A special Christmas story hour will be held for the children in the children's room of the city library this morning, with Mrs. Lola B. Bellinger in charge. From 9:45 to 10:45 the children up to the fifth grade in school will meet to hear the following Christmas stories: "Grandfather Knows," "The Christ Child," "The Silver Hen," and "The Great Walled Country."

At 10:45 the older children will meet to hear the story of the birth of Christ as told in the Bible, and the story of the flight into Egypt. A trio of girls from the high school will lead in the singing of carols.

Meeting in the high school gymnasium Tuesday evening the teachers of the city schools enjoyed the series of games and stunts especially planned for the Christmas party. The unloading of the tree provided much merriment, as the joke gifts were presented and the accompanying comic verses were read aloud.

At the Presbyterian manse, on Wednesday, Dec. 12, Miss Mildred Davenport and Joseph B. Schaller were united in marriage by the Rev. Ward Willis Long, who read the simple service. The bride was charming in a gown of blue silk crepe with a small hat to match, and she was attended by her sister, Miss Blanche Davenport, who wore a brown frock and hat. John Miller acted as best man to the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaller are spending a short honeymoon in the north, from where they will return to Salem to make their home here.

Mrs. Schaller is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Davenport of South Salem, and is a member of the Salem high school class of 1921.

Mr. Schaller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schaller, 1695 Berry street.

Miss Floreta Brunk was a delightful hostess Wednesday evening for a group of young friends, inviting them in for a few hours of games and informal music. The time was pleasantly spent until an early hour the hostess served a dainty luncheon, with Winifred Brown and Lenore Meade assisting.

The guests were Miss Bernice Ystad of Astoria, who was the guest of honor; Miss Olive Stephens, Monmouth; Winifred Brown, Myrtle Brown, Ella Stephens, Lenore Meade, Marie Brunk, and the hostess, Floreta Brunk; Messrs. Willard Bartlett and Frank Stephens of Oak Grove; Wesley McElroy of Woodburn, Milton Grallap, Carl Quinby, Alvin Meade, Ernest Brunk and Earl Brunk.

"The Revolt of the Toys" was the cantata put on in the chapel of the blind school last evening by the children before a large audience of Salem people and the parents of the children. After the playlet the junior chorus conducted a carol service including a number of the favorite old Christmas songs. After the program the pupils and guests adjourned to the gymnasium to participate in other festivities in keeping with the Christmas spirit.

Because of a recent attack of influenza, Mrs. Walter Barsch (Catherine Carson) will not be able to make the trip to Salem for the holidays, as she had planned. But as soon as her health permits she will come to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bonesteale will spend the week-end and Christmas day with Mrs. Bonesteale's father, Dr. William H. Golding of Portland.

Miss Edna Sterling of Seattle will be the Christmas guest of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wallace at their home on the Wallace road.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith are entertaining at their house guests during the holidays their daughter, Mrs. Warren Powers and small son of Portland.

As the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Mr. and Mrs. Miller McGilchrist of Portland will spend the holidays in Salem.

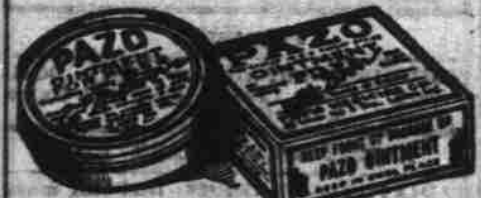

Kenneth Powers and Wolcott Buren, both students of the University of Oregon medical school in Portland, will spend the short Christmas vacation at their homes here. Mr. Powers is the son of Mrs. Frank Powers and Mr. Buren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max O. Buren.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Meyers left Wednesday by motor for Seattle to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Jordan during the Christmas season.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Don't pull 'em up— Organize and make the loganberry industry sound and solid.

Henry Ford and both senators from Ohio have endorsed President Coolidge. That would seem to make it about unanimous.

The small building on State street, next to the Red Cross headquarters, mention of the removal of which was made in a news item in The Statesman of yesterday morning, was not the property of H. W. Meyers. It was the property of the man who built it, and occupied it, and who himself removed it. The lot belongs to Mrs. Meyers, who received the ground rent while the building was there.

It is said that the prevalence of golf has increased the number of swear words in the English language; the whole number now being placed at 3367.

Engineers have pronounced the White House unsafe. That is another reason why a Democrat should not be sent there in 1924. The sympathy of Democrats must be conserved.

At last the world is advised of the perfect life of a loving couple in a movie colony, down at Los Angeles. They have never been separated for a full day since their marriage, nor has a single unkind word been spoken. The husband has brought flowers to the wife every day and they are hardly ever out of one another's company. It seems, however, that they were only wedded on Thanksgiving.

WINTER COUGHS AND COLDS

Highway Gaps Will Be Filled By Commission

At the next meeting of the state highway commission, to be held in Portland January 8, bids will be received for the resurfacing with crushed rock of the Umatilla-Echo section of the Old Oregon trail. This is a stretch of about 22 miles. Bids also will be received for the surfacing with gravel or crushed rock of the Coquille-Bandon section of the Roosevelt Coast highway in Coos county, a distance of 16.9 miles.

Bids also are to be received for the building of about 1200 feet of standard timber trestle on the Coquille-Bandon section near Coquille.

At this meeting the commission also will receive proposals for the privilege of operating a confectionery and lunch room at Bradley park on the Lower Columbia River highway in Clatsop county, which has just been opened to the public.
