WINS SUCCESS AS A SINGER

Hospital Work Important

The China Inland Mission, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor said, embraces many lines of work, including a great deal of hospital work. Both have written a number of books relative to the work that will be on display at their meetings in Salem today. In the meetings today and tonight they will continue telling of their experiences. An afternoon meeting will be held at 2 o'clock from the First Presbyterian church, primarily for women, but men are invited to attend. Dr. W. C. Kantner, pastor of the First Congregational church, will preside at this gathering. A night meeting, also at the First Presbyterian church, will be held at 7:30. Rev. J. J. Evans, pastor of the First Christian church, will preside. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor accept no public offerings. The offering of $51 received at the Thanksgiving service yesterday will be used for social service work in Salem. Wherever, they go, however, gifts of money are given them.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Hope you enjoyed your dinner—

There is room in Marion and Polk counties for very active Red Cross work; in health and other community matters in which the Red Cross is the most efficient organization in the world. The work in these two counties could easily be at least ten times as large as it is now—and it would be gladly supported; each county receiving full consideration according to its population and needs in all matters.

The $20,000 memorial fountain proposed to be erected to the memory of Homer Davenport at Silverton will no doubt be realized in due time, because Davenport was a national character, and the whole country will contribute if properly solicited. Have you read the article by Marcosson in the Saturday Evening Post of this week? It tells the world for the first time that the famous Chester concession for Turkey grew out of a horse trade—grew out of the quest of Homer Davenport for Arabian horses, when he visited that desert country, armed with a letter from Sultan Abdul Hamid, which was issued upon request of President Roosevelt. There are a number of people in Salem who heard Homer Davenport tell of that trip into the Arabian desert, and who will remember to their last days the manner of the telling and some of the most interesting details of his experiences with the Arabian leaders and people. Davenport brought home with him an Arabian boy. Wonder what has become with that boy?

LIONS CLUB HAS HOME IN CHICAGO

Remarkable Growth of Organization—Salem Has Big Membership

Through the International Association of Lions clubs' headquarters has been located in Chicago, permanent headquarters has just been established there after much deliberation in which the entire board of directors took part, as yet he has made no definite announcement regarding his intention. Railroad craftsmen of this division, local farmers and stockmen and business men in general in this city are behind the movement for the organization of a "Strayer For Senator" club realizing that if his name is to be placed before the voters of the state he must be drafted.

Already Governor Walter M. Pierce, an old personal friend of and fellow worker in the state legislature with Mr. Strayer, has informed local men that he would welcome the entrance of Senator Strayer and would lend his active support in the campaign both for the nomination and election.

Road Work to Continue
ROSEBURG, Ore., Nov. 29.—In spite of the fact that all of the money voted by Douglas county residents for road work, has been spent on the numerous improvements made during the past few years, road work is not to be halted. In spite of high taxes the farmers of Douglas county are not going to quit building roads and the county court is daily receiving words from various road districts that they are voting heavy special taxes to continue the improvement work.

The county court has in the past few years made it a policy to match all special tax money with market road funds, but this year the county very probably will not have enough market road money to meet the various districts, but will portion out the money as best it can.

Very few districts have turned down the special taxes while on the other hand a number are voting special levies for the first time.

OREGON STATE NEWS
Pierce Lined Up?
BAKER, Nov. 29.—The Morning Democrat contains this political information:
A state "Strayer For Senator" organization is to be formed, Baker, W. H. Strayer's home, is to have the first chapter of such a club. Such was the rumor that was well received throughout the city yesterday and it is undoubtedly a fact. For some time past Mr. Strayer's name has been prominently mentioned as a likely candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. senatorship but organization is to put out the facts concerned with southwestern Oregon mining and to give out the figures, showing the progress of the industry. It seeks to commercialize the metals and minerals which are found within the district by giving aid to the mining men. The mining in this district will be continued because of the wide distribution of the mineral wealth and their great variety.

According to Smith, there were more than 78 ex-service men doing time when he became warden. Every one of them, he stated, was there on account of unemployment and the bad war psychology they got from foraging for whatever they needed while in the service. Smith closed with an appeal for practical prison reforms in education and employment.

Developing the Mines
GRANTS PASS, Nov. 29.—The Southwestern Oregon Mining Bureau, composed of mining men from the district comprised of Josephine, Jackson, Douglas, Coos, Curry and Lane counties was organized last Saturday night at a meeting held at the office of F. S. Woodin. The bureau was formed with the purpose of promoting the welfare of the mining industry within the district. Much interest has already been displayed, 47 having signed the membership roll up to the present time. It is expected that in four months time, 400 members will have signed up. Anyone interested in the mining business is eligible for membership.

One of the main purposes of the organization is to put out the facts concerned with southwestern Oregon mining and to give out the figures, showing the progress of the industry. It seeks to commercialize the metals and minerals which are found within the district by giving aid to the mining men. The mining in this district will be continued because of the wide distribution of the mineral wealth and their great variety.
