INCOMPATIBLE
If you have sodden souls,
And do not care,
For water breaking o'er
Steep cliffs and bare;

If you have dingy eyes,
And cannot see,
A little water-moth
Blown fragilley;

If you have sordid thoughts,
And cannot feel,
In everlasting flower
God's love congeal,

How can I call you friend,
In Beauty's name,
If we can neither feel
Nor see the same?
—Audred Bunch,
Salem, Oregon.

NEARLY two hundred and fifty women of the city attended the program hour of the Salem Woman's club meeting yesterday afternoon to hear the lecture upon the subject of faces and lace making, given by Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, chairman of the art department of the club. In her talk, Mrs. Dodd pointed out the difference between the needle and bobbin laces, all the various makes and patterns, using as examples pieces from her own valuable collection as well as those loaned from the collections of other prominent women. After the lecture the women viewed the large exhibit of hand made laces arranged for display on the platform. Exquisite hand made pieces they were, ranging from some rare old designs of the very finest Venetians to the more modern patterns in continental and domestic patterns, in the simpler valencienness.

Mrs. Phil Newmeyer sang delightfully during the afternoon. During the tea hour, the table was appointed in exquisite pieces of lace, further carrying out the spirit of the day.

Serving on the hostess committee were Mrs. Frank Meyers, Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mrs. George White, Mrs. A. F. Marcus, Mrs. E. T. Brussels, Mrs. Wm. B. Mott, Mrs.

O. E. Price, Mrs. G. R. Bonnell and Mrs. Alma H. Kennedy.

The attractive evergreen decorations of Derby hall will form a pretty background for the formal dancing party of the Monday Night Dancing club, when they meet for their regular monthly social evening tomorrow. Prior to the January meeting of the club, the membership list is completed, and has been announced as follows by Paul V. Johnson, the president:

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Ivane Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Weidner, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stiff, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Valton, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wendelroth, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hiches, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Glover, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Page, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Darby, Mr. and Mrs. J. Busick, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Daue, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Colony, Mr. and Mrs. John Brophy, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Brock Jr., Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bellinger, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Eiker, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Page, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Poorman, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Creech, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Luper, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cornoyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Felkirk.

For their annual installation banquet, the men of the Brush College grange entertained the women of the organization with an elaborate 6:30 dinner Friday evening, preceding the ceremonies of the evening. Long tables, attuning the menu to the washing of the dishes.

The state grangemaster, Mr. tractively bedecked with the brightly colored-cyclamen, marked covers for over one hundred guests. It is reported that the men prepared the meal without the assistance of the women from plan-Palmer of Hood River, was the master of ceremonies, and Mrs. Wayne Henry acted as marshal, assisted by Mrs. Terfield Schindler and Mrs. James Wright. The new officers are: A. E. Utley, master; L. A. Grote, overseer; Glenn Adams, secretary; C. C. Chaffee, treasurer; Ralph Allen, steward; Roy Barker, assistant steward; Mrs. Charles McCarter, lecturer; U. G. Lehman, chaplain; Mrs. Carl Harriett, lady assistant steward; Mrs. C. C. Chaffee, Ceres; Mrs. R. N. Allen, Flora; Mrs. Roy Barker, Pomona; Mrs. W. F. McCall, organist; and Mrs. A. E. Utley, choirster.

Following the ceremonies, a short program followed, with Mr. Palmer delivering the address of the evening. Mr. James Smart sang two solos and Mr. Terfield Schindler gave a reading.

Judge and Mrs. John McCourt entertained very informally last evening for only a small number of intimate friends. Cards, with a bit of music, made pleasant the hours, until later when the hostess served a dainty lunch.

Speaking upon the subject of the relation of the city to the schools, Mayor J. B. Geisy will address the meeting of the Lincoln-McKinley parent teacher association Tuesday evening at the Lincoln school. Other numbers announced for the program will be a solo by Mrs. Ermine Fawc and a reading by Mrs. Minnie Watson.

