

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

9 MORE DAYS TO WIN DIAMONDS

Now Is Time for New Contestants to Enter and Get Valuable Prize

BY THE CONTEST EDITOR
There are not many changes in the vote list today for yesterday being Thanksgiving it was impossible for the contestants to get in to the office to vote. That does not mean that they were not working by far, for that was the day the contestants knew they would be able to reach their friends as on Thanksgiving day is the day one likes to be at home and many of the contestants were wise enough to get out and see them. Result was that they did much better than one whole weeks work.

Special Prizes
Just nine more days for the young lady or gentleman who turns in the most money on subscriptions in the city of Salem to win a very beautiful diamond ring—also the young lady or gentleman on the outside of the city of Salem who turns in the most money on subscriptions will win a diamond.

These diamonds were purchased at Hartman Brothers jewelry store and valued at $85.00 each. They are now in display in their window where they can be seen daily. The contestants don't seem to realize just what and how valuable they really are for the amount turned in so far has been very little. One could enter right now and with just a few hours effort take home one of these valuable prizes on December 8. I want to see the old contestants get busy and also want to see a few new ones enter. If you knew just what the contest editor knew right now I am sure you would wake up to the fact that some one with just a very little effort will win one of these beautiful diamond rings. Let me see you try—just for luck.

As to the two automobiles, one would be proud to own one or the other of these cars. Won't it be a wonderful thing to say: "I won this car and with hardly any effort whatsoever," on January 5; and that's just what it will be, so get busy.

CONSTERNATION IS FELT IN RUM ROW

Seizure of Tomoka By Coast Guards Makes Other Smugglers Careful

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Nov. 30.—Seizure by coast guards more than six miles offshore of the British rum schooner Tomoka, which case is now being studied in London and Washington, apparently has caused consternation along rum row, which today was badly shattered.

The largest steamer has moved to a point seven miles east of Ambrose lightship while another steamer and schooner have taken a stand 14 miles east of Seabright. Two vessels still remain in the old place, six miles off the lightship. Local smugglers nowadays are following closely newspaper accounts of the progress of a treaty between the United States and Great Britain whereby the three mile limit may be extended to 12 in the case of suspected rum boats. Runners are reported to be professing little concern regarding extension of the limit.

CONVICTS SOUGHT IN BANK ROBBERY

Escapes From Walla Walla Prison and Holdups Being Followed West

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 29.—Search for three convicts who escaped from Walla Walla penitentiary 10 days ago and the trailing of an automobile load of men reported by country residents to be headed in a small machine toward the city of Tacoma shortly after $23,400 bond holdup in the center of the business district here yesterday, marked the only developments today in the hunt for the bandits who robbed the Bank of California, Seattle branch, National Association messengers and handcuffed a motorcycle policeman to his machine.

Officials of the bank declared today that the total value of the bonds stolen was $23,400 instead of the $20,000 as given out in a statement immediately after the robbery. They also declared that the messengers were unarmed and that the robbers did not search for revolvers when the hold up happened.

The bank's officials asked the police tonight to locate Martin Hart, driver of the machine, which carried the messengers. They declared he had been assigned to his task of driving various messengers for several years.

Hart failed to appear at his regular post of duty with the cab company today, the police announced. The officials of the cab company stated that Hart was ill and would report when recovered. The police discovered, on further information that Hart had moved from his former place of residence within the last two days and had failed to give the cab company officials his new address.

Seattle Officers Make Worth While Liquor Raid

SEATTLE, Nov. 29.—Two raids by officers acting under orders of Sheriff Matt Starwich of King county resulted in the confiscation near here today of $12,000 worth of liquor.

One hundred and twenty-five cases of bonded liquor, valued at $7,000, were taken in a raid today at Woodmont beach, near Des Moines. Ed Engdahl was arrested and was being held tonight in the county jail in lieu of $750 bonds.

More than a score of kegs containing wine were said by the sheriff's office to have been homemade and valued at $5,000, and were taken in a raid at Ravensdale, where Guido Dietro and Silvestro Decleco were arrested.

