SHY HUNTINGTON RESIGNS HIS JOB

Home Town Psychology Given as Reason for Giving Up Position

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., Dec. 4.—(Special)—Charles (Shy) Huntington, University of Oregon football coach for the past six years resigned today, declaring in a letter to President F. L. Campbell that he could not longer serve without a united alumni support. Students have supported him, he said, but the graduates "have carried on a sort of guerilla warfare" against him and his methods.

The season just closed was unsuccessful, Oregon finishing at the bottom in the Pacific coast conference. Huntington, however, pointed to past seasons as indicating that he has a record of which he is not ashamed. He coached the eleven that held Harvard to a 7 to 6 score at Pasadena in 1919. "I do not feel that I have failed as a coach," he wrote, "nor do I feel that I have been as unsuccessful as the season just past might indicate. As a matter of fact I have won most of my games." Huntington submitted his resignation at this time in order that the university may have plenty of time to find a successor.

As the football coach is a member of the staff of the school of physical education, Huntington will remain on the campus until commencement carrying on his work in this department. In his letter of resignation he asks to be relieved as a physical education instructor as well as football coach when his contract expires the middle of June. The coach's resignation was a voluntary act.

Under Huntington Oregon teams won 24 games, tied six, and lost ten. "Home town psychology has from the first operated against me," wrote Huntington. "Each year my teams have been with me but the alumni have not. The students for the most part have always been with me, particularly in recent years, and in the season just passed I have had excellent support from the student body. The alumni have demanded a 'high priced' coach a 'Bezdek' or 'Doble', or a 'Warner', and not for a moment does it appear to have entered their heads that a 'home town boy' might possibly be a good coach."

Huntington learned football under Bezdek, playing quarterback. He is an Oregon alumnus.

RAYFORD NEW LEADER IN BIG CONTEST

 That will be over, so why not enter your name and win one of the valuable prizes? It's only a matter of a few hours work and look what it would mean to you. I don't want to see you lose the chance of a life time and that's just what you will do if you wait for it to be brought to your door. You have as much chance as any one and why not take that chance.

Honor Roll
 Get on the Honor Roll. You do not have to publish your votes, just turn in the subscriptions daily. For the one who turns in the most subscriptions daily will be put on the Honor Roll, and why not let it be you. It will mean just heaps to you toward getting your friends to help you for your friends as any one's friends will help the one who they find is out to win and just show them that you are by coming in each day with as many subscriptions as you can collect and get on the Honor Roll. That is just a tip from the Contest Editor, so think it over.

Mr. Raymond Ely leads the votes. Miss Blanche Gough has whole race today with 471,300 a total of 433,400 votes. Miss Gough has been one of the young ladies who has said nothing and done lots. Miss Ethel Mason, of Mill City, Ore., is gradually creeping toward the top, and she will show Mill City that with their support she will be among the winners as the close of the contest.

Mrs. Carl Muller, of Silverton, Ore., is another who wishes her friends to know that she would appreciate their help greatly. Miss Hazel Peetz is from Turner, Ore., and one of the contestants who you won't find sleeping. Hazel will show her hand some of these days. Clara Wiley of Aumsville and Margaret Wall of Jefferson are two of the contestants who started late in the contest but the result is, that they are up with the winners and going to go strong if their friends stay with them.

Mrs. Beckendorf of Salem, still stays towards the top and says she is going to try to keep the good work up. Miss Ruth Brady was away down in the list yesterday and today we find her up among them. Erma Dearing of the Oregon theater is another who has waked up and expects results. Nell Mitchell of the White House is just beginning in the contest and

NURSERY OPENS A DOWN TOWN OFFICE

Mathis Nursery Co. Has Sales Yard and Office at Cherry City Hotel

So great has been the increase in business of the Mathis Nursery company during the past year that it has become necessary to open a city office. In the past the business of the company has been conducted at the residence of the proprietor, R. W. Mathis, on the Silverton road. Mr. Mathis has opened an office and sales yard at the Cherry City hotel where he will have on display, and receive orders for, all the better varieties of fruit trees and shrubbery. Much improvement in the fruit situation is foreseen by Mr. Mathis who feels that the man who plants a good variety of fruit tree at this time is making an investment which will prove very profitable for him in the near future.

MYERS NAMED FIELD AGENT

Man Who Resigned Blind School Post Gets Better Salary on New Job

The state board of control yesterday employed J. E. Myers, who recently resigned as superintendent of the adult employment school for the blind in Portland, as field officer for the school at a salary of $290 a month. As superintendent Myers and his wife as superintendent and matron received a joint salary of $2100 a year. The board has not yet appointed a successor to Myers as superintendent, and R. E. Goodin, secretary of the board of control, is temporarily in charge.

one who is beginning right. She wants her friends to know that she appreciates their standing by her so far. Chas. Price of the paper mill was away down in the list yesterday and today has a total of 292,400. With a little more effort among his friends Mr. Price could do some very fine work and be on the top notch. Leo Weir, is one of the quiet boys and a few days ago no one would have known he was in the race, but today he is along the line with the others toward winning the valuable prizes.