The Women of Woodcraft and the Woodmen of the World held joint installation of officers Friday evening at their club house, with Mrs. Minnie Heiner of Portland, rind guardian, as installation officer. At the close of her Woodcraft speech, after the ceremony, Mrs. Heiner was presented with a large bouquet of carnations from the two orders. The following officers were installed for the Women of Woodcraft: Grand neighbor, Mrs. Gussie Shaw; past guardian, Mrs. Sarah McDowell; advisor, Mrs. Mattie Kennon; magician, Mrs. Roberta Kightlinger; attendant, Mrs. Alice Davies; banker, Mrs. Ida Keene; managers, Mrs. Adelaide Spong, Miss Emma Mapthorpe and Mrs. Edna Randrich; captain of the guards,

Mrs. Mona Olmstead; sentinels, Mrs. Myrtle Walker and Mrs. Pauline Clark; musician, Mrs. Ethel Frazier; flag bearer, Mrs. Rachael Reader; clerk, Mrs. Mabelle Turner; correspondent, Mrs. Minnie Watson.

Miss Mina Harding will present a number of the students of the department of drama and public speaking at the university in a program recital Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Waller hall. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. A. W. McConnell, 622 No. High street, had the pleasure of entertaining her two sons, Clarence McConnell of Centralia, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne McConnell of Los Angeles, Cal., during the holidays.

The Sweet Briar club will meet at the home of Mrs. Lou Grote on the Wallace road Wednesday afternoon.

The Brush College Helpers will meet at the home of Mrs. William Gorsline Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Corydon Blodgett returned home Friday, after spending the week in Portland, visiting with friends and relatives. Mrs. Blodgett accompanied her house guest, Mrs. Fred K. Smith, to Portland, from where she entrained the first of the week for her home in Platte, South Dakota, after having visited in Portland and Salem since the middle of November.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner will leave this afternoon for Portland, continuing their journey to Seattle tomorrow, where Mrs. Steiner will board the Matson ship Lurline to sail for Honolulu. Mrs. Steiner will remain as the guest of her daughter and son-in-law, Captain and Mrs. E. C. Flegel, at their home at the Schofield barracks near Honolulu for the next couple of months. Milton Steiner, the son, who is attending the University of Oregon medical school in Portland, came to Salem last evening and will accompany his parents as far as Portland.

The members of the Elk's lodge of Salem are planning an interesting evening for Thursday when they will entertain in honor of their wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts at the club rooms on High street. The Woman's club chorus will afford a number of delightful musical features and other things of interest are being planned by the entertainment committee in charge of Al L. Wallace, with Roy Burton and Paul Stege assisting.

Enroute from southern California where they have been sojourning for the past months to their home in Vancouver, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Harrelson are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Eley for a short time. Mrs. Harrelson and Mrs. Eley are sisters.

The birthday of Mrs. C. G. Henderson was the inspiration for a delightful surprise party last evening when Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Henderson invited a number of friends in for the evening. Cards and music afforded the diversions of the affair and later the hostess served a dainty luncheon at the small tables. Large cyclamen in the brilliant colors were effectively used in decorating the rooms for the occasion. Among those who enjoyed the evening's pleasure were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bacey, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bechtel, Mr. and Mrs. Drager, Mr. and Mrs. John Siegmund, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stephens of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Woelke, Mrs. Lorena Wise, Mrs. William Minton, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Swartz of Tacoma, and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Henderson.

Mrs. Charles Park will be hostess for the meeting of the Thursday afternoon bridge club Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Hendricks are spending the week-end in Portland as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bynon.

Mr. C. P. Bishop left yesterday morning for San Francisco to be gone until the first of February. Tuesday he will attend the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Eureka Woolen Mills at Eureka, Cal., after which he will return to San Francisco, making his temporary headquarters at the Woolen Mills office in the city. Mr. Bishop is planning to attend the national convention of businessmen which meets in San Francisco the latter part of this month.