Bligh Special Road Show Attraction "Peck's Bad Boy"

Oregon "Going Up"

Liberty "Loyal Lives"

Grand "Circus Days"

"Going Up," Douglas MacLean's latest screen production, flew into the Oregon theater yesterday and flew away with about all the laughter the audience could reasonably be expected to spare in one evening. Mr. MacLean is the star of the high altitude comedy and the aviation clothes he wears fit him without a wrinkle.

The plot of the story concerns a young man who has to fly an airplane and can't. That is about all there is to it and that is sufficient as it affords Mr. MacLean unlimited opportunities of being continually forced from one amusing, uncomfortable situation into another both more amusing and more uncomfortable.

Mr. MacLean is Robert Street, a young man with a distinct aversion to all things aeronautic, proves himself a skillful farceur. His capable support includes Marjorie Daw, Hallam Cooley, Edna Murphy, Hughie Mack, John Stepping, Arthur Stuart, Hull, Francis McDonald and others. The film was directed by Lloyd Ingraham and is presented by Associated Exhibitors, who first introduced Harold Lloyd in a feature comedy. Arthur S. Kane surely knows how to pick his comedians.

Since Jackie Coogan made the old story of "Peck's Bad Boy" famous, with the film, the interest in the stage production has never been more keen in over 30 years. A large road show with a city cast, and a special orchestra and scenic effects has been booked as the first road attraction of the season at the Bligh theater tonight.

This is the big city show that is making a return to the east via Portland and Denver.

Tears are mingling with laughter at the Grand theater this week but it is as it should be, for another of Jackie Coogan's inimitable pictures, "Circus Days," Jackie's rollicking fun as Toby Tyler, the little runaway who joins a circus, is tinged with just the proper pitch of pathos to make the production neither ordinary comedy nor thriller, but a deep and wholesome drama that touches the heartstrings and stirs the risibles.

The audience's sympathy is strong with young Toby when he is whipped by a harsh uncle and sent to bed after assuming the blame for a dish that his widowed mother broke. Again it is strong and many eyes are moist when he runs away from home to escape another whipping just because he got up a circus of his own.

But smiles and laughter take the place of tears when Jackie gets a job selling peanuts in a real circus, falls in love with a tiny equestrienne star, makes warm friends of an aged clown and the fattest woman and the skinniest man in the world.

It is a powerful picture of moods that are up and down, but it must be admitted they are mostly up.

Enter the new hero into film-dom! He is the postman and he takes his place along with the fireman.

the policeman and the soldier in the screen hall of fame of unknown heroes in "Loyal Lives," a Whitman Bennett production.

This remarkable tribute to the devotion to duty of the letter carrier, filled with thrills and pathos, will be shown at the Liberty theater today and tomorrow. Whitman Bennett, the producer, has won great praise from postal officials, from Attorney General Harry S. New down, for filming this melodramatic story of the postman.

PRATUM

PRATUM, Ore., Nov. 29.—During the special services at the Methodist church here last week the following speakers took part: Prof. Herzog and Dr. McCormick from Kimball School of Theology, Rev. Harry Johnson from Central Congregational church, Salem; Rev. Mr. Zimmerman from New York, Rev. Mr. Beadles Sr. from Molalla, and Rev. Owen J. Beadles, the pastor of the local church.

A union Thanksgiving service was held at the Mennonite church here at 10 a. m. Thursday morning. Dr. Powell of Kimball school of Theology was the speaker.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church is making elaborate plans for a chicken pie supper in connection with a fine program. They have made a number of beautiful quilts which also will be sold beginning at 7 p. m., Dec. 7, in the basement of the church.

The Women's Foreign Mission society met at the home of Mrs. W. deVries yesterday afternoon.

The special 5 mill tax which was voted in road district No. 22 several weeks ago has caused quite a change in the condition of the road. Seven carloads of gravel have been unloaded, six at Durbin and one at Pratum and more is coming. Mud holes and bumps have been transformed into a veritable boulevard compared with the old corduroy roads of years ago.

Fred Hersh is patrolman. He is very anxious that as much of the money as possible stay in the district, therefore he had the gravel shipped by rail which gives the farmers an opportunity to work out a large share of the special tax.

Theo. Witham, Harvey Meyer, Ralph Kleen, Harold and Arthur deVries will attend the older boys conference in Portland the last of the week.

