both of Salem, were quietly married. Rev. J. R. Buck performed the ceremony and read the nuptial mass before the two attending witnesses. Dr. and Mrs. Lynch left for Seattle and the Puget sound cities where they will spend a week, after which they will return to Salem to make their home in the bungalow on the Oak Grove road.

the home of Mrs. Frances Newberry, 1293 Center street.

Mrs. N. C. Kafoury will be hostess to the Kensington club this afternoon at her home, 840 Union street.

The regular business meeting and social hour of the Three-Link club will be held in the IOOF hall Friday afternoon. The hostesses will be Mrs. W. F. Brietzke, Mrs. Charles Andressen, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Mary Brannon and Mrs. Busch.

Finishing the pieces for the bazaar of Saturday will be the work of the all-day meeting of the Ladies Aid of the WRC today at the armory. A pot-luck lunch will be served at the noon hour. A good attendance is desired.

Correct this sentence: "I will contribute a thousand to your cause," said he, "but I want no publicity."

Making its initial bow yesterday with 72 subscription copies of the first issue, "The Northwest Musician" is creating much comment and praise among the musicians of Salem. Although just an infant, the magazine has no cause to offer apologies of any kind; in fact it is really a precocious child, with its 16 heavy glazed book paper pages, in tabloid size, neatly printed and made up, with some two dozen half tone cuts. It carries the musical news of the northwest, with a full directory of concert artists and teachers, as well as professional cards and announcements of approaching events of interest in the musical circles.

On page ten we find that Salem has been given the same prominence as Portland and Seattle by the same size two-column sub-head, surrounded by the same attractive border, and a full page of articles and announcements concerning the local musical events. Especial attention is given local artists, for Salem is represented on the writing staff by an appointed correspondent.

"The Northwest Musician" is owned and published monthly in Portland by the Northwest Musicians' Publicity club, Inc., with Mrs. Warren E. Thomas of Portland, editor, and Mr. Frederic Shipman, business and advertising manager. Mrs. Thomas served for years as president of the McDowell club of Portland and is an enthusiastic patron and promoter of music in the northwest. This magazine has the distinction of being the first in the country to be published by a music club. It is run on the non-cooperative, non-profit making basis, which might account for the advertising

A group of young maids and matrons called at the invitation of Miss Florence Cartwright to enjoy an informal hour of chatting over the teacups Tuesday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30. Mrs. Allan Jones presided at the tea table and Miss Helen Robe assisted in serving. Among those to enjoy the hour were Mrs. Allan Jones, Mrs. Brastler Small, Miss Marie Briggs, Miss Valerie Briggs, Miss Luella Patton, Miss Molly Schwabauer, Miss Helen Robe, Miss Julia Molner, Miss Fay Hendrickson, Miss Lois Wilson, Miss Gladys Cartwright, Miss Miriam Lovell and Miss Pauline Remington.

While recovering from a major operation recently performed at the Salem hospital, Mrs. George W. Croisan is staying with her mother, Mrs. Otto Busch. She will remain in Salem about two weeks before returning to her home in Portland.

After spending the past several days as house guests of Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Knighton have returned to their home in Portland. Mrs. Fred Waters accompanied them and will remain in Portland for a short time visiting with friends.

Mrs. Monroe Gilbert spent Tuesday in Portland on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Whittig recently visited with friends in Portland.

Miss Mamie Victor has returned to her home in Salem after spending the past four months in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spears, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cross and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins will motor to Eugene Saturday to attend the football game. Mrs. Spears, Mrs. Dyer and Mrs. Hawkins are all alumni of the University of Oregon.

Miss Nell Thielson and Miss Beatrice Walton left by motor yesterday morning for an extended trip through California. On their way south they will visit for an indefinite period in San Francisco as guests of Miss Genevieve Hailey who visited in Salem during the past summer.

Complimenting Miss Thielson and Miss Walton, Mrs. Frank Spears invited about 50 of their friends to enjoy an informal afternoon at her home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snedecor were hosts for a delightful evening of five hundred at their home

Tuesday evening when they entertained the members of the Merry Go Round club. Seven tables were in play during the evening, with Mrs. John McNary winning high score for the ladies and Mr. Will Thielson winning the gentlemen's score.

After the games the remainder of the evening was spent in chatting, with a dainty supper served by the hostess. Invited guests were: Miss Margaret Cosper, Mrs. Charles Gray and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Daney.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Boise will entertain the club at the next meeting on December 4.

Mrs. B. J. Miles is spending the week in San Francisco visiting with her son, Roderick Miles. She will return the last of the week.

Mrs. Charles Gray of Independence is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snedecor during the week. Mrs. Gray is a former Salem resident and has a large circle of friends here who always welcome her visits to the city.

The feature of the meeting of the writers' section of the Salem Arts League, which met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Franklin Tuesday evening was the reading by Audred Bunch of a letter received just recently from the poet, Wytter Bynner, in which he congratulates Miss Bunch upon the splendid poems she submitted to the national poetry contest held annually among the colleges and universities of the country. Over 700 contestants from 30 colleges entered the contest, and Miss Bunch is the only one west of the Mississippi to have received honorable mention. At the meeting last evening Miss Bunch read the six poems submitted to the contest, which are to be published in "The Palms," an eastern poetry magazine.

Two stories were read during the evening, one "The Gila Monster," by Mr. F. S. Barton, and the other, "Musk and Mystery," by Mrs. J. C. Nelson. It is a strange coincidence that each of these stories had as the central figure an escaped convict. However, the treatment in each case was decidedly original.

A number of poems were read by the respective authors, Miss Edna Garfield contributed a poem on the burial of President Harding, and Mrs. Gertrude Robison Ross read two poems, "England" and "Calamander Wood." Mr. J. R. De Spain, a visitor, read a sonnet and an additional verse, "Anticipation." Quite unusual in setting and spirit was the Norse poem read by Prof. M. E. Peck, another guest of the section.

Visitors for the evening were Prof. and Mrs. M. E. Peck, Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden, Mrs. Pace, Miss Frances Richards, Mrs.