In honor of Judge Lawrence T. Harris, retiring supreme court judge, who leaves Tuesday for Eugene, the members of the Tillicum Birthday club entertained with a 24-cover dinner party last evening at the Marion hotel, inviting as special guests a number of the Judge's out-of-town friends. Judge T. A. McBride presided over the table as toastmaster, and the following men were included as special guests of the evening: Judge Bowrman, Judge Martin L. Pipes of Portland, E. L. Bryson of Eugene, Mansel Griffith of Portland, Frank Armitage of Eugene, M. R. McLean of Eugene, and Even Reames of Medford.

Judge and Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris were complimented Friday evening by Judge and Mrs. John McCourt with a charming dinner party at their home on Court street. Red was the color predominating in the decorations of the dining room and was carried out as far as possible in the menu. The gold handed crystal of the table appointments with the huge silver vase of red carnations made a pretty picture of the table where guests found their places marked by dainty New Year place cards. Side lights of red candles were effectively used with the vivid colors. Covers were placed for Judge and Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, Judge and Mrs. T. A. McBride, Mrs. Dahlmon, Judge and Mrs. G. M. Brown, Judge and Mrs. Henry J. Bean, Judge George H. Burnett, Mrs. J. A. Carson, Judge and Mrs. John L. Rand.

After the usual period of business Friday afternoon, the meeting of the Three Link Needle club in the club room in the I. O. O. F. hall, resolved itself into a farwell in honor of Mrs. Allison Cummings, who leaves Tuesday to make her home in Roseburg, where her husband has recently taken over the management of the Terminal hotel. As a token of esteem for her faithful service in the organization, the members of the club presented Mrs. Cummings with a beautiful sterling sandwich tray.

It was Mrs. Cummings who organized the Three Link Needle club over eight years ago, October 28, 1915, starting with only 13 members. Each year has seen rapid growth of the membership list until now it numbers 210 members. It is with extreme regret that her many friends bid her adieu, for in the many years as a resident and club woman of Salem she has endeared herself to all.

Mrs. Cummings has been elected president each consecutive year since the organization of the club, and yesterday her resignation was presented at the business meeting. Mrs. J. A. Mills, the former vice president, was chosen to take her place, and Mrs. Clarence Townsend was elected to fill the office of vice president.

During the social hour, readings were given by Mrs. Farrington and Mrs. Van Eaton, with solos by Mrs. Zelshorn and Mrs. Ray Simeral, and Mrs. Noyes read an original poem. As a fitting close to the afternoon, the friends all sang together the old friendship song, "Auld Lang Syne."

Lena Belle Tartar will present her voice pupils in a studio recital Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. A number of friends and relatives of the students have been invited in for the evening.

Mrs. Earl Daue and Miss Evelyn Stevenson were among those who enjoyed the last appearance of "Pavlova" Friday evening in Portland.

For the warty business meeting, over 40 women of the Woman's society of the Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. G. Ed Roush, Friday afternoon. The usual missionary study hour followed the business, with Mrs. O'Neal as leader of the devotionals and Mrs. Buirley leading in the discussion of the lesson. Before departing for their homes, the members of the society enjoyed a happy tea hour together, with Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Abbott assisting the hostess.

Chapter AB of P. E. O. sisterhood will meet with Lena Belle Tartar as hostess tomorrow, Monday, evening at her studio at 7:30. All visiting P. E. O.'s are cordially invited.

Following the concert of Friday evening, Miss Elma Weller invited a number of the musicians of the city to her home to meet the piano artist, Carol Robinson, who played for the members of the Civic Music club at the First Christian church. The evening was spent in a delightfully informal way, chatting and visiting with the guest of honor, and upon special request the artist repeated the "Spanish Dance," by Srancos, which proved to be a popular number on the program of the evening.

Miss Robinson left yesterday afternoon for Portland, where she is to appear in concert recital before the Civic Music club of that city Tuesday evening.