THEIR CHRISTMAS DINNER AT HOME

John H. Bartlett, acting postmaster general, has made an order as to Christmas work for the postal employees of the United States, excerpts from which follow:

"The department would very much like to see the time come when all postal employees could be relieved of any work on Christmas day, but this can be accomplished only by gradual steps toward that end.

"However, the department is hereby announcing and instructing postmasters that 12 o'clock on Christmas day shall be the limit of work on that day. If carriers can not finish their work by 12 o'clock on Christmas day, postmasters should permit them to leave it unfinished and the public asked to await the delivery of any undelivered Christmas mail until the following day.

"If the 'mail early' campaign is wholly successful there should be little or no delivery on Christmas morning, but, whatever the event, no delivery should be extended after 12 o'clock noon."

Another Important Notice
 The blue war savings stamps issued in 1919 should be presented at the postoffice as soon as possible. In Salem and throughout this section, they are sent to the federal reserve bank in Portland, which will forward drafts to owners on or about January 1.

Two Sheriffs Claim Job In Bonner County, Idaho

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 4.—Bonner county, Idaho, today had two sheriffs. The county commissioners today appointed Fred A. Hanson, pioneer Priest River businessman, to replace William Kirkpatrick, recently convicted in federal court of conspiracy to evade the prohibition law.

Kirkpatrick refused to resign and an ouster suit against him filed in district court by Prosecuting Attorney A. P. Asher brought from Judge McNaughton an order directing Kirkpatrick to appear Saturday for hearing.

ARMISTICE IN HOUSE MAY END ALL TROUBLE

 ballot" spread about rapidly, but, as developments showed, they were without substance. Speaker Gillett did not vote today and was on the floor but little. His campaign was directed by Mr. Longworth, who conferred frequently with his lieutenants, and who finally offered a motion for adjournment after the house had been in session a little more than two hours.

Garrett Votes "Present"
 Representative Garrett was constantly in the seat reserved for him in his capacity as minority leader, and from that vantage point consistently kept the Democratic forces intact. As on yesterday he voted "present" on each ballot.

As field general for Representative Cooper, Wisconsin, the progressive bloc's candidate, Representative Nelson, Wisconsin, freely circulated about the chamber with eye ever alert for moves by the opposition. On all the ballots today Cooper retained the votes of the some 17 members who rallied to his support at the outset.

Although he had announced he had no desire to become speaker, Representative Madden of Illinois held the five votes which were cast for him throughout yesterday. He continued to support Mr. Gillett.

Garrett, who, on one ballot yesterday, forged ahead of Gillett, tied the Republican organization candidate on the first ballot today, each receiving 197 votes. On the second ballot, he went to the front and stayed there through the remainder of the day. The second ballot showed him with 197 to 195 for Gillett; on the third ballot he had 198 to 196 and on the fourth ballot—the eighth since the beginning of the deadlock—he had 198 to 197.

Insurgents Firm
 Should a break come tomorrow, Gillett would be re-elected by virtue of the votes which have been cast for Cooper and Madden, and President Coolidge would be able to address congress.

While house insurgents were standing firm, the progressive bloc in the senate had another conference for discussion of its attitude in the event of a number of possible developments on the senate side. Some of their spokesmen said they were simply moving along with circumstances and awaiting a report on assignments to standing committees to be made by the Republican committee on committees.

There is a tacit understanding among the groups in the senate that any fight over reorganization will be delayed until after President Coolidge has addressed congress. And the probabilities are that there will be no fight until after the suggested placing of senators on committees has been announced by the Republicans dealing with this matter.

Anderson-Browns and Bankers are Winners

The Anderson-Brown and the United States National bank teams were winners last night in the Commercial Basketball league series, the A-B winning from the Central Pharmacy team 19 to 13 and the Bankers winning from the Standard Oils 14 to 5.

Every man on the Anderson-Brown team made a basket. Lenon scored 12 of the 19 points and Harra five. The Central Pharmacy, which ordinarily has the best team work in the league, showed a lack of practice last night.

The victory last night was the first for the U. S. Bankers. At the end of the first half the Oil team was ahead. The game was replete with personal fouls.

Thursday night of this week the Anderson-Brown and the Hauser teams will play what is expected to be a hot contest, since both are near the top and both in fine condition. The ONG and the Union Oils also will play Thursday night.

SHIELDS NAMED BAR EXAMINER

Former Salem Attorney Appointed by Supreme Court to Succeed Hayter

Roy Shields, Salem attorney who recently moved to Portland to join the legal staff of the Union Pacific Railroad company, was yesterday appointed by the supreme court as a member of the board of examiners of the State Bar association to succeed Oscar Hayter of Dallas, resigned.