A gospel team from Willamette conducted the services at the Methodist church here Sunday night. Joe Nee was in charge of the team.

Rev. Owen J. Beadles has moved to Pratum. McDonald and Fisher have bought 40 cords of wood here for their Salem trade.

A number of farmers have ordered some government powder for land clearing. According to their estimate they will save at least one half of the price of regular blasting powder.

Guy Stover from Salem was here on business yesterday.

Minister Says Selling Fire Arms Unfriendly Act

WATFORD, Ont., Nov. 29.—Sale of firearms in the United States for use by Canadians in Canada was declared to be an "unfriendly act" by the Rev. T. D. Rayner in his funeral oration at the burial today of Geraldine Durston, 18-year-old girl who was said by the police to have been killed by Clarence Topping in London, Ont., last Friday.

IDAHO PRISONERS MAKE GET-AWAY

Nez Perce County Sheriff Finds Two Dug Way Out Through Walls of Jail

LEWISTON, Idaho, Nov. 29.—When Sheriff George Welker and his deputies entered the Nez Perce county jail shortly before 6 o'clock tonight to lock up the 23 prisoners for the night, they noted the absence of R. D. Peck, alias T. J. Bell, arrested two weeks ago on a charge of forgery and Lee Roberts, alias Frank Kombol, who, with Milton Downs were arrested on September 27 when they tried to sell a practically new automobile for $50 and after investigation it was discovered that the car had been stolen at Spokane. Roberts was a federal prisoner and Peck was held on a state charge.

Exit from the jail was accomplished by digging through two walls of stone and brick, each 14 inches thick. None of the other prisoners, according to their statements, had any knowledge of the break being contemplated. The jail under ordinary conditions has accommodations for nine men and the crowded condition makes it possible for work to be carried on secretly during the daylight hours. Two years ago four prisoners made their escape in the same manner as employed by the men today.

Congressmen Advocating New Budget Committee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—A movement was started today by some members of the house to abolish the appropriations committee and to replace it by a budget committee, composed of the chairmen and several majority and minority members of each of the committees which formerly were charged with the drafting of supply bills.

Petitions urging the change were placed in circulation among house members, Chairman Dempsey of the rivers and harbors committee, being one of the leaders of the movement. Those favoring it are of the opinion the budget committee should have authority to fix total appropriations for various government activities. Once totals are fixed, the committees such as the military, naval, agriculture and rivers and harbors, would specify for what purposes the money allotted should be spent.

Before the enlargement of the appropriations committee and the centering in it of all appropriating authority half a dozen or more committees framed the annual supply bills. Their authority in this direction was entirely taken away under the new one-committee system.

Budget committee advocates declare the appropriations committee as constituted is divided into various sub-committees, each charged with drafting an appropriation bill. Aside from the chairmen of the main committees and of the various sub-committees they say, other members have little weight in the preparation of the measures. Establishment of a budget committee, it is argued, would have the effect of perfecting the budget system.

New York Clerk Sentenced To Sing Sing for Theft

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Joseph Byington, a clerk, today was sentenced to Sing Sing prison for a term of from one year and three months to two years and six months, when his employers refused to ask leniency for him in return for his proffered restitution of $15,000 which he is said to have lost to bucketshop operators.

The employers, Arkell and Douglas, farm implement dealers, told the court they were content to lose the money that an example might be made of Byington.

The clerk confessed to have stolen $300 a week. He said that what he did not lose in bucket shops he gave to customer's salesmen, who, he alleges, induced him to steal.

Immigration Restriction Cuts Chinese Influxes

HAVANA, Nov. 6.—(By Mail) Restrictions imposed upon the entry of Chinese immigrants into Cuba have cut down the influx so that within the last ten months only 212 have entered as compared with 1,312 during the previous ten months. The present Cuban law is similar to the United States law and bars laborers, but admits under restrictions merchants, students and tourists.

Several thousand Chinese were admitted under special legislation during the world war to work in the cane fields but most of them soon drifted to Havana where they made their living by operating laundries, keeping small shops and peddling vegetables and merchandise. A number of them also conduct truck farms in the suburbs.

Havana has developed a "Chinese Quarter" that extends for several blocks and it is estimated that the city has about 50,000 Chinese.