To observe the fourth anniversary of national prohibition, the W. C. T. U. of Salem will hold an all-day jubilee and celebration in the club rooms on Commercial, at Ferry street, Tuesday. The day will be observed with speeches and other features fitting to the occasion. A special invitation has been issued to the unions of Turner, Woodburn, North Salem and Pleasant View to join in the services of the day, and a covered dish luncheon will be an added attraction of the noon hour.

"The Ballot Box Opportunity of 1924," by Rev. Hocking, and "A Suare Deal for the Eighteenth Amendment," by Rev. W. W. Long, will be the leading speeches of the morning session, with Judge P. J. Kuntz as the main speaker of the afternoon, his topic being, "Allegiance to the Constitution." Mrs. J. J. Nuhn, the president of the Salem union, will also read a paper entitled, "Keeping the Legislative Fires Burning."

With other special features under way, the meeting promises to be most interesting and inspirational and a cordial invitation to the public is extended by the hostess, W. C. T. U.

The Ladies' Aid of the W. R. C. spent the day Thursday at the Armory, busily sewing on rags for rugs and various other articles to increase the coffers of the Relief Corps. The women all brought their baskets for a pot luck dinner at the noon hour, and, chatting pleasantly, passed the day with the needlework. Before the meeting adjourned, officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Lizzie W. Smith; vice president, Mrs. Cordelia LaBare; secretary, Mrs. Bertha Loveland; treasurer, Mrs. Florence Shipp. Committees were appointed and the work for the year was discussed and outlined.

Because of illness in the household, Mrs. T. W. Davies will not be able to entertain the Count On Me class of the Baptist church at her home Wednesday afternoon, as previously announced. Mrs. Mark Skiff will be hostess instead, with the meeting date unchanged.

OH, such a busy store as MILLER'S is these days! Everybody is busy as the most industrious bee, cleaning house and making ready for the fresh "BEAUTY is as beauty does," may ease the conscience of the lazy woman as she views her features in the mirror, but it certainly is not a 1924 formula. Beauty is as the hair is soft and glossy, as the skin is fresh and smooth, as the eyes sparkle, as the hands are white and the nails glint, as the figure is slim and straight. Beauty demands constant care and the most rigid discipline. MRS. IRENE SCOTT of the MARINELLO BEAUTY SHOP is helping many Salem women solve their beauty perplexities, and she has many things to offer you.

Many of the latest costumes bid fair to make the southern links a riot of color. The suit itself, in mohair or fibre silk, is in a plain green, blue, or tan, but it has a knee-deep border of Roman stripes.

Among the delectable garments designed for the southern resorts is a long, light-weight coat of almost kimona design. It is made of printed georgette, lined with crepe de chine, the colors being decidedly Egyptian.

JUST what do you think MRS. J. H. LAMMERS is doing, tucked away so snugly in her own little nook of the DERBY BUILDING? Darning and mending!!! If your basket is stacked high with months of mending and stockings there is never time to darn, let Mrs. Lammers give you a boost. Tell your bachelor friends about the news; they will welcome it.

GIRLS! GIRLS! Spring has come to Salem for sure. I saw it with my own two eyes, tucked away in dozens of hat boxes at the FRENCH SHOP only yesterday. For M. Morrison's first shipment of the new spring hats is in—and such beauties! The most exquisite two tone taffeta models with the daintiest of flowered fronts! And you will just love the MEADOWBROOK sports models—they are so ultra smart and beautifully made.

A great deal of Broderie anglaise—the cut out designs hitherto used chiefly on organdie and linen—is seen today on afternoon frocks. The frocks are of soft silk.

One new species of blouse seen today is extremely long waisted. It is without ruffles, being a sort of sack slipped over the head and coming to the hips and becoming only to slender figures. The neck is rounded and rather more low than usual, the sleeves stop just below the elbow.

The indications are that it will be a good deal of a white spring. The simple white frock of crepe de chine is expected to form the basis of many a country club sports costume.

The vogue for python shoes has led the hosiery manufacturers into a delirium of inventive effort. An embroidered python coiled around the ankle is one of the latest designs.
